

The Three Little Pigs

Once three little pigs decided it was about time they left home and found their own place to live. No sooner said than done. That very morning they packed up their things, kissed their mother goodbye, and set off.

They walked till midday. Then they sat by the road and ate half their sandwiches. After a nap they set off again. By suppertime the first little pig felt too tired to go any further.

"But we haven't got anywhere yet!" his brother and sister said. "What are you going to do for a house?"

They were next to a field full of wheat that had just been cut. "I'll build a house out of straw," the little pig said. He closed his eyes and went straight to sleep.

When the first little pig woke, the sun was sinking fast and the air was growing cold. And what was that dark hairy shadow in the wood? Suddenly he wished he'd gone on with the others. But he set to work, gathered together some straw, and built his house.

Little Red Riding Hood

Granny lived not far away, but to get to her cottage you had to walk through Bunny's Wood (though no one had seen a rabbit there for ages—you'll see why in a moment).

"Little Red Riding Hood," her mother called. "Granny's still not very well. Put on your cloak and the pretty red riding hood she made for your birthday. Then pop over with this custard tart and pot of butter I've got ready for her tea."

So Little Red Riding Hood slipped on her cloak, fastened her riding hood under her chin, and set off.

"Remember to keep to the path in Bunny's Wood!" her mother called after her.

"Of course, Mommy," Little Red Riding Hood called back. "I always do."

She was only a little way inside the wood when there was a noise in the bushes and out onto the path jumped a great big wolf. Little Red Riding Hood nearly dropped her basket in fright, but actually the wolf seemed quite friendly. "Where are you off to, little girl?" he asked.

Jack and the Beanstalk

There was once a poor widow. Her son Jack was a lazy boy, so they had very little money. One sad day things got so bad that the widow decided to sell the only thing they had left. She sent Jack off to market with Milky White, their cow, telling him to get the best price he could.

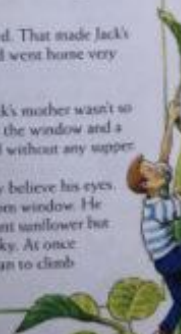

Jack was only part way along the road when he bumped into a funny old man. The old man eyed the cow and said, "My boy, I'll swap her for something very precious." He pulled five beans out of his pocket.

"Beans?" Jack said doubtfully.

"They're magic ones," the old man explained. That made Jack's mind up. He handed over Milky White and went home very satisfied with his bargain.

"Mum! Look what I've got!" he shouted. Jack's mother wasn't so happy, though. She threw the beans out of the window and a saucepan at Jack. Then she sent him to bed without any supper.

In the morning, however, Jack could hardly believe his eyes. Something was growing outside his bedroom window. He poked his head out. It wasn't a tree or a giant sunflower but a beanstalk that grew straight up into the sky. At once Jack clambered out of his window and began to climb the beanstalk.

Fan story + Folk tale = FANFICTION

YOUR OWN UNIQUE STORY

Students work from writing a fanfiction text based on a fairytale and their own fanstory. Read? Yes! Copy? No.

of modern YouTube-famous headphones.) She wrote a page in her diary and went to school.

The Little White Modern Girl That Everybody Likes

Hi. I'm Britney. And I'm really smart, so I'm writing this down so that I can tell my kids in the future. If I have kids, they're annoying and too un-slay for me to be honest.

BUT:

Britney's really annoying and I'm not going to let you suffer by listening to her trying to be cool with her nasal, overpowered voice. So, I'm telling you this story today. The story of this stupid girl, Britney.

Now, we can start.

Britney woke up today, feeling really nice. The sun peeked through her window. She was in a flow, everything just seemed to work. She drank her green smoothie in the morning, went for a run, and put another penny in her jar, in which she saves money for a pair of Air pod pro maxes. (a pair

Everything went smoothly in school besides the fact that her pencil really needs to be sharpened so all the text she wrote became kind of ugly. She mostly sat in her uncomfortable wooden chair waiting for the lessons to end, staring at the white walls and desks. But then another thing happened. It was on the last lesson, mathematics, when a substitute teacher walked in. She was a woman probably in her twenties with long, dark hair and a pear-shaped body. Britney (and I) thought she played with the kids like they were 3, when they're in fact thirteen. The substitute drew on the blackboard and talked like you do with a cute cat. Soon, Britney had enough and raised her hand. The hand was there, in the air for a really long time. She switched hand multiple times and tried to sigh as loud as possible. Finally, she said "helloo I have had my hand raised for ages now, I'm trying to say something!" The substitute answered. "Shut up, I was going to pick you but know I'm not going to, stop acting like you're three years old!"

"It's you that's acting like we're three years old! You have to act like a teacher. You're really bitch-y." Said Britney.

"What?" the angered substitute replied.

"WHAT a bad hearing you've got", said Britney.

"What a weird nose you've got" said someone else.

“What an ugly face you’ve got” said a third person.

“That’s enough”, said the substitute teacher. “What a bad class you are. I dislike every single one of you! Stop it. NOW! What a stupid mind you all have got!”

“Well, what a fat as you’ve got”, said Britney.

“Now it’s more than enough. I’m sad, I’m angry, and I can’t do this much longer!” the substitute teacher cried.

Then the principal of the school walked in. “Open yourself up. Tell them why. Imagine you cut yourself open with a huntsman’s axe. Show them.” And then he walked out.

What the FUCK, thought Britney. The principal was really weird, walking in and pretending he was a psychologist or something.

“Okay”, the substitute took a deep breath. “I’m broke, so I started working as a substitute and I’ve got depression and diarrhea, and you’re of course not making it better, and my toast landed upside down when I dropped it this morning!” and then she started crying.

“Someone’s having a rough day” whispered Britney, hoping someone would hear and answer.

“Someone’s having a rough life” the substitute said. “You can go, the lesson has ended.”

And so, Britney went home and continued her preppy life. She wanted to end this story, so I’m letting her now. Bye from me!

Okay heeyyyyyy guys

Thanks for reading my story. The substitute really opened herself up like in Little Red Riding Hood. I can relate to her feeling of broke, I have been saving pennies for the Air Pod Maxes for years! Or it feels like years but I feel like maybe it’s more like a week. They’re so expensive. I’m going to go steal some money from my dad, then maybe drink some more smoothie. Byeeeee!

The Three Little Pigs Playing Hockey

Once the three little pigs Decided to move to their own place. They kissed of their mother and say goodbye. They walked till midday and one Pig is seeing something in the dark it was white, and it shines a little. They put up their tent because it was too dark to go to the white thing that was a little shining. So, they went to bed. When they wake up the first thing, they going to are the white shining thing and then they see a white hockey rink.

Two of the tree pigs was super happy but the third pigs were not happy. Because he doesn't like hockey that much the other pigs. But the say to the one pig that he can learn. The fund tree hockey ice skates there was skating the whole day. The was so tired after have skate the whole day. But they need to eat something they make a fire and starting make hot dogs. When they were done are the gone go to bed because the was so tired.

In the middle of the night, it was going outside their tent. Is it started moving they tent the three little pigs were so scared. And then a wolf started beating the tent the tree pigs open the tent and run. The doesn't remember anything the only thing they have a tiny memory that it was after us. They run home to their mother she is trying to calm the down. One of the pigs most have foll because he was bleeding on his knee. Their mother washes the blood of and take a Band-Aid. The want to go back to the hockey rink but their mother was not accepting that. The are going to live whit their mother after this but it was fun before the wolf came say one of the pigs. Away is God but home is God and much safer if you are a pig.

The three big NBA stars

Once upon a time there was three big NBA stars just training for a match in their basketball gym. They had a fun time shooting the ball at the basket. It even came some fans watching them while they played. But then they heard the news. They heard that Ja Morant was coming to their basketball gym so they trained their bounce all week to try to block him. It was a big crowd when Ja Morant came. The three big NBA stars said that they can block him. The first guy named Kevin Love said he could easily block Ja Morant and he got humiliated. A voice through a speaker said

“Kevin Love is eliminated”

The fans where chocked when Kevin Love turned into dust after getting dunked on.

After Kevin love got dunked on Victor Wembanyama that’s 7 foot 2 also contested him. You could see him shaking after he saw what happened to his friend Kevin Love. Ja Morant reached back and took a deep breath. He ran against Victor Wembanyama and took a big jump and obliterated the 7 foot 2 monster.

The beast also turned into ashes after getting dunked on.

Evrybody heard the speaker say

“Victor Wembanyama is also eliminated”

But then the one and only King James comes and contests him. Everyone was watching exited for the final dunk or block. Ja Morant once again reaches back and takes a deep breath he runs faster than ever and takes a huge jump. LeBron James also jumps high. He sees the ball come closer and closer. He reaches for the ball Ja Morant realizes that this is going to be hard. He tries to get the ball closer to the rim, but it feels impossible. He accepts defeat and dropped the ball. The speaker once again said.

“Ja Morant is now eliminated”

Everybody started cheering and screaming. Then both Kevin Love and Victor Wembanyama came back and saw Ja Morant turn into ashes.

After that they had a party and everybody was happy.

The end.

Explanations

Ja Morant, LeBron James, Victor Wembanyama and Kevin Love- Basketball players.

Basketball gym- Is a big basketball court with more than 2 hoops.

Bounce- If u have much bounce than u can jump high and if u have no bounce u can't jump high and when u train your bounce u can do squats with weights skip and jump with weights.

Block- When u block someone u reject their shot like let's say that me and someone plays basketball and he tries to shoot but I put my arm/hand in front of the ball so it goes on your hand or arm instead of in the basket. Here is a video.

www.youtube.com/watch?v=-dzXCT7Sy-s.

Dunk- Is when u keep the ball in your hands until you get it to the basket. Here is another video.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zz0YBj12qik>

King James- He is LeBron James but people call him King James because he is one of the best players in the world.

Little Red Ruby

Grandpa Jonesy lived not far away, but to get to his dropspot you had to walk the whole map where you could meet sweats with millions of earnings from tournaments all the time (though it's to see one single person without earnings on the map walking around), you'll see why!

“Little red ruby!” her mother called. “Grandpa Jonesy’s still very low, like 50 hp. Take some mats, take this Assault rifle, take this EMP stealth camo and this shotgun. Then take this medkit, these 2 minis and this big pot to heal him.”

So little red Ruby took the heals, the weapons and the mats. “Remember to stay in your car on the road on the way to grandpa Jonesy!” her mother called after her. “Of course, mom,” little red Ruby called back. “I always do.”

She had only driven somewhere around 200 metres from home when she heard a sound. It sounded like a legendary chest. It was actually a very bad idea to get out of the car and open the chest but it was a legendary chest and they are very rare so she decided to go and open it. She jumped out of the car and ran to the chest. But then suddenly little red Ruby heard footsteps and saw a sweat getting closer.

Little red Ruby had to think smart so she activated the EMP stealth camo so she got invisible and ran around till the sweat would open the chest and leave. Finally the sweat opened the chest and left so little red Ruby got back into the car and started to drive again. She turned off the car radio so sweats wouldn't push on little red Ruby as much.

While little red Ruby was driving her car, the sweat she had seen earlier had taken a short cut around the Fortnite map with his Grappling blade so he would get to grandpa Jonesy's dropspot. The sweat sprinted right to grandpa Jonesy's dropspot and right in the door. Then he full boxed grandpa Jonesy, edited a window in one of the walls he built and 200 pumped grandpa Jonesy right in the face.

Grandpa Jonesy got knocked right away and the sweat did “Take the L” on him. Just suddenly when he was about to stop little red Ruby pulled up to grandpa Jonesy's dropspot. She hopped out of the car and ran into the house. Little red Ruby saw the sweat and she pulled out her shotgun she had gotten before and 200 pumped the sweat right in the face, he died right away on the spot. Little red Ruby did “Take the L” on the sweat and revived grandpa Jonesy.

Little red Ruby healed grandpa Jonesy and they fought all the other players in the match like they had never done before. They ended up winning the game and they lived happily the rest of their lives.

End

Oklara ord förklarade:

EMP stealth camo= En sak som man kan använda för att man ska bli osynlig ett visst antal sekunder i Fortnite. Man måste vänta ett visst antal sekunder för att kunna använda den igen efter man använt den.

Shotgun= Ett skjut vapen som är gjort för att det ska användas på nära avstånd och ta så mycket skada som det går.

Assault rifle= Ett annat skjut vapen som används till att kunna skjuta folk på inte jätte långt avstånd och har ganska många skott i varje magasin. Den tar inte super mycket skada per skott men helt okej.

Mats= Ett annat ord för material i Fortnite.

Minis= I Fortnite finns det två oliga namn på att återfå liv. Shield och HP. Man kan sammanlagt få 100 shield. Varje mini som man dricker ger 25 shield. Fast man kan bara använda de till 50 shield. Det är minis.

Med kit= Ett med kit är en sak som man kan återfå HP av. Ett med kit ger 100 HP sammanlagt.

Big pot= En annan shield sak som ger 50 shield och är bra att dricka efter att man har druckit 2 minis.

Legendary chest= En typ av kista som är väldigt bra och ovanlig att hitta.

Low= Man har lite HP och shield.

HP= Ett annat ord för liv.

Take the L= En taskig dans i Fortnite. L:et står för Loser.

Full boxed= Man bygger 4 väggar, en kon eller trappa och tak runt en person så att det ska bli lätt att döda personen.

200 pumped= Man skjuter någon i huvudet med en pump shotgun på nära avstånd, (ett skjut vapen i Fortnite).

Sprinted= Ett annat ord för ran. Att sprinta, (springa) gör att man blir snabbare. Fast man kan inte springa hur mycket som helst.

Edited a window in one of the walls he built= Man full boxar eller sätter ut en vägg framför någon och editar, (ändrar) så att det blir ett fönster i väggen och man kan skjuta personen som är på andra sidan väggen.

Dropspot= I början av en Fortnite match så är man i Battle busen, (en flygande buss) som man kan hoppa ut ur så att man ska kunna landa någonstans på mapen, (kartan). När man har landat på ett ställe så har man hamnat vid ett dropspot.

Sweat= Ett annat ord för en Fortnite spelare som är jättebra på spelet.

Earnings= I Fortnite kan man spela turneringar. När man spelar en turnering så kör man matcher och får poäng. De som får mest poäng, t.ex. top 1000 med mest poäng vinner pengar. Det är earnings.

Map eller karta= Mapen, (kartan) är ett stort ställe där man spelar matcher. Det finns olika städer och hus på mapen, (kartan).

Healed= När man har under 100 HP och man använder t.ex. ett med kit så att man blir 100 HP.

Grapling blade= I Fortnite finns det items, (saker) som är gjorda för att kunna ta sig framåt åt olika ställen snabbare. Ett smeknamn för sånna är ”Movements”. Grapling blade är en sån.

Pushed eller pusha= Man tar sig till en person och fightas, (slåss) med de. Det är att pusha.

Revived= Om man spelar i ett team, (lag) i Fortnite så kanske ens teammate, (lagkamrat) blir knockad. Man dör inte helt då och om ens teammate hinner så kan den reviva, (återliva) en så att man inte är död längre. Det tar 10 sekunder.

The wolf nodded and ran away into the woods.

Little black Cobain hood

"Kurt Cobain" his mother yelled from the kitchen.

"Grandma is still sick could you maybe go and bring her some tea and cookies?"

"Of course, mother!" he answered and entered the kitchen.

"You just must follow the path in the bunny's wood until you see her house."

He nodded and grabbed the basket with the tea and the cookies and left the house. He was only a little way into the woods when he heard a noise from the bushes and out on the path jumped a big wolf. Kurt got very scared and screamed.

"Where are you off little boy?" the wolf asked.

Kurt Cobain swallowed a few times; he could not answer that because he was way too scared.

"You don't have to fear me I am kind."

"Really?" Kurt asked.

The wolf nodded.

"I am off my sick grandma with tea and cookies"

"How kind of you to do that where does she live."

"Just down the path!"

"Well, that was awkward" Kurt said for himself.

He continued to go and about 10 minutes later the dark has fallen over the woods and the fog was thick, he started to think he was lost in the woods until he saw a house.

He started running towards the house. It was grandma's house! He entered the little cottage.

"Who is it"

"It's me, grandma, I have some cookies for you."

He heard granny cough.

When he entered the bedroom grandma was not as beautiful as the last time he saw her.

"Granny! You have very hairy arms."

"That's because I forgot to shave them last week."

"Your eyes are red!"

"That's because I rubbed them a little too hard."

"You have so big ears grandma."

"That's because I want to hear when you come with my tea."

"How did you know I had tea with me I only told you I brought you cookies..."

“And why are your mouth so big?”

“So, I can eat you faster.”

Grandma jumped out of the bed, that was not grandma it was the wolf in the forest.

He screamed and then. The wolf had eaten Kurt!

The neighbor heard the scream and wanted to check if granny was okay, when he came into the cottage, he saw the wolf he took out his weapon and shoot the wolf.

The wolf fell and before he died, he spat out grandma.

But where was Kurt Cobain.

Grandma got better in time, but no one could find Kurt anywhere he was gone forever.

But grandma enjoyed her cookies and her tea.

The end!

shows his face, is quite big and actually talks. King joined the tournament because he wanted money to build more orphanages and when he saw that he needed a partner he asked his wrestling partner if he wanted to help him. And Marduk wanting to face a challenge agreed.

The Two Wrestlers

once upon a time there was fighting tournament called “Iron Fist Tournament” this tournament was a special tournament that only the best of fighters were able to actually win. There have been many of these tournaments held throughout the years however the one that we are going to talk about is the one currently being held. This tournament specifically is more important than the other tournament. Because the winner will get not just get a big sum of money but will also be the new owner of the “Mishima Corporation”

Another special thing about this tournament is that it’s a tag team which means that every contestant will have a partner.

And the team that this story is about is team of two pro wrestlers with the name “King” And “Marduk” King is iconic for wearing a jaguar mask and tail and for never showing his face, he also doesn’t talk like normal person but instead he makes jaguar noises. However Marduk was a kangaroo with boxing gloves. Everybody was confused because it was only one opponent but then the kangaroo revealed its child hidden in its front pocket. King and Marduk won easily that round and were ready for the next round.

Their first opponent

This time they were facing two people who are best friends. Paul phoenix who calls himself the “Strongest in the universe” and another guy called Marshall law who loves money a little too much. This time King and Marduk had a hard time winning because of Paul’s and Marshall’s teamwork. However they started arguing about who’s going to get more money, Marshall said to Paul that he wanted more then half of the money, but Paul didn’t think that was fair and wanted to split. They argued more and more until it led to them turning on each other and punching each other in the face making both of them fall unconscious. Which means that King and Marduk went to the final round. This time they were facing the owner of G-CORP and the person who ran the tournament, is name was "Kazuya Mishima"

He also has something called "devil gene" which means that he can turn into a devil. Some people may say that's cheating but he's the owner so he can do what he wants

BABA YAGA

Once upon a time there was these two kids named Lisa and Adam and they always wanted to go and play in the forest, but their parents knew something about the forest that they didn't know so they didn't let them go play in the forest. There was something odd about the forest it was so dark even Tho it was day I know that its always a bit darker in the forest, but it was like really dark.

one day the kids was left home alone with their grandma, and they made a plan how to get out of the house cause they really wanted to go in to the forest, so they did their little plan and it worked... their house was right next to the forest so they just ran right in to the forest they didn't even hesitate. They ran in like 5 minutes just straight into the forest, but it was very dark and Lisa was very scared of the dark but Adam wasn't but something about it made him scared to so they decided to go back to the house. They ran in like 20 minutes but they where still in the forest they looked around a little bit and realized that they was at the same place again, so they just ran in circles. They found a little pond and they where really thirsty because of all the running so they sat down and they drank some of water, some minutes after they both felt a little bit ill so they sat down and fell asleep...

some hours later they woke up but they wasn't in the forest they were in a little cottage a old lady approached them and said " oh you kids are awake now" she seemed nice she offered them some food and tea , they where really hungry so they said "yes thank you" they ate up the food in just some seconds, she smiled at them in a very weird way Lisa got scared.. She realized that it was the old lady that her mom used to tell them when they were little Lisa had to tell Adam about it so she asked the old lady for more tea so she could be alone in the room with Adam the old lady left and Lisa told the story to Adam, he was in shock she told him that they had to escape he was still in shock.

They found a small window in the room they tried to unlock but it wouldn't open the old lady heard them so she ran to the room she saw that they tried to escape so she realized that they found out who she really was she grabbed the knife on the shelf and she tried to kill them she started of with Lisa because she was the youngest she actually did kill her Adam ran to Lisa and took her body and he put it in his arm and cried the old lady was baba yaga. When he sat o the floor with Lisa in his arm baba yaga decided to kill him to she was behind him so she took the knife that she stabbed Lisa with and stabbed Adam in the back after all this no one knows what she did with the bodies and what happened after this is the end.

About a quarter hour in the walk to his grandma a shaggy wolf came in his way.

THE LITTLE RED STEWIE

Little red riding hood by no one remembers.

Once upon a time in a faraway land there was little boy who always wore a red hood and one time, he was gonna go and pay a visit to his ill grandma.

- do you mind bringing this basket of general groceries to your ill grandma dear? The mother of the little red Stewie asked her son.

- what if I do mind?! But I guess that Grandma Gabs needs her fucking groceries, but I'm not doing this on free will. The little red Stewie answered while gently picking up the basket that her mother had picked out while sighing and calling her wild woman.

Now the little red Stewie was on his way to his grandma, he had said goodbye to his mother and everyone in his little village and had found his way into the enormous, massive and monumental forest. The forest has big oak trees and a long, long muddy path. As he entered the dark forest he started to shiver cause of the snowy late night.

- what is such a precious little boy like you doing in the middle of this frightening and mammoth forest without somebody to look after you? The wolf asked little red Stewie with a smirk on his face.

- greatening sir, I'm on my way to deliver this basket of groceries to my ill grandma Barbra and I wouldn't mind at all you to walk with me. The little red Stewie uncomfortably answered while trying to avoid eye contact with the wolf.

The little red Stewie did mind him walking with him. He just said that to sound polite.

-may I ask what happened between you and the three pigs, like why did you want to eat them so bad? The little red Stewie said to the wolf looking confused up at him.

-seriously is that what people think happened? I didn't want to eat them in the first place and one of the pigs was an old girlfriend of mine and I just felt like I deserved to know why she was acting like a fucking whore, but now I feel like its time to us to go different paths. The wolf said while slowly walking away from him.

The little red Stewie continued his way to his grandma, it wasn't that far away now to his grandma Barbra cabin.

He had gotten a far way now and the little red Stewie had gotten all hollow on food, he couldn't wait until he got there.

Finally, he saw the maze of trees that forms the entrance to his grandma's little cabin. He walked up on the small stair that was covered in weed, he lifted the little carpet where his grandma always hides her key, he noticed that the key was missing but the door seemed to be opened anyway so he just went in.

When he entered his grandma's cabin there she was laying in her bed, or was it his grandma? The little red Stewie felt a little like a fish out of water as he noticed that was supposed to be his grandma looked a bit unfamiliar.

- what great hairy arms you have grandma! stewie said.

- all the better t hug you with my darling! Grandma said.

- and what great-t. are we seriously going to do this? Of course, I see that that is NOT a human being, how could this be a part of the story? The little red Stewie said with an annoyed look on his face.

The little red stewie began hurriedly to walk towards the door but when suddenly the thought "where is grandma gabs?" As he thought that, he got the idea to go and see what was going on in the kitchen.

He turned around and began to walk to the hideous bead door that his grandma has.

There grandma gabs were, fully unaware of what is going on outside. She was with an unfamiliar man. He was overweight maybe even obese, he had short brown hair in a side slick, he was familiar to the little red stewie and then it hit him, it was PETER GRIFFIN. His long-time distance father who had told stewie and his mother that be was on a trip to find gold.

There they were playing at rumpscuttle and clapperdepouch also well known as Put the devil into hell.

The little red Stewie stood there for a good half a minute until he was to be traumatized. He ran as fast as he could out to the bedchamber.

He ran and ran as fast as he could home back to his village. As he entered his mother asked with a wondering and stressed voice "what has happened to you?"

-fuck I forgot to give her the basket. Stewie said while realizing.

THE END.

The Athulyth and the three little Ikorans

Once upon a time there was three little Ikorans on their way through the big forest to the big rockfaces area, one little Ikoran thought it saw some other predator in the forest and it stopped walking and looked around and the other two Ikorans looked back at the Ikoran who Stopped walking first. The other Ikoran began walking again with the others thinking there was no Predator in the forest with them right now. Once they all arrived at the Big rockfaces area they all Went into each one of the caves near the big rocks hiding before the night stalkers/bigger predator comes out to hunt on the night.

They all could hear other big predators walk around and look for prey, but after a while the sounds stopped and the Ikorans felt safer now. Next morning, they all woke up and was on their way to eat fruit from the bushes in the forest, and they all made sure they walked on the safe path and not enter any other creature's territory. After they all have eaten, they were on the way back to the big rockfaces area. Once again one of the Ikoran noticed one of them was gone and only two was left, the two Ikorans panicked and ran as fast as they could back to the caves and hid.

After a while they could hear Loud footsteps outside the caves and the big claws making scratches on the stones near the pond in the middle of the Rockfaces area and the two Ikorans tried to be as silent as they could and make no noise to make the predator Notice them. The big predator swooped up in the air and flied away from the area not long after it had drunk from the pond, and the two little Ikorans Made sure it wasn't any Predators left near them and they Finally got out from the caves and looked around. The two little ikorans saw a Sang toare that seemed to sleep pretty near them in another big cave, The big sang toare didn't hunt on the day but on the night. The Ikorans quickly walked out of the cave to the pond and hide under bushes to not get seen by any Flying predator packs in the sky. After some hours the moon rises and the two little Ikorans went back to the caves hiding from the upcoming night stalkers and predators. After some minutes the Sang toare walks out of its cave and flies up in the air and it luckily finds a prey, a little Nimoona crawled out of the water thinking everything is safe. Before the Sang toare could Attack the Nimoona a Gigantic Eigion warden known as the protector of the sea Jumps out of the water and grabs the Sang toare with its mouth and Swims Deep into the water again with the Sang toare being its night meal and the blood making a layer over the water. The two Ikorans were terrified by the scene they saw but they both knew that this was how the nature worked. Both little Ikorans tried to sleep through the Predator hour on the night and they luckily both fell asleep. Next morning, they both woke up and was on the way to eat fruit but one of them suddenly felt a Disgusting smell of something near them and went to check, it Found the corpse of the third Ikoran that had been Rippen apart by something big and predator like.

The little Ikoran backed away and ran to the other Ikoran and Told it to Run because it knew the predator haven't left the forest neither the Island they were on. They ran as fast as they could, and they panicked even more when they heard the big swoop again in the air like something had Flied up in the air to hunt them down. They stopped when the big predator landed Infront of them and it seemed to be a Athulyth, the Athulyth species was known to be Very peaceful creatures but had an extremely big strength and they weighted 8,5k. this Athulyth sure wasn't friendly at all, and it Flied once again when the Ikorans ran the other way and the Athulyth dived down with its big sharp claws pointed down at the both little Ikorans.

Total Red Death Camp

They arrived at Total Red Death Camp. The contestants were Heavely, Alfonso, Leanna, Tyson, Brianna, Blair, Danika, and Bee. The host was Kyle, and his assistant was chef. Kyle will be sending them out on dangerous challenges in the woods every day and at the end of every challenge someone will be eliminated.

Kyle gave everyone hoods. Heavely, Tyson, Brianna, and Bee were given the red hoods. Alfonso, Leanna, Blair, and Danika were given the violet hoods.

The first forest was “Rickety Rails Woods”. There were train rails wherever you would look. They didn’t seem that stable. To get to the finish line you must climb up the rails higher and higher boxes were there and there was no escaping. “Contestants to make this challenge a bit more difficult there is going to be train drivers everywhere and they will sabotage for you”. The violet and red hoods were frightened. “3...2....1 go!” Kyle shouted. Heavely and Alfonso were in the lead. Whenever a train driver appeared they would push them, unfortunately they would land on their friends. Danika and Bee were already dead. Bee had broken the train rail. Danika was crushed by one of the falling train drivers. Everyone else had finished after 15 minutes. “Both hoods are down to 3 people”. That means 6 people are left.

Next challenge was “Pond Forest.” This forest is filled with ponds all over the place. Each pond is 10 feet deep. You need to swim through these ponds filled with alligators, hungry ones. “1...2....3.... GO!” every team was on the run. Swimming through these ponds was disgusting, it was filled with disgusting leaves, dirt, pee and probably poop. Leanna was in the lead but what she didn’t see was the alligator dressed in grandma clothes, she got eaten. Brianna saw it all. She was traumatized and angry, Leanna was one of her closest friends. She went to the grandma dressed alligator and tried to kill it with her pocketknife. Brianna failed, she died. This forest was a lot more dangerous than the last one. You would never know when an alligator would pop up under you. Tyson had made an alliance with Blair, that means they won’t vote each other. They were swimming together hoping off higher chances of surviving. That would not be the case. The biggest alligator ever, 13 feet long. It slurped them up at once! It was only 2 contestants left, the strongest ones.

Heavely and Alfonso, both were try hards. After the deep ponds it was a final spurt. Both made it.

“Congrats you have made it to the finals!” Kyle said. The final challenge would be jury vote but since all the contestants are dead you will go trough one final forest. “The Bunny Spinner Wood, there aren’t any bunnies there, you will soon see why.” Kyle explained the challenge. First you put on your hoods, next there will be an obstacle course. It will be a spinner trying to knock you down. The final thing is to get to granny’s house. Heavely and Alfonso was running, a strange figure came up. It was a wolf! “Hey kids!” he seemed friendly. They had a chat about where to go and the wolf pointed them in surprisingly the right direction. Heavely and Alfonso got to the obstacle course.

Both could see granny’s house. They were right by each other’s sides. They were so even. They were on the last step, Alfonso opened the door. “Granny, are you there?” Alfonso said. “Yes sweetie come here.” Alfonso and Heavely walked to granny’s bed. She looked strange. She had a big nose, very big eyes, super big ears and then she opened her mouth. “You have really big teeth granny.” Heavely said. She nodded. Kyle came in with a paintball gun and shot the big bad wolf. “The wolf ate granny!” Kyle said. They cut up the big bad wolfs stomach. “Thank you for saving me my sweet potatoes.” Heavely and Alfonso got to split the money 50/50. Everyone was happy and they lived happily ever after.

THE END

The Last Riding Hood

In the early two thousand an apocalypse broke out across the world. A virus caused by swamps that get into the mind of humas making them lose their consciousness and make them zombie-like. The entire world still hangs on a lose string, but a girl named Ellie had something else to worry about. Her beloved dad is badly injured and lives in a rotten cottage on top of a big mountain. She only meets her dad on special occasions but the way there is tough. Now she is determined to get up the mountain and see her dad for the last time.

Ellie packed her bag and began the journey upwards. Abandoned cities overtaken by plants. Infected bodies. She tried her best to look away and focus. When the evening came around, she set up her tent in the woods. Knowing she where halfway there she confidently fell asleep. A weird noise woke Ellie up. It was still dark. She crawled out the tent with fear. With shaking hands, she turned on the flashlight. Her heart stopped when she saw a blood drooling, death bringing, infected human.

Seconds felt like an eternity. She had no choice but to run. Buches scratched her face while she ran in panic. Her feet flew up the mountain for what felt like forever but when she looked back it was nothing there. Her head was pounding, her vision was blurry and suddenly she fell on the ground. When she woke up it was no longer snowing, and she noticed that she was right outside her dad's cottage.

She walked in shivering and saw her dad lying in the bed. While forcing back the tears Ellie walked to her dad. He looked a little unusual. It was like his skin was slowly coming of. He touched Ellie's cheek. "I'm sorry". Slowly he moved his hand off Ellie's cheek. Ellie started to get worried Suddenly he ripped his skin off and screamed. Swamps all over his face. He was infected.

THE END

The three brave Individuals 🏠🏠🏠

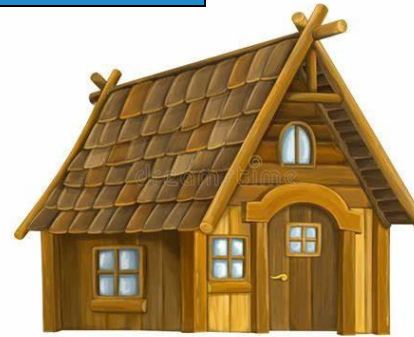

Once three little mice decided it was about time to leave home and found the golden cheese. No sooner said than done. That very morning, they packed up their things, kissed their mother Camilla goodbye, and set off.

They walked till midday. Then they sat by the road and ate their cheese doodles with brown sauce. After a nap they set off again. By suppertime Mickey felt too tired to go any longer.

“But we haven’t got anywhere yet!” His sister and friend said. “If you stay here, the pigeon hunters will come and eat you.” They were next to a field full of wheat that had just been cut. “I’ll be going to take a nap and then I’ll see what’s happening,” Mickey said. He closed his eyes and went straight to sleep.

When Mickey woke, the sun was sinking fast, and the air was growing cold. And what was the dark hairy shadow in the wood. “Ono” he said to himself, “I wish I had continued to go with the others. Now the pigeon hunters will come and eat me in one bite” he said to himself and started to cry. And as he said, the pigeon hunters came and devoured him whole. By midday the two little mice stopped to take a timeout. Sigge began to think that they had reached a very nice spot. There was a pile of wood that a woodcutter had left, perfect for building a big strong house. “But we were supposed to go and find the golden cheese” Helium said.

“Whatever happened to my brother can never happen to me,” Sigge thought. But that night, as the church clock struck twelve, there came a tapping at the door.

“Little cat, little cat, let me come in,” a voice said softly. “I’m lonely and hungry. I want a bite to eat.” The little cat’s heart gave a thump. Now he knew what had happened to his dear friend Mickey. “Wolf! You don’t fool me! You’re not coming in, not by the hair on my chinny-chin-chin!” He cried. “The I’ll huff and I’ll puff and I’ll blow your house in!” the wolf snarled. “And that be the end of you.” And it was.

Helium wouldn’t give up. It has been three days since she left Sigge. It was very late, and she was about to go to sleep when she was seeing something was lighting up the forest. Helium started to go closer to the light, and then she understood what it was. It was the golden cheese.

She was a little bit choked by her found but even more happy. She started to run to the cheese and then she grabbed it. She started to jump of excitement. Now she was going to stop the desire. Then they came. The Duv Hunters. They were going to attack her. Helium pointed her arm at the pigeon hunters, and they disappeared forever while Mickey and Sigge came back from nowhere. And they lived happily ever after.

THE END

Little red mission

Grandma lived not far away, but to get to her cottage you had to walk through a dark cave., after that you had to walk over a shark pool. If you fall of the log, you will become dinner for the sharks. It is easy to stay on the log.

Little red riding hood her mother called. Grandma is not very well. Little red riding hood new something was wrong. She took night vision goggles, food, flashlight, taser, rope and knives. She packs it all in a bag and started walking to granny's house. It was warm and the sun was shining outside. Little red riding hood walked through the forest. Wen she was there she took out the food and hide the bag under a tree.

Little red riding hood knocked at the door and the door opened and a 6ft man stepped out and asked little red riding hood what she wants. Little red riding hood said: here is some food for my grandma. The man was covered with cloths and had a deep voice. He took the food and closed the door. Little red riding hood waited until mid-night. she took the bag and changed and put the night vision goggles on her face and then took the taser and hide it in a holster.

She took the rope and the knives. Little red riding hood took out the lights. She climbed up a tree and climbed on the house. She drilled a hole on the house and then she slowly climbed down. She could see the man had kidnapped granny by "kicking her so hard" that she was flying in the wall so there was an earthquake.

Little red riding hood and throw in the knives on the man so he would get hurt and collapsed on the floor then she hurried to get granny out of the house, and she said to granny that she needed to run to mother's house. The man started chasing little red riding hood, but she tased the man so he collapsed on the grass. After running with grandma, she could see the man was running to them. but he didn't see the pool, so he tripped in it and the sharks was eating him. He died. Little red riding hood and grandma walked and opened the door to mother's house. THE END coming in here” Thomas shouted. Then I’ll huff and puff and spray your house down” the controller player said. “But you won’t be able to because I have much mats” Thomas said. Even if he had a lot of mats and a brick house, the controller player still managed to spray the house down with his Striker AR.

The Three Little Fortnite Pros

Once, three little Fortnite pros decided it was about time to leave their base and find somewhere to live on their own so that they could get better internet. They left their base and met up in the morning.

They walked until lunchtime when Tayson ($1 100 639 earnings) saw a tree, took out his pickaxe and farmed it. He built his new house out of wood and went to sleep. But when the clock hit midnight, he heard that someone was knocking on his door.

“Little Tayson, little Tayson, let me come in” a voice said. Tayson got very scared. He understood that there must be a controller player at his door. “You’re not coming in here!”, he said. Then I’ll huff and puff and I’ll spray your house in, and it will be the end for you”. And it didn’t end well for Tayson. When ThomasHD ($815 357 earnings) and Malibuca ($400 795 earnings) walked by, they saw Tayson’s house completely demolished and his guns were all over the place.

ThomasHD and Malibuca kept walking for multiple hours and then they stumbled across a big rock. ThomasHD farmed it and built his house out of brick. He made some dinner and then got to sleep. Just like for Tayson, when the clock hit 12 he heard footsteps outside his door. “Little Thomas, little Thomas” a voice said. “Let me come in”, Now Thomas understood what happened to Tayson, a controller player had sprayed his house down and he couldn’t hold the wall anymore because he ran out of mats. “You are not Malibuca walked by the next day and understood everything, all the bullets on the ground and Tayson and ThomasHD’s guns on the ground. He knew that there was a controller player who sprayed them both. He found some metal on the ground. “Maybe someone got sniped?” he thought. He used the metal to build a metal house.

He camped in a cone and when he saw the controller player coming. He dropped down and held his shotgun pointed at the controller player and then, just as planned he started spraying the wall. Just as the wall broke, Malibuca pre-fired him and shouted “180!”, but he only hit him for 120 then he just full pieced him through a window peak and sprayed him and finished him with pickaxe. He emoted and shouted “Shit on!!!”. When the controller player died, he saw how Tayson and ThomasHD popped out of his backbling. They all did “Take the L” and was super toxic. Then they lived in Malibuca’s house and they did have 0 ping so they could take everyone’s wall first try.

Snipp snapp end here the “saga” end

The little red Kanye hood

Once there was a boy called Kanye West, he lived in a forest with his mom Donda.

Kanye liked to make music and he always wore a red hood.

One day Donda said to Kanye that his grandpa Kendrick was sick, and that Kanye needed to go to Kendrick's cabin in the forest and give him some food.

When Kanye was in the forest MF DOOM and his assistant Travis spied on him,

MF DOOM was a wolf and Travis was a Bear, they were both evil and really MF DOOM confronted Kanye and asked where he was going.

Kanye said that he was going to his grandpa to give him some food.

MF DOOM went to the cabin and confronted Kendrick.

Kendrick said that MF DOOMS music was bad, so DOOM ate Kendrick.

Then Kanye arrived at the cabin and met DOOM, he asked why he had so big ears. DOOM said it was to hear him better. Kanye asked why he had so big eyes, DOOM said that it was to see him better. Then Kanye asked why he had so big teeth. DOOM smiled and said that it was to eat him then DOOM ate Kanye.

In the forest the lumberjack Tyler the Creator heard Kanye scream and he ran to the cabin as fast as he could. In a couple minutes Tyler was there and he saw MF DOOM sleeping under a tree.

Tyler cut his stomach open helped Kendrick and Kanye out, then they put a speaker in his stomach and closed it again. When he waked up they took Tyler's phone and started to play Taylor Swift, Blackpink, BTS and Harry styles music.

DOOM started to scream, and he ran around the cabin, then he fell down a well.

Kanye, Tyler and Kendrick thought they won but then they saw that Travis had the phone and he switched the music to MF DOOM music, DOOM fled out of the well and he tied them up to a tree.

Then the Graduation Bear came out of a portal and started to punch DOOM

DOOM and Travis got destroyed by the bear, so they ran to Kanye's spaceship and flew away. The Graduation Bear freed them from the tree then they went home to Kanye and ate dinner with his mom.

The Three Little Jedi Knights

A long time ago in a galaxy far far away there were three little jedi knights and they decided to leave the jedi temple to make their own home. After a short while Luke Skywalker wanted to stop because he was tired and though this was a good spot to build his house. Luke used the force to make the trees around float and build his house. The other jedis walked away because they wanted to find another spot for their houses, but later that night when Luke was about to sleep he heard a weird voice that seemed to have some problems with their breathing because their breath sounded really dark and was very loud. The voice asked, "may I come in and have some rest?" but Luke knew he wasn't allowed to talk to strangers because they maybe were some separatists or the empire. Luke answered " I won't let you in by the will of the force", then il do it myself said the dark voice and blowed away the house with his force push and captured Luke.

The day after the other jedis walked until obi wan thought he had found a good spot for his house. Obi wan used the force to move the rocks around him and built his house out of it, but when obi wan meditated in his new house he heard a dark voice asking if anyone was there and obi wan said "hello there" and then the voice knew and chopped down the house with his lightsaber.

The next day Yoda stopped because he met the Mandalorian, and he gave Yoda some beskar* and left flying away with his Naboo N1 starfighter* saying "this is the way". Yoda decided to build his house out of beskar so no separatists or the empire could strike his house down. At the noon of that day when Yoda were training some younglings, he saw a figure in a dark suit running by the window and Yoda said to his younglings that they could take a break because he was going to check outside but when Yoda looked, he saw nothing. Yoda went back to check on his younglings, but they were gone. Yoda saw a black foot climbing up the chimney and he went to check and then he saw DARTH VADER?! Yoda were quick and he jumped up tucked him in the head with his stick. Yoda captured Darth Vader and took him to the Coruscant* prison.

When he was on the way there, he found Luke and obi wan captured in Vader's Lamba class shuttle* and he freed them. The rest of that night they celebrated that the empires reign at the galaxy were finally over and they lived happily in the rest of their days. (until the first order rose to power)

*beskar- extremely rare metal used to build armour for the mandalorians

*Naboo N1 starfighter- a starfighter that the Naboo pilots used during the clone wars

*lamba class shuttle- a imperial shuttle used to transport higher ranked members of the empire

*coruscant- a planet that both the empire and the republic used during their time ruling the galaxy something, because of his stinginess, he is, such as Donald Duck very angry and irritable, (Scrooge mc duck is in the original version the wolf).

Settings: the story takes place in a town, Ducksburg, it's not a big city, and Donald ducks house seems quite rural with its garden. But the bankhouse in the story lays a bit out of the town (in the original version it all takes place in the country), the bankhouse is an enormous concrete cube, which is unusual to for a bank, in Donald Duck, that's the house were Scrooge mc duck save all his money (expect the money that's tied to securities around the world). And the stock exchanging house also has a "money-s" on it.

Items: the ducks piggy-banks, this is the ducks only possessions, expect their clothes. Even though they are starving they attract businessmen trying to find dumb customers...

Actions: a central action is when Scrooge mc duck tries to deceive the three little ducks. Instead of blowing their houses down, he make one of them take a high risk loan in his bank, and make another of them invest their money in his petroleum, but the ducks don't read fine print and in some seconds they have so big debts that they have to give their houses to Scrooge mc duck.

Colours: the three little ducks wear caps in different colours (blue, red and green).

MOOD BOARD FAN FICTION

Folk tale: The three little pigs

Fan story: Donald duck

Fan fiction: The three little ducks (the name of the original version is "The three little pigs").

Characters: Three ducks (Knatte, Fnatte och Tjatte), Donald Ducks nephews, (in the original version, they are the "Three little pigs")

Donald duck, the three little ducks uncle, he is an workless and angry duck who often use his whip against his nephews, (in the original version he is the pigs mother)

Scrooge mc duck, Donald Ducks rich uncle (but in this version he don't know Donald Duck and his nephews, like in older Donald Duck-litterature), he does anything to get money, and never buy

The Three Little Ducks

Once, three little duck were driven out of their home by their despotic uncle, Donald duck, because he had lost his job and no more had the money to provide them. No sooner said than done. That very morning they took their starving piggy banks, stuck out their tongues to their former breadwinner (who immediately grabbed his whip), and set off from Duckburg.

They walked till they were out of Duckburg. Then they sat down and leaned against an ATM and checked how much money they had in their respective piggy-banks. After nap they set off again. By supertime the first pig felt too tired to go any further.

“But we haven’t got to any bank yet!” His brothers said in chorus, as they used to.

But actually, they were next to a bank. “Don’t say that you’re going to place your money there!” The second duck said, because the bank looked really strange, it was an enormous concrete-cube with a big “money-s” on it. And a lot of unpleasant signs. “Maybe I will!” replied the first duck, but first I’m going to build my house, I will use the last of my money to buy material. The other ducks sighed, but realized that nothing could make their brother change his mind, so they just kept walking. When the other ducks had gone, the first little duck lay down, closed his eyes and went straight to sleep.

When the first little duck woke, the sun was sinking fast and the air was growing cold. And what was the dark shadow of what seemed to be a limousine in the bank. Suddenly he wished he’d gone on with the others. But he set to work, he hired some excavators and bought some bricks at a nearby store. But when the work was clear, and the workers came to get their money, the first duck discovered that he didn’t have the money to pay them, he got panic and realized that he had to take a loan. Actually, he didn’t want to take a loan, but it was not much that he could do. So he went to the bank, to the loan department and said to the guy at the checkout that he wanted to take a loan at 3000 pounds to pay the workers. So the guy in the checkout handed over a contract, the first little duck signed the paper without hesitation and therefore did not have time to read the fine print, where it stood that the rent was 300% a day. The first little duck went home.

At midnight there came a tapping at his door. “Little duck, little duck, let me come in”, a voice said. The little ducks’ blood ran cold. Now he knew what the shadow had been - a bank owner, but not just any bank owner, the unscrupulous loan shark Scrooge mc Duck (or, at least his limousine).

“You’re not coming in here, not but the vents of my beaked-beak-beak”, he said in his most grown-up voice.

“But you have debts to me, little duck, you will have to pay them”, the businessduck quacked. “I refuse”, said the duck un-meekly. “Then I will send the bailiff on you, and that will be the end of your economy”, said the businessduck. And it was.

Next morning, the other ducks came back, what did they find? An auction house that were selling his brothers house and other belongings to the highest bidder. They were so chocked that they were ran away as quickly as they could. By midday the two little pigs were exhausted and stopped running. The second little duck started thinking that they had reached a very nice spot. There were a stock exchange house with a “big money-s”, perfect for building up a strong economy.

“Whatever happened to my brother will never happen to me”, thought the second little duck, and went to a brick store and bought some bricks, to economy price, so he had some money left. The he built his house, by his own.

But that afternoon, when all the banks had closed, there came a tapping on his door. “Little duck, little duck, let me come in, I have an very special offer to you little duck”. “Okay, said the second little duck, come in”. When the voice came in and the duck saw that he was Scrooge mc Duck, the unscrupulous businessman, the little duck went a little nervous, but he don’t wanted to miss a good chance to get rich, even if he knew that Scrooge mc Duck used to trick people to get money. “Little duck, little duck, here comes my offer to you: invest your money in my petroleum, and you will be rich, just sign this contract”, he said, as the same time as he handle over a contract and pointed with his finger where he had to sign. “O yes, of course I want to invest my money in your petreuleum”, said the second little duck, at the same time as he signed the contract. “He he he he”, Scrooge mc Duck laughed nasty”. “I have already sold my petreuleum refinerys to a venture capitalist. He made the company bankrupt. And you have big debts to the trustees in bankrupcy now, or actually, you have debts to me, cause I have bought your debts, so pay me now little duck.

The second little duck got panic. “I refuse”, he said. “Not by the vents of my beakin beak beak. “Then I will send the bailiff on you, and that will be the end of your economy'', and it was.

Next morning the third little duck found an auction house that were selling his brothers house and other belongings to the highest bidder. He were so chocked that he began to ran away as quickly as he could. But then he thought, ''what did my brother and I pass down the road yesterday''. ''A cave in the ground!''. Back he went and excavated the cave enough to be in it.

That night Scrooge mc Duck came quacking and tapping again. ''I'm a friend of your brothers'', he called. ''Little duck little duck, let me come in.''

''You're not coming in here, not by the vents of my beakin beak beak!'' the third duck shouted.

''Little duck, I have an offer to you, you're going to be rich!'' the buisnessman quacked. ''Maybe I will let you come in if you give my brothers their money back'', said the third little duck. Scrooge mc Duck thought he could trick the third little duck on more money than his brothers, so he agreed. He took his phone and called the second and the first duck and said to them that the had to come.

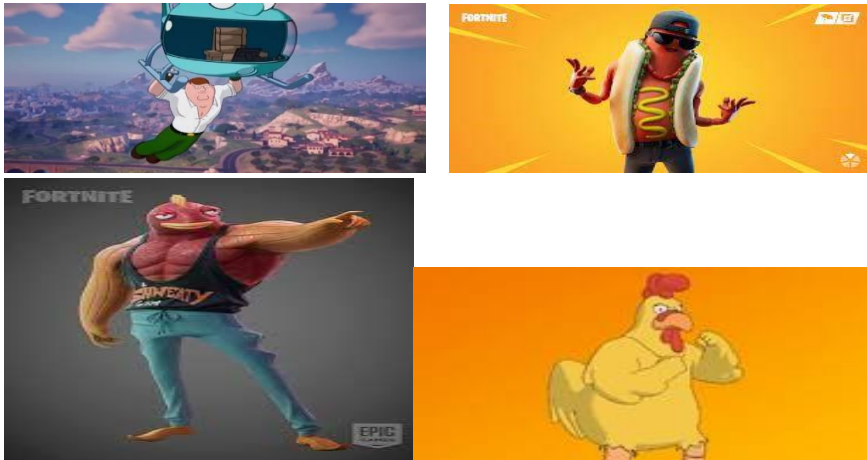

After a while, the other ducks appeared in the cave opening. The wore worn-out sacks as clothes, they seemed to be very hungry and was thin as papers.

''Here's your money'', Scrooge mc Duck said, and handled over some checks. ''So, what do you want to buy from me'', said Scrooge mc Duck eagerly. ''Nothing'', said the third little duck. ''Bu, but you said that you were going to take my offer I gave your brothers their money back, and I did that'', Scrooge mc Duck stuttered. ''But I have'nt sign any contract that says that I have to buy from you'', the third little duck said. The Scrooge mc duck got so sad that he ran away crying. Next day, could the ducks read in the newspaper that Scrooge mc Duck had sold all his companys, and donated all his remaining money to the fund of duck triplets.

How happily the three little ducks were to see each other again! Safe and sound, they added together their money, and built real house, made of bricks, they lived happily ever after.

The End

The Three Little Sweats

The three little sweats were a squad at the start but today they left their carrying brother alone and they became a trio, and the trio's members are. newest player peter grafik. The kind of new player but not fish thicc. And the Og the brat/ the hotdog man. And then they joined a match. When they joined, they thought they would destroy the lobby and win in about 10 minutes. And after the match started they killed person after person.

Until they ran into a trio full of sweats in fencing fields. As soon as the sweats saw them, they started cranking 90's. doing double and triple edits. And being sweaty. We tried to take high ground, but they were too fast with their fingers cranking and editing faster and faster. And then they decided that they were going to escape and build a sky base a bit from there. So, they use the EMP and ran a bit from there to build their sky base. They had to discuss in what material they should build it in Peter grafik: we should build it in wood.

Fish thicc: no, we should build it in brick.

The brat /the hotdog man: no are you guys dumb we need to build it in metal or else they will spray us down and we will die to fall damage.

Peter grafik: no wood is better.

Fish thicc: no brick is better.

The brat/ the hotdog man: since we can't chose in which material we should build it in we build one sky base each is everyone with me.

Peter grafik: ok that works.

Fish thicc: yeah same.

so they started to farm materials for their own sky base. Peter grafik were done first so he started building his sky base out of wood by just building ramps up a bit. And a bit after fish thicc was done and started building his sky base out of brick by building two ramps next to each other so it was going to be harder to break him down but right as he started, he heard peter grafik swear and say I got sprayed down and my reboot card is under the sweat trio they saw before. And finally, the brat/ the hotdog man was done farming materials and could finally start building his sky base, so he cranked two boxes up and then started building ramps to the sky for his sky base. After he got up a bit, he heard fish thicc swear and say I also got sprayed down and my reboot card is near them. So, the brat/the hotdog man knew he had to clutch against the sweats. So, he builds a few more ramps and then he saw them the sweats that had kill his teammates it was his brother the giant chicken and his new trio. Now he is really scared because he knew that his brother is really really good at Fortnite. So, he started building towards them really fast, so they don't have time to react. He was almost there but then they saw him, and they started build towards him too. Now he had to think how he was supposed to win against his brother and his trio. Then he got an idea if he used the EMP to get invisible he could kill them from behind. So, he used the EMP and got behind them and then he saw one of them he was careful to don't get seen and then when he was close enough, he pulled out his shotgun and killed him from behind and took his loot. Now there was two more but probably the person he killed had told his teammates that I was there. So, he couldn't use the EMP again. So, he just boxed up and waited for them to come. And after a bit one of the sweats come and saw him. And after he saw him, they started fighting. It was going good for the brat/ the hotdog man. And after a bit of he killed the sweat. Now there was only his brother left. And he was the greatest of the sweats. He hadn't 1v1 his brother before, but he was surely better than him.

He peaked and saw him, and his brother saw him. And the 1v1 had started. They started editing and building to trick each other but then he tough couldn't he just use the EMP again and kill him from behind, so he did. He got behind and was about to shoot when his brother boxed up with him and the EMP ran out. So now it was only about aim. And they have about the same aim. But the brat/the hotdog man got a lucky headshot and killed his brother. He screamed and ran to pick up his teammates reboot card. Then he rebooted them, and they killed the last person and won the game.

THE END

Little Dree Hood

One cold afternoon in Husby there was a little house in the middle of the forest there is a man named Dree low, but everyone calls him Andree. Dree low works of killing animals he has killed a wolf a bear and other animals.

On that day someone called it was Yasin he's uncle was kidnapped, and the kidnaper wanted half a million or else he would die he said to meet him in the middle of the forest in 30 minutes.

He was in the bathroom and putting on his red hoodie and his pants. There was something different he felt that someone stared at him, but he was so stressed out that he didn't think about it. When he went out from the bathroom, he saw the news on the tv it was about some wolf kidnapper but dree didn't think that it was him who had kidnap his uncle. Who were on the run and could be everywhere his name was Haval but then dree low realized that he had to get going to Yasin or else he would die.

He was in the middle of the forest and was a little bit of scared because. He felt that someone stared at him. He looked around every minute or two. But he didn't see anything he walked for a long time. But then he heard a wolf sound he got a little bit of scared and looked around and said hello I someone out here and then he saw dark shadows and suddenly a wolf came out of no where and he said to dree he killed his brother a long time ago and now he wanted revenge on him. The wolf runs towards Dree he didn't know what he was going to do but he remembered that he had a knife in his pocket he pulled it out and stabbed him he was on the ground bleeding but dree just walked past him like nothing.

He walked 5 minutes and he heard someone yell he looked around and found his uncle fixed Knotted to a tree dree runed to the tree and got out his knife to cut the ropes.

And they lived happy rest of their life.

The end.

Little Mogadishu

One sunny day in little Mogadishu also called Rinkeby Yasin and Jaffar byn was going to grandpa dree low to give him medicine. Yasin and Jaffar is on their way to Husby where dree low lives. On their way to husby they see beautiful butterfly and Birds but once they get in husby it seems cold and windy Jaffar seems scared and wants to go home. Till something is moving in the bush Jaffar is even mor scared now but to calm Jaffar down Yasin says it's just the wind that's blow the bush Yasin says come on take the basket we need to hurry. Jaffar takes the basket with medicine and goes on to the path but something is doesn't fells well. But what they don't know is that someone follows them.

Jaffar and Yasin is near grandpa dree low. They are listening to grandpa dree lows songs their favorite song is capable 2. Now Jaffar and Yasin far ahead of the creepy bush that scared the hell of Jaffar.

Until something scares both of Jaffar and Yasin it was the big bad Adel wolf. Yasin and Jaffar dropped his jaw when they looked at the big bad Adel wolf. The wolf says. I've heard that you have come here to bring dree lows medicine is that right. Yes. Yasin replies with a soft voice.

Then give me the medicine or I'm going to eat you up to dinner. But why do you need the medicine. Ugh give me that damn medicine. No. Okay fine. Said Adel and laughed evilest

What they didn't know is that Adel disguised to grandpa dree low...

! ding doing! Grandpa dree low we have your medicine. Oh, thank you so much. Called the wolf. Oh, grandpa you don't sound so well. I know my kids. Called the wolf. My kids? We are your grandchildren. Called Yasin. OH, I forgot. Said the wolf and laughed suspicious. Okay grandpa dree low. Can you give me the medicine now. Said the wolf.

Of course, grandpa dree low, but your nose looks different

It's because I'm sick.

And what big ears you have

All the better to hear you.

And what big eyes you have

All the better to see you.

And what great big teeth you have.

All the better to eat you with.

But then grandpa dree low jumps out the closet and punch the hell out the wolf

And gives him a good damn sleep.

at than kunde göma sig för det som var efter honom. Men där inne så mötte han

Trio In The Forbidden Forest

Once upon a time, the trio of Harry Potter, Hermione Granger and Ronald Wesley went into the Forbidden Forest on an adventure. To spend the night and see which animals are there and which may be dangerous. Hagrid wished them good luck and headed off into the woods.

"How are we going to sleep? Maybe we should fix it first," Hermione asked.

"Yes, that might be good, but how are we going to build it and from what?" said Harry.

"We can build it out of grass, so it blends in?" said Ron.

"No, we'll build it out of pins so they don't blow away," Harry said.

"No, we're building a brick house, it's going to be stable," Hermione said.

"But it's a good thing we have such a large stock of bricks," Ron said ironically.

"If we can't come to an agreement, we'll each build a house then," Hermione said.

So they went in different directions, we leave Harry and Hermione and go to Ronald's grass house.

Ron's house was small, there was barely room for him, but he liked the house. But after a few hours he heard a roar and then his house was in shambles, and he ran like he had never run before and then he saw something that looked like a hut with sticks. Han sprang in där och tänkte

"Harry, något där ute jagade mig" sa Ron med flåset i halsen.

And then they heard a roar that sounded angrier and more annoyed than before. And then Harry's house was in shambles, and maybe they were running faster than before.

"Hermine's house is a little way off," said Harry.

You could barely make out a nod on Ron's face. There they saw a beautiful and perfect brick house that could very well be Hermine's ache. They ran in there and there was Hermine cooking a big cauldron with a stew that smelled very good.

"Have you been chased by Greyback?" said Hermine.

"What? how did you know we've been hunted?" said Harry.

"Oh Harry, put one and one together, you've been chased by something like red, it's a full moon, a werewolf greyback is in the forbidden forest, it said in the daily prophet yesterday and he's out to get you."

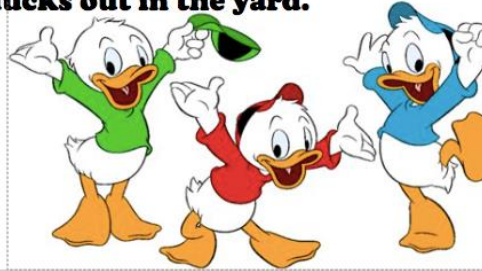

They heard another roar and Ro gave a scream and there was scratching at the door.

"It's okay, I've put a lot of protective spells around the house, let's eat," Hermine said.

THE THREE LITTLE DUCKS

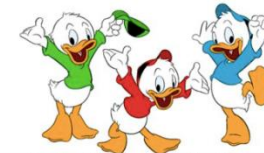

Ones upon a time therwas three little ducks called Huey, Dewey and Louie they hade a fight with there uncle Donald Duck. The family lives in a nice house on a street that was quiet until they moved in. Donald got very angry and chased the little ducks out in the yard.

The first duck Huey ran up in the tree house but Donald used the chain saw to saw down the tree. Huey ran away on a very quiet street to Alexsander the ducks house. But Dewey was already there. But he also ran in there.

Donald chased after him. Donald used dynamite to explode the house. Huey and Dewey also ran away. They ran all the way to Scrooge Mcducks money bin and knocked on the door and Louie opened the door and they ran in. They saved some time because Donald has very bad condition so he came two minutes later. Donald tried to knock on the door but the three ducks had made a trap for him so wen he knocked so did he get hit by a hammer and passed out. The ducks then called an ambulance because they felt bad. Donald needed to be in the hospital for a few days.

THE END

The Three Little Builders

Alex, Steve and a villager called Bob entered the competition area and they hear a voice say the theme is houses. You have 10 minutes the competition starts now! They start to think what they're going to build. They start to build. They chose which materials to use. They built and built.

The voice said ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one, zero, stop building. They finally got to see the referee. And they were shocked when they saw who it was. It was Enderman.

Enderman goes to all the houses and looks. Bob has built a house out of straw, Steve has built a house out of wood, and Alex has built a house out of brick.

Enderman would enlist the help of a creeper to determine the winner. Because the creeper would blow up, the houses would lose. “The one who comes third is Bob” said Enderman.

At the same moment, Bob's house was blown up.

“Noooo” said Bob.

Enderman waited for a few seconds to reveal the result.

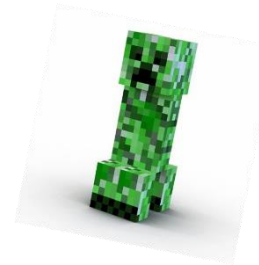

“Alex” said Enderman.

At the same moment, Steve's house was blown up by a creeper.

“Congratulations” told them all.

Enderman give Alex a trophy. And they had a party all night.

THE END

What is a Creeper? A Creeper is a monster in Minecraft that blows up if you get close.

What is a Enderman? A Enderman is a monster in Minecraft who can teleport. An Enderman gets angry if you look it in the eye.

The Little Red Powerpuff Girls

Once upon a time there were three little girls. They were always wearing a red hood. Their mom called them the 'The three little red powerpuff girls'. They lived in a little village, in a big forest, it was around ten people living there. About a mile away, lived their grandfather, Dr. Utonium. He lived in Townsville, the BIG city. He is a scientist, and he owns a large lab.

One day, their mom got a letter saying he was sick. "Little powerpuff girls!" their mom called. Blossom, Bubble and Buttercup rushed to their mother. "Your Grandfather is really sick, go to him with a basket of goodies, please."

"Okay!" said Blossom. She was a bit scared for the long walk in the forest. Bubble walked to the kitchen and put some goodies in the basket. "Let's go, come on Buttercup", said Bubble. They put on their red hoods and shoes. Then they all kissed their mother goodbye and walked out of the door. Bubble got a bad feeling about this, what if something gone wrong?! "Be safe, little powerpuff girls! And do not talk to anyone!" said their mother and they all replied with a "YES MOM!"

The Powerpuff girls followed the path in the big forest a long time. Then heard some noise in the bushes. Buttercup nearly got a mini heart attack when a middle-aged woman jumped out on the path. "Oh hi, girls", she said, "where are you going?" Their mom told them not to talk to ANYONE, but she seemed quite friendly. "We are going to our grandfather, he is sick", said Buttercup.

"Oh, I see. Maybe I can describe the way? I know every path around here." The woman smiled.

"The house is in the big city, Townsville, I've heard it's supposed to be very beautiful and modern there", said Buttercup. "Oh, I know that place! You just follow this path, and then you will arrive", said the woman. "Oh wait, I forgot to tell you my name, its princess Morbucks." She smiled very much. Her orange hair fluttered in the wind. Why would someone name their daughter 'princess'?

About 40 minutes later, they arrived. The girls were exhausted and tired after the long hike. Townsville was a BIG city. There were people everywhere. Then they saw the house, oh what a lovely modern house! They looked on the mailbox and it said Dr. Utonium, so they knew they had come to the right place. They knocked on their grandpa's door. He said "COME IN" from the bedroom. "His voice sounded very light", whispered Buttercup. They opened the door and walked in. They took off their shoes and walked to the bedroom. "You can put the basket over there, Buttercup", said their grandpa.

"What hairy arms you have, grandpa!" said Buttercup.

"All better to hug you with!" he replied.

"And what great orange hair you have, grandpa!" said Bubble.

"All better to...uhm, see you with darling!"

"And what a great big knife you have in your hand!" said Blossom.

"All better to stab you with!" he said. He jumped out of the bed. No, she jumped out of the bed! It's princess Morbucks! She had followed them!

Princess Morbucks where about to stab them with her poisoned knife, but...

Then, their REAL grandfather, jumped into the bedroom from a window. "Princess Morbucks!?" yelled their grandfather.

"Oh yes, that's me!" Princess Morbucks had a weird evil smile on her lips. And then she took off her dressing up. They just stood and looked at each other with sour looks. Then princess Morbucks threw some kind of green knife at their grandfather, but he managed to duck at the last second.

"Better luck next time!" he screamed. He ripped her orange hair, and he took a syringe and pushed it into her arm. "Don't worry, she will wake up soon", said their grandfather when he saw their faces. Princess Morbucks disappeared suddenly, with a 'poof', leaving behind only a strand of orange hair. "Thank you, grandfather!" said Buttercup.

"Be careful next time and remember I don't have orange hair!"

"Hahahaha, we won't repeat that mistake!" said Blossom and smiled. "I hope she never comes back!"

"Mhm", mumbled their grandfather. "Come and visit sometime, with your mother!"

"Of course. But now its time for us to leave. Goodbye!" said Blossom.

"Goodbye!" and then they put on their red hoods then they walked out of the door and began their trip back to the woods.

The End

Little Red Bruno Hood

Once upon a time there was a kid named Bruno, he was very talented singer with over a thousand fans as he calls "Hooligans". He also had a great connection with his grandmother, she was very old but very funny. She always wanted to help with everything and the one special thing she loved to help with was making music videos for and with Bruno. One day she asked Bruno to get some flowers to have in a music video his granny planned for a long time.

He set off towards a meadow full of flowers. He searched and searched for the best flowers for his grandma. What he didn't know was that a strange hooligan had followed him since he left the house...

He began his way back to his with the prettiest flowers you could ever imagine. Instead of taking the path, he chooses to take a shortcut through the dark forest. Even then the strange hooligan was after him, he followed every step Bruno took. He was just a few steps away from the path that leads directly to his grandma's house.

Then suddenly the strange hooligan jumped in front of him. he nearly dropped his flowers in fright, but the fan seemed quite friendly. "Can I get a picture with you?" He asked. "No, I'm in a hurry to my grandma's house, were making a music video" Replied Bruno. "May I ask where that is" Asked the strange hooligan. "This path leads exactly to her house" Replied Bruno once again.

The hooligan knew right away where that was, so he took a shortcut.

Bruno continued his way home without any hesitations. The hooligan ran as fast as he could just to be at Bruno's grandma's house before Bruno.

He was standing on Bruno's grandma's garden. He took a few steps on the doorsteps and knocked on the big red door. "Who is it?" The grandma asked. "It's me Bruno, I've got some good stuff for you!" The hooligan replied. "the door is on ajar, come right in" the grandma said.

He walked through the hall, through the kitchen, through the living room and opened the door into the grandma's room. She looked terrified.

"Who are you?" She asked with a voice in fear. "Hi, I am a big fan of your grandson. I heard you were doing a music video; can I also be in it?" He asked. "That would be nice" She replied.

They decorated and fixed everything they planned for the music video; they thought it would be a surprise for Bruno. They took down the finest vase they could find in the top shelf where the flowers would be. They were ready very soon, the last thing they would do was take out a candy bowl full of chocolate biscuits.

Bruno was right outside the door. He grabbed the handle and pulled.

Slowly the door opened, just then the hooligan and the grandma shouted "Suprise!". "What's this and what are you doing here?" Bruno asked in shock. "Hello again, I'm here for the music video with you" The hooligan said. "Well let's start" Bruno said while putting the flowers in the vase.

The music video went viral, and the strange hooligan named Roberto started doing music videos with them all the time.

THE END

The Three Little Chipmunks

Once three little chipmunks decided it was about time they left home and found their own music studio to live in. No sooner said than done. That very morning, they packed up their things, said goodbye to their father Dave and set off.

They walked for hours until the sun began to fade, and the air was turning cold. Finally, they found a big field where they sat down and ate a bit of the food they packed with them, berries, and seeds. Once they were finished, the moon had disappeared into the thick and cold midnight air as well, so there was no point in continuing the journey for today, Theodore thought.

“But we haven’t got anywhere yet!” Alvin said, and Simon nodded in agreement. “There aren’t even any buildings nearby” his brother added.

He looked around in the big field they were in, and he noticed that it was a small little cottage by the end of the field. “I’ll just make my own studio over there in that little house” Theodore said and pointed at the cottage. Then he laid down on the cold wheat and shut his eyes closed.

When Theodore woke up, the sky was clear and blue again, but he could see the sun sinking fast. And what was that orange thing in the wood? Suddenly he wished he’d gone on with the others. But he set to work, unpacked all of his things and made the little cottage nice and cozy.

At midnight there came a tapping at his door. “Little Theodore, little Theodore, let me come in and I’ll take you to see your mother.” a dark, grumpy voice said. Theodores eyes widened and his blood ran cold. Now he knew what the shadow had been, Uncle Harry!

“You’re not coming in here Harry; I know that you’re lying!” Theodore said in his most grown up voice. “Then Ill huff and puff and blow your house in!” Harry muttered. “And that’ll be the end of your career”, and it was.

The next morning Alvin and Simon came back to check on their brother, only to find the little cottage torn in pieces and Theodores belongings all over the field. Alvin and Simon instantly knew who had done all this damage! They ran away as fast as they could.

By midday the two brothers were to tired to keep running, so they stopped at an entrance to a little neighborhood. Simon noticed that some of the houses were empty, no lights and no people in them. Perfect for a music studio!

“Whatever happened to Theodore can never happen to me” thought Simon. “I’m not even alone here, Harry will never find me in here” Simon said to Alvin. But that very night, he suddenly woke up because of the harsh banging on his door.

“Little Simon, little Simon, let me come in for some midnight tea and some berries and seeds” a voice said softly.

Little scared Simon froze on the spot, how could harry even find him in this little neighborhood? “Harry! You don’t fool me! You’re not coming in here, not even for a cup midnight the and some berries and seeds” Simon beeped.

“Not even if i take you to see your mother?” Harry grumbled.

Simon slowly opened the door and saw his giant uncle Harry standing there, with a wide grin on his face. And that was the last thing that Simon saw.

The next morning the one and only Alvin found the little neighborhood again, except for that one of the houses was shattered to pieces and all his brothers instruments torn apart on he ground. Alvin began to run down a little path behind the houses, which led to a a small city. In the middle of the city there was a big hotel.

“Here in a hotel harry will never find me!” Alvin thought as he went in and looked around. Behind the register, there was a little golden key. It turned out to lead to a small shelter behind the hotel.

That night uncle Harry came prowling and tapping again. “Little Alvin, little Alvin, I’m a great friend of your mother” he said in his nicest voice. “Little Alvin, may I come in?”

“Uncle Harry, you’re not coming in here not after what you’ve done to my brothers!” Alvin shouted, not being scared at all.

“Then ill come in myself” Harry said and he put the golden key in the door lock. And the lock didn’t move at all. He used all his strength to twist and turn the key but the door still wouldn’t budge. Harry turned the key one last time, still nothing. With boiling anger, he climbed up the roof and tried to rip off the roof panels. But Alvin had thought of this, and he had put very slippery oil all over the panels. Just a few seconds later, uncle Harry came tumbling down the roof. Alvin ran out to Harry and opened his uncle’s big coats pockets, and out jumped Theodore and Simon!

How happy the brothers were to see each other again! Safe and sound, in the shelter behind the hotel, the three little chipmunks lived happy ever after and they continued to make the music that everyone loved them for.

THE END

Or is it?

all the black its actually a mouth he quickly go into his ship and star fly to another planet

The three Little jedis

It was a day when the 3 little jedis finally completed their training to become real jedis. they jump in the ship and decide wish planet they are going to live.

Jedi 1 find a really pretty planet but he doesn't write all about the planet jedi number

2 take a planet with a really big ocean he think that it would look pretty but he don't read about what it was in that ocean jedi

3 take a really pretty planet with a little beach he read all about that planet and he was ready for go live there he and the other jedis fly to the separate planets.

Jedi 1 start to big his house but he don't really that its worms who eats all in the planet so the house fall down and the jedi need to stay in his ship so the worms don't eat he.

The second Jedi arrive to the planet he is going to life in he start big his house in a really pretty island in this planet its only islands and when he finish he hear a noise in the water he go to look the water and he se the water have turn black a really big part was black then he realize that

The third jedi arrive to his planet it's a pretty planet and its not bad animals and not monster who want to eat you. His friend come crying they say that then planet was really bad in one of then was worms that eat all and in other planet was it a monster so they ask there friend if the could live together the jedi say yes and they live a really good life all together.

THE END

The little grish Travis.

Ones up on the time there was a little boy, and his name was Travis Scott. He lived with his mom Wanda Scott in Östermalm. Travis loves to do music. He does it by his own. Travis usually sits in his room and make new music. One day some kid said he has not much grish. So he went to Nordiska kompaniet and bought some Moncler and ralph Lauren, he also bought arigato and valentino shoes. He was so happy with all the stuff. Until he saw something weird, it was red stains all over the floor to the bathroom. He was going to take a closer look. When he got to the bathroom he heard a weird growling sound, it was from the toilet at the back. There was also a weak screaming sound. Travis was now getting scared so he started do walk away, but then he thought for himself that someone could be in danger in that bathroom. So he went back to the bathroom. The screams were getting louder, it was a girl. When he stood Infront he was hesitated, but he heard the girl scream and it was a scream of pain. He opened the door and there was a big monster and the monster saw Travis and he stopped attacking the girl. He launched against Travis with his big sharp teeth. Travis new he was going to die if he didn't do something so in a split second, he took a fast step to the left and dodged the monsters big teeth. Travis saw that on his left was a sharp metal pole ha grabbed it and the monster attacked again and Travis took the pole and put it in the monsters' mouth and it sliced the monsters throat. The monsters dead and there was the woman. Travis and the woman went out of the bathroom. They called the police and it turned out it was a human with a coat and a mask so it looked like a monster and he also had a microphone that mad him sound like a monster. Travis asked the girls name it was alice. 20 years later Travis and the woman is married and have Two kids.

Fanfiction! The hungry old man.

Granny didn't live far away, but to get to her cottage you had to walk through a little scary path in the woods (though no one goes there because if you go into the woods, you never get out - you'll understand why in a moment). Maria "her mother called."

"Granny is very hungry and haven't got out to take her order and can't walk. Put on your red coat she got for your birthday and pick up her order."

So, Maria put on her red coat, buttoned it under her chin, and set off.

"Remember to keep to the small path when you go in the woods!" Her mother called after her.

"Of course, mummy," Maria called back. "I always do."

A few minutes later, Maria came to Burger King and picked up the order and continued walk to granny's house. She was only a little way inside the wood when there was a noise in the bushes and out onto the path jumped an old man.

Maria nearly dropped the bag in fright, but the old man seemed quite friendly. "Where are you off to little girl?" he asked. "To my granny's" Maria replied.

"It's the first cottage at the end of the forest. Granny's not very well and can't walk so I picked up her food for her. And my name's is not 'little girl', it's Maria."

"Sorry", Said the old man. "I didn't know. Tell you what why don't I run ahead and tell Granny you're on your way? And, Maria, don't stray off the path, will you? We don't want anything to happen to you before you get to Granny's, do we?"

Off skipped the old man just in time! For the old man hadn't kidnapped Maria because he knew there was a couple woodcutter nearby who might come rescue her.

While Maria made her way along the path, stopping every couple of minutes to pick flowers or listen to the birds singing, the old man took a short cut. He knocked at Granny's door.

"Who is it?" Granny called.

The old man disguised his voice. "It's me, Maria. I have brought your food."

"The doors is open, my darling," Granny called. And in went the old man. How hungry he was! He hadn't eaten for days. He swallowed Granny whole, from her head to feet. About ten minutes later, Maria knocked on Granny's door.

"Who is it?" the old man called softly. "It's me, Maria." "The old man called. "come on in." For a moment Maria hesitated. Wasn't there something funny about Granny's voice? Then she remembered that Granny had a little sick. She opened the door and walked in.

The old man was laying in bed wearing the little old lady's nightie and glasses. The sheets were pulled right up over his face, and he'd drawn the curtains to make it nice and dark.

"Put the things down there," He said, "then snuggle up to me my darling."

Maria put the fries and the hamburger down on the bedside table, but she didn't get onto the bed right away.

"What great big hairy arms you have, Granny!"

"All the better to hug you with, my darling!" The old man said.

"What great weird teeth you have, Granny!"

"All the better to EAT you with, my darling!"

With that the old man was so excited he couldn't contain himself any longer. He threw the bedclothes aside, jumped out of the bed and swallowed Maria whole, headfirst. Then he felt so happy that he sat back and fell asleep. Unfortunately for the old man, he was a loud snorer.

A passing huntsman heard the snores. Thinking something was wrong.

THE THREE LITTLE KIDS

Once upon a time three little kids were going to build some small houses to play in in the forest. They were Harry Potter, Hermione Granger and Ron Weasley.

After walking around in the forest for about ten minutes Ron suddenly burst out “That’s it! I’m not walking anymore!” “How are you going to build a house then?” Harry asked. Ron looked around and suddenly he saw a pile of wheat. “I’ll use wheat to build it” he said. “Can’t you at least go to those sticks over there?” Hermione asked. “NO” Ron yelled “I’m tired” “You’re as lazy as a pig.” Said Hermione and then she and Harry set off without Ron. Ron immediately started building his house. The house looked kind of unsteady, but he was tired, so he just went inside. After a while he started to hear some strange noises outside. He looked out the window and saw a strange figure. The figure came closer and said “Hello! I am Voldemort! Fear me!” “Why” Ron asked. “Because I will commit arson now!” Voldemort said and took out a lighter. He lit the wheat on fire, and it immediately spread to the whole house. When all the wheat had burned Ron was just gone.

Harry and Hermione kept walking for about twenty more minutes when Harry sat down and stopped. “Come on Harry,” said Hermione. “Nope I am done I will build this house out of sticks” Harry said. “Ugh fine” said Hermione and walked away. Harry started building and was done by night. He went inside and when he looked out the window, he saw the same dark figure that Ron saw. Voldemort once again said “Hello! I am Voldemort! Fear me!” Harry also said “Why?” “I will commit arson! Why does no one get it?” Voldemort said and he lit the house on fire. When the house was gone, so was Harry.

Hermione walked for an hour, but she suddenly stopped when she saw a broken-down brick factory. The factory itself was in ruins so she couldn’t build her playhouse there but there were still a lot of bricks from when the factory was still running. Hermione started working and even found a pile of cement that hadn’t dried out. After building the whole day she finally finished the house. She went inside and started cooking a stew under the chimney since she was hungry. She didn’t see the dark figure until it was standing right outside her window. She jumped and screamed. “Hello there little girl! I am Voldemort! The figure said. “Yes, I know your posters are everywhere in the village” Hermione said. “So, you know why I’m here?” Voldemort asked. “To commit arson,” said Hermione. “Correct.” Voldemort replied. He picked up the lighter from his pocket and tried to light the brickhouse. Hermione smiled. “What?” Voldemort burst out. “You can’t light bricks on fire genius.” Hermione said. Voldemort then decided he would pick the lock and light all the furniture on fire instead. He went to the front of the house and started picking the lock. Hermione suddenly started to worry; she hadn’t prepared for this to happen. Suddenly he was inside the house holding the lighter in his hand and then... BONK! He fell forward. Behind him stood Ron and Harry with a frying pan. “You’re alive!” She burst out. They hugged and called the police. Voldemort got arrested and went to jail.

Harry and Ron moved in with Hermione in her brick house where they lived happily ever after together in safety. The end...?

Matilda And The Beanstalk

Once upon a time there was a girl named Matilda and one day she decided to go to the library.

Once Matilda came to the library she was walking around for a long time looking for a book, after a while she saw a book that caught her eye. It was a forest green book with golden details. She opened the book and saw that it was a spell book, she immediately took it home with her

At home she decided to try the spell that was called “grow a beanstalk in you’re garden”. Matilda went to her garden and did the spell, but nothing happened. Matilda was dissappointed. But the next day when she looked out her window she couldn’t believe her eyes, a giant beanstalk was growing in her garden. Matilda clambered out of her window and started climbing the beanstalk with the spell book in her hand.

Half an hour later she found herself in another country where everything was much larger. She stood in front of a giant house. Matilda read the name on the mailbox “Miss Trunchbull” oh that must be the giant that lives here, Matilda thought. She saw an opened window and decided to sneak in. standing at the window sill Matilda saw a box of chocolates that looked delicious. She wanted to take one but Miss Trunchbull was sleeping on a chair with the chocolates in her lap. Matilda thought maybe she could use a spell to bring it to her, so she flipped through the book until she found the spell that was called “flying items” that must be the one! The spell said to think about the item flying and it will work, so she tried it and it worked! A chocolate came flying to her. The chocolate was almost as big as her, she took the chocolate and climbed back to her house.

After a month she had already eaten up the chocolate. Matilda decided to go back to Miss Trunchbull’s house. Up the beanstalk she climbed. But this time when Matilda stood on the window sill she saw that Miss Trunchbull hugged the box of chocolates very tightly. Maybe Miss Trunchbull got suspicious after a chocolate had disappeared. But that didn’t stop Matilda she decided to try her powers again. And it worked again, but this time she took the whole box with her. And down the beanstalk she went.

It took a year too eat up all the chocolate. And Matilda decided to go back to the land and try her luck. She climbed up the beanstalk, then climbed up to Miss Trunchbull’s window sill. There she saw that Miss Trunchbull had bought the most luxurious chocolate bar in the market, it was many big golden chocolates that looked delicious. And once again Matilda used her powers, but this time when Matilda took the chocolates from Miss Trunchbull’s hand Miss Trunchbull opened her eyes and looked right at Matilda. Miss Trunchbull started running after the chocolates that came flying to Matilda. When Matilda finally grabbed the box she stared running as fast as she could and Miss Trunchbull came running after her. And when Matilda started climbing down the beanstalk Miss Trunchbull climbed after her.

When Matilda got to the ground she took an axe and chopped at the beanstalk and down it tumbled and Miss Trunchbull died instantly.

After that Matilda sold the chocolates and got very much money to buy all the books she wanted. The End.

Masha And The Bear

Once upon a time it was a girl named Masha. And she lived in a house next to a forest. One day Masha's mom came into her room and said "Hi dear, granny is sick and need some bread and warm tea. Could you please go to her and give it to her?". "Sure" said Masha. But it is one thing that scares her. The forest. And granny lives in the forest.

One day long long time ago it was a little girl named Sarah. And she was taking a walk in the forest. What she didn't know was that it lives a bear in the forest that eat little girls and ate her up in one bite. Masha's brother told her that. But their mom said it wasn't true.

"Masha you have to go now, it's getting late," said her mom.

Masha put on her shoes and started to go. It wasn't scary first but while walking it was getting darker and darker.

While walking Masha couldn't stop thinking about granny. She felt so bad for her and wanted to make her happy. "I can pick out some flowers for her" said Masha in her mind. She saw a bush with beautiful flowers. So, Masha went to the bush and started to pick out the flower when she suddenly heard something behind her. She looked back and saw the bear. Masha started running and couldn't stop.

After running for a while, she saw a tree house. Masha thought it was her granny's house, so she got in the tree house and all the lights was off. The door closed behind her, she got scared and started to find a place to hide. While hiding she heard the bear growl loudly. He sounded very angry and started to tear the hole house down when he found Masha standing behind a door. Both got scared and started screaming. Masha realized that he was scared of her while it should have been the other way around, because he is a bear. The bear seemed to be kind and not dangerous. So, Masha went to him and tried to talk to him and make him calm. Masha and the bear got to know eachother and lived happily ever after.

The end.

The Evil Red Riding Hood

Stefani woke up to see she little brother, He was angry, and he was so annoying. He woke me up from my good lite sleep.

-Stefani where are my space thing.

Hie was talking about an evil bread, and yes, a took it but a going to give my principal that bread. I don't respawn to that because I was so tired. I get ready for school I pack my bag and the evil bread in my bag. And I get don and gets into the car. And son a was in the train station.

When a was waiting for the train, I see Sven standing there. When I was running to the train and, a don't have time to say hello to Sven. I trying to find him on the train, but I give up and wet to the train to stop. Wen a git out of the train I see Sven, so I screamed at him to see me.

-SVEN!!!!!! Her I'm am.

Sven look up at me and start to run and we give a big hag. We were outset the scary school. A show him the evil bread and told him that if we give the evil bread to the principal, He going to like us. Sven was happy because he wants to be the evil person on the world and if we give the bread, he going to like us and give moor scores. Wen we were walking to the principle we see our other friend.

-Hello say Stefani

Sven was waving to see. And she did to us, but when we were walking to the principal door its was open and the principal was gone. We start to Panic, but we close the door, so no one didn't see that the principal was gone, and we ask AI-2000.

Stefani- Have you see the principal.

AI-2000- Yes, in the basement.

When was starting to run to the basement, but when most have help. So, when we are asking are friend if she want to help us finding the principal, she says yes. And we start to go to the basement. When we were in the basement, we see a dirty thing on the floor, its most be him, so when falling the dirty things. And we se Böden It's a Swedish word but it must be Swedish. We say to him.

Stefani- Have you see the principal.

I ask him, end then Sven. But a start to thinking the dirty things on the floor look like red. And böden Was cover of red that's, men that de principal was eating of the böden but before a was told my friend that he eats the principal he, jumps to us. But we jump back and starts to fight and its was so hard. And when I see my tow friend in the grown, so a was eating my bread. And its not working, but a see that he was a feared so a say, if you don't want dis bread you go out of this school, and that was he did. And den a give my tow friend the bread that last of it. And its work this time, they stand so strong. We go app from the basement, and we didn't say anything to someone.

But why didn't the bread do me strong?

And why was böden afraid of the bread?

THE END.

The Two Little Pigs In Arendal And The Moving Snow Man

Once there was two little pigs. One older sister and one younger sister. The older sisters name is Elsa, and the younger sisters name is Anna. They live in a big castle in Arendal, because their parents are the queen and king of Arendal. But one stormy day their parents need to go to a big secret country in the West Virginia. Anna didn't know that Elsa got secret powers when she was born because for many years ago Elsa was playing with Anna with her ice power but she nearly kill Anna with her powers so she got help from a stone man who give her magic globes and save Annas life. Elsa is most in her room now days because she is scared to hurt anyone. Their parents have been away for a very long time now.

They got a letter, but it wasn't good news. Their parents have died in a storm. So now Elsa needs to become the queen. But she is so afraid to hurt Anna again, so she runs away but when she goes across the city her powers go on. Everyone thinks she is a monster and are trying to kill her. Anna runs after Elsa, but she can't reach her. All the people around Elsa are coming closer and closer. She is so afraid, so her ice powers go on and frozen a guy Infront of her. Elsa runs away from the village.

But Elsa didn't know that Anna was behind her all the time. Elsa starts to get tired, so she stops in the middle of the snowy forest. "Anna?" what are you doing here". "I can't leave you alone Elsa you know that". "But what if I hurt you, I'm a monster go home to Arendal". "I'm not going to leave you here in the middle of the forest. "Ok stay with me, but we need to build a shelter". They look around but just se trees, rook and a snow man, a snow man? The snow man is moving, he have se Anna and runs to her. "Hi I'm Olof and I like worm hugs". Anna and Elsa are looking at each other. "I'm Anna and this is Elsa, we need shelter do you know somewhere we can go"? Olof is showing them his home, but the problem is it just snow, so Elsa fixes it with some little ice. They go into the little house, but it already late so they need to go to sleep. But in the middle of the night, they hear a scream it's the people from the village. They have follow Elsa and Anna, to kill Elsa. Elsa, Anna, and Olof need to get away from the house before they break in. it's easy for the people to break in because it's just snow. Anna see a window and runs to it, Elsa and Olof is following her and they escape just than the house is falling apart.

They run in the forest, but Elsa gets lost in the forest, she screams for Anna but can't find her and Olof. She starting to panic, Elsa really needs Anna right now. Elsa hears footsteps behind her it's the people from the village, she runs away. She funds a mountain and runs up for it. Elsa is using her ice powers to make a beautiful ice castle.

In the meantime, Anna and Olof ran through the woods. Suddenly Anna stop running and fall apart on the ground. Olof tries to carry Anna because the people from the city is after them. They find a little house, but no one was there. Olof makes a fire in the fireplace and lay Anna behind the fire on the floor. Anna is waking up, but Olof is melting. Anna stops the fire to save Olof. Suddenly the house is on fire they look around for a window but can't see it. It's the people from the village that have starts the fire. Olof sees a window and he and Anna runs to it. They runs to the mountains. "Olof, the mountain is shaking". They runs for their lives runs up the mountains. Anna sees a castle. A snow castle. No, an ice castle. Its most be Elsa that have done that. Anna and Olof run to the castle. "Elsa where are you"? scream Anna. They se Elsa running into the castle and runs after her. "Anna, you find me, the people from the village is after you". "What, Elsa no they aren't after us". "They are coming get inside now".

The people from the village are screaming. But this time they can't break in. Elsas ice castle have saved their lives she isn't a murder she is a hero. But the people don't understand. So, for now they need to live in the castle forever.

The End

The Three Little Ducks

One time, three little ducks, Donald Duck, Fethry Duck and Gladstone Gander, decided that they were old enough to move from their grandma's farm and start to search for a new home. After dinner, blueberry pie and some strawberry juice that Grandma Duck had made, they started to pack their bags and went to bed, excited for their trip. The next day, Donald Duck, Fethry Duck and Gladstone Gander said goodbye to Grandma Duck and soon they started to walk. Every time they turned around to look at their old home, the further away it was.

They walked until midday. It was still warm and the sun hadn't gone down yet. They were all tired, so they sat down and started to eat the pie that Grandma Duck gave them before they left. They were supposed to eat half and save the rest for later, but Donald ate more than the others, so they started to fight about the pie, especially Donald and Gladstone. Soon the pie was gone and the ducks were so tired after all that fighting and eating, so they laid down and took a nap.

After the nap they went off again but by suppertime, Donald, who was always so lazy and slept all day, sat down and said: Stooooop! I can't go any further! I am to tired. Fethry and Gladstone tried to convince Donald to get up and start walking again but he just said no. One minute later he started to snore, so they left him there on the field and started to walk.

Donald woke up a bit later and realized that the others had left, so he sat up took, his things and started to build a house for himself. The only thing that he could see was hay so that's what his house had to be built of. It had gotten dark so he hurried a bit so he could go to sleep again. When he was done he took his bag, his hammock and went inside were hung it up and went to sleep again.

But a half an hour later he heard a "knock knock knock" on the door and a voice that said: Dooonaaald! Open the door! I know you're in there. Donalds blood ran cold. Oh no! Its Scrooge MacDuck. My uncle! "You know that you owe me money and yet you still ran away with your cousins!" Scrooge started to bang on the door again. "I don't owe you money, that's just a lie that you use to force me to work for you!" Said Donald, even if he knew that's a lie. Actually, he owed Scrooge a lot of money, almost a million.

"If you don't open the door by three seconds, I'm going to take my salt gun and I'll shoot and I'll beat and I'll drag you myself to my salt mine! And that's what happened.

Next morning, Fethry and Gladstone came back to check on their cousin. But what did they find? Donalds house was shot to pieces and the door was laying on the ground. They looked inside and saw that Donalds stuff was scattered everywhere. Fethry and Gladstone, trembling with fear, ran away as quickly as they could.

By midday, Fethry and Gladstone were exhausted and finally stopped running. They sat down and tried to catch their breath. Fethry looked around and saw a wood factory a few hundred meters away. He turned around to Gladstone and said: "You can go without me, I'm staying here." They said goodbye to each other and Fethry began to walk to the wood factory. When he got there he knocked on the door and waited patiently. Soon, a worker opened the door and asked: "What do you want?" Fethry explained that he really wanted to build a house and he wondered if he could get some wood, nails and a hammer. The worker said that if he would work there for a day, then he could get those things.

Fethry started working and many hours later he was done. But before he could sleep, he needed to build his house, so he took his things and started to build. Some more hours later, in the middle of the night, he was done and went to sleep immediately. But he only got to sleep for an hour before he later he heard a “knock knock knock” on the door and a voice that said: Feethryyyy! Open the door! I know you’re in there. Fethrys blood also ran cold. Oh no! Its Scrooge MacDuck. My uncle! “You have destroyed many of my stores and factories and yet you still ran away with your cousins!” Scrooge started to bang on the door again. “I haven’t destroyed any of your stores and factories, that’s just a lie you use to say to people so you can keep on using cheap material when you build!” Said Fethry, even if he knew that’s a lie. Actually, he had destroyed many of Scrooge stores and factories, almost ten.

“If you don’t open the door by three seconds, I’m going to take my salt gun and I’ll shoot and I’ll beat and I’ll drag you myself to my salt mine! And that’s what happened.

Next morning, Gladstone came back to see if his cousin was doing alright. But what did he find? Fethrys house was shot to pieces and the door was wide open. He looked inside and saw that Fethrys stuff was scattered everywhere. Gladstone, trembling with fear, ran away as fast as he could. But he stopped almost immediately because he remembered that Fethry and him had walked past a brick factory the other day. So he turned around and began to run to the factory.

Later he arrived and he knocked on the door. A worker opened with a smile on his face and said: “Congratulations! You're the hundredth customer this week so you win a full set of house builder-tools and a hundred bricks! He got his price and started walking to the perfect place were he could build his house. But he didn’t even have time to start before some workers came running at him. They told him that he also was the thousand costumer this month and the price was that they would build his house for him. Some time later the house was done and he went to sleep.

That night, Scrooge came to Gladstones house and knocked on the door and said: Glaaadstooone! Open the door! I know you’re in there. Gladstone woke up, put on his robe and opened the door before Scrooge could even say “If you don’t open the door by three seconds, I’m going to take my salt gun and I’ll shoot and I’ll beat and I’ll drag you myself to my salt mine!” as he said to the other two. “What do you want, uncle?” Scrooge, that was surprised that Gladstone managed to wake up so fast, didn’t say anything. But then he cleared his throat and said: I’m going to have a business with Rick Gold, a very rich business man, and I want you to sit in the restaurant that we are going to so you can bring me some of your legendary luck.” Gladstone thought for a while and finally came with an answer: No. “Why?” asked Scrooge. “Why would I? I don’t owe you anything.” “But if I free your cousins, can you do the job then?” asked Scrooge again. “No thank you, I’m fine.”

So Scrooge left, angry, and Gladstone went back to sleep again.

So now you know, Gladstone doesn’t care about his cousins so much, that he would do one little job to free them.

The end

The three little kittens

Once the three little kittens decided it was time, they left the fancy hotel and started trying to find a place with both flowers that Missie one of the three little kittens loved, a tent that Lucy one of the other kittens loved and a beach that Mimmi the last kitten loved. It should be a place with some kind of cottage where they could live, Mimmi thought that they could live there forever but Missie said that they would move from there after a couple of years because they would get tired of only eating things from the sea like fish and crabs. Their whole life's.

They walked long and everything was going good until the youngest kitten Mimmi was starting to cry because her feet hurt. She has been going 2 English miles. Her big sister Lucy said that they really need to go to take a break now.

Missie who still had a little bit of energy went to the forest that they were very close to. She took Mimmi in her arm and carried her into the forest that they found in the middle of the forest she put one thick blanket on the grass then she put Mimmi on the blanket and then one blanket over her. Mimmi was sleeping very soon. Missie wasn't a sibling to Mimmi and Lucy. Lucy found here two years ago crying in a playground. Both Mimmi and Lucy and Missie had been lost their parents in a terrible infection. Missie ran in the forest to try find some kind of lunch she didn't find any fish in the little lake. She was a little disappointed because she had ran so long but when she looked up in the sky she realized it "wait its still summer!" Missie sad she charred on the blueberry twigs and began picking up all the yummy blueberries. She also found a lot of chanterelles that they could cook in the pan that Lucy brought with her. She also brought some cheese and potatoes that they could eat with the chanterelles. Lucy went to the forest that Mimmi were sleeping in.

"Mimmi has anything happened you have been in there for one and a half hour!" Lucy said. "I kind of wants to stay here for one night at least " Mimmi said happily "No, Mimmi you are only five years old we will take you to a better place that we all love." " Please! I can come to you and Missie tomorrow. I can smell your paw steps, I will build a house out of sticks for tonight" "okay one night, I will cook lunch to us now and then you will get two plates of that to eat for tonight too, but please come to us on the morning tomorrow otherwise Missie is going to be so worried." They ate the lunch quickly so Lucy could find a way to find a good place before night. "bye bye, girls! I will go find you at 9 am tomorrow." Mimmi said.

Mimmi build a house out of sticks quite easy but when she had build it she heard someone, it was some kind of weird voice that sounded like the voice said, "I...want...to...eat...you" Mimmi got so scared that she could not even move. She herd the voice louder and louder and then she saw it, it was a long weird bear whit black fur and glasses. When Mimmi saw him, She started running, very fast. But when she looked back a couple of seconds after, he wasn't there, she slowly moved back and then she just slept because it was a little bit late and she had already eaten dinner. While Mimmi was sleeping. Lucy and Missie were on their way to find a please to live in. Suddenly Missie stopped walking, "we have been going so long, I cant even walk one more step, I will build a house out of stones for tonight" she said. Lucy wasn't the happiest about that, "actually it,s enough if you and Mimmi wants to build houses out of boring things in a boring bad forest, you can do it, I will walk by myself to find a nice place to live in, bye!!!" Missie think about Mimmi what would she say when She comes back and her sister isn't there,

When Mimmi came back the next day her and Missie went to go find Lucy and a place to live in.

The big grey wolf

You have all probably heard the story off the so called little red riding hood. But do you actually know the real story, what really happened and what the big scary wolf actually thought, was he really evil or just another victim...

The wolf had been in this awful forest for almost 5 months now unable to go home. He had heard some humans from the little village outside the forest talk about this place and calling it Bunny's wood. But now all the rabbits were of course gone, he had eaten them all. When you hear this, you might think he sounded evil? But really, he had eaten them because he refused to eat anything else. He didn't want to be a monster like his father. But he was so hungry, so when he heard the loud happy little steps only a few meters away he couldn't help it.

The little steps turned out to belong to this little girl with a basket full of sweets and a very red riding hood. "Where are you of too little girl?" he asked just barely keeping himself from attacking her. "To my granny's, the strange little girl said. "It's the first cottage you come to at the end of Bunny's Wood. Granny's not very well and my name is not little girl, its Little Red Riding Hood."

"Sorry" he said amazed by the little girl who weren't scared of him. "I didn't know. Tell you what why don't you run ahead and tell granny you're on your way? And little girl, don't stray off the path, will you? We don't want anything to happen to you before you get to granny's do, we?"

The wolf ran off his thoughts being all over the place. He didn't know what to do, he didn't want to hurt anyone he really didn't but when he had talked to the little girl all he could think about was to eat her. He also knew there was a hunter only a hundred meters away who might come to the little girl's rescue. Suddenly he got an idea. And ran off to knock on the old granny's door.

About ten minutes later. He heard little steps outside of the door and panicked.

When the little girl came in unknowingly of that he just eaten up her granny, he was for some reason laying in her granny's bed, in her granny's night cap and glasses.

When you hear that you might think that he really is a monster, but he just didn't know what else to do. And while this might sound awful the granny probably didn't have long to live but he and the little girl did wasn't that more important?

Okay back to the story! "Put the things down there," he said his voice shaking a little, "then snuggle up to me, my darling."

The little girl put down her basket of sweets on the bedside table. But she didn't move any closer. She seemed not to trust him.

"What great hairy arms you have, granny!"

"All the better to hug you with, my darling!" he said kind of worried.

"And what great big ears you have, granny!"

"All the better to hear you with, my darling!"

And they kept going like that for probably five minutes before the wolf kind of just lost it scared that the little girl would run out to the hunter and later shoot him. So, he threw of the itchy blanket, jumped out of bed and swallowed the little girl whole.

But when he turned around, he saw someone in the door the hunter holding a big gun and shooting him in the head.

Now you probably know what happens. The brave "not actually a woodcutter" saves the day with cutting the wolf tummy open and helping the little girl and her granny completely unharmed like in a fairytale. In reality they were both kind of hurt with some weird liquid all over them but that's a story for another time.

Because what you didn't know is that the big scary wolf wasn't any ordinary wolf, he was a werewolf forbidden to enter his human form until he took a human life a task he still hasn't succeeded to do. So, a few hours later the wolf named Jack woke up with a terrible headache but completely healed.

The End.... for now...

rebootcard but... it was a trap the sweat had a trap prepared and now only Peely could reboot them.

THE THREE LITTLE DEFAULTS

Once three defaults Jonesy, Fishstick and Peely decided it was time to move out. They all were going to build their own home to get 0 input Delay and get better fps. The very next morning they packed their things kiss their mother goodbye and left to farm mats. They farm all day long until they had five hundred material Jonesy had 500 wood material, Fishstick had 500 brick material and Peely had 500 steel material. They decided to build their own home at Fencing fields.

Jonesy build with he's wooden material he cranked some 90's up into the sky until he only had 100 materials left then he used his last material to build a lovely wooden house to live in. Tho Jonesy build a lovely house it was a little to advance for Fishstick he only house it was a little to advance for Fishstick he only wanted a basic house so he build all night some hours in his basic brick house was complete.

Now it was just Peely left to build his home. But meanwhile a sweat pulled up to Jonesy's home the sweat wanted to take Jonesy down he sprayed with his Smg and did a headshot with his Pump shotgun then Jonesy was knocked and died his brother Fishstick running to Jonesy's home to get his

But Peely didn't know that his brothers needed help because he was building his first home its was big as a castle but 1 hour after he was done with his home, he heard something. A loud bang of a player that tried to Pickaxe into his build. But Peely wasn't as bad as his brothers and he full box him and full piced him and got the elimination.

Some time later he rebooted his brothers and lived a happy life together in Peelys home.

THE END

FanFiction

(Jack and the beanstalk + Alice in wonderland)

There were once two poor sisters. The youngest one was named Alice, she was a curious kid. One day Alice got an idea, she was going to sell all the boring books they had. Without her sister knowing. Of course. So Alice walked to the market. On the way to the market a man stopped her.

He said, -Hi little girl, would you like to trade those books for these beans.

Alice said -Hi stranger, I don't know. I really need the money for these books.

The man said -But these beans aren't normal, they are magic beans.

-Well in that case. Alice said -Here are the books, Now give me those magic beans.

Alice skipped home happily to her sister and told her everything. Her sister went ballistic. -Why would you do that!? her sister said and took the beans from Alice hand and threw the beans out of the window. Then she sent Alice to her room without supper. Little did Alice know what was going to happen the next day. The next day when Alice woke up she didn't see the sun because something was in front of it. Outside the window was a big fat green beanstalk.

-Alice come here to see me eat breakfast because you are not going to eat breakfast with that behavior yesterday, her sister yelled.

Alice thought quickly and jumped out of the window and ran as fast as she could to the beanstalk and started climbing. The higher she got the more curious she got. As she climbed, she had time to think about what might be at the top. Maybe heaven or hell. She slowly started to see the top. When she got to the top she saw another county where everything was much larger. Across the fields was a very big castle with a very small door. When she knocked on the door no one answered so she knocked again.

- Ouch! Some one yelled

- Who said that!? Alice responded very scared. She thought that maybe a ghost had said that.

- Look down, said the voice again.

Alice looked down and there was the door but there was something different with the door It had eyes and a mouth. When she understood that the door was talking she was very confused and forgot to say sorry to the door. She just simply asked

- Did you talk mr door?

-Yes, you Imbecile human, he responded angry.

Once upon the time a little girl named Matilda lived in house with her mom, dad, and brother. One day her mother came to her room when she was reading a book and spoke.

“I’m so tired of you! I’m so tired of you just sitting with that book day in and day out.”

Matilda looks up from the book and look at her mother.

“Go out and give this to your grandmother and take the long way so you don’t come back so fast.” Said she’s mother and go back to the TV. Matilda looked down into the basket and saw 20 rosehip soups and 30 chocolate puddings, these were her grandmother's favorite things in the world after TV. When Matilda took her jacket in the hallway, her brother came with an iPad centimeter from his face. He walked by and grabbed a chocolate pudding without even looked up from the iPad.

“No, it’s not to you!” said Matilda and take the chocolate from her brother. She was about to leave when her father came to the hall.” Where are you going? Little girl.” He asked with a wicked smile. Matilda replied she was going to grandmother with food. “Ooo but then you should have the blue cloak she sewed for you. He took it down from the shelf and put it on Matilda and still have the wicked smile.

Outside it was very good weather, the sun shining and the leaf’s on the trees was colored green. Matilda took the long way like her mother said. On the way she met the librarian who was on her way to the library. Matilda said Hello to her, and they went to the library together. The librarian Susie was almost like Matildas best friend and had short grey hair and big round glasses. It creaked under her feet’s when she stepped on the branches that lay on the path.

Matilda loved to be on the library, she always sit and reading book after book and her mother cant say anything. Now she sat next to Susie and read Harry Potter.

After an hour it come a big ugly lady to the library. Susie stood up and go to the lady. When the lady looked at Matilda. Matilda saw it was that principal from the school she was going to start at. Her name was miss Trunchbull.

“Hello. You are Matilda huh? Said miss Trunchbull with the same wicked smile like her dad.

“Y-yes I am” said

The Three Little Spooky

Once three little spooky, Bluey, Pinky and Orange decided it was about time they left home and found their own place to live. That very morning, they packed up their things. They knew where they were going, but they knew Pac Man was out hunting. They walked a small path then through a forest and then across a meadow. Same morning takes Pac Man up the lunch bag and going out hunting.

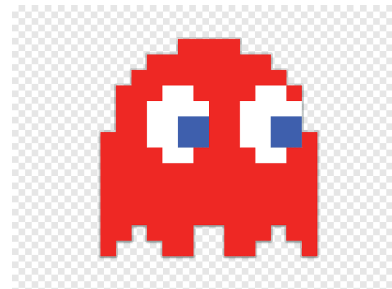

“But we haven’t got anywhere yet!” His two brother said. “What are you going to do for a house?”

They were next to a field full of cookies. “I’ll build a house out of cookies,” says bluey. Then continued as a small path. Then they came to another field full of cherries. “I’ll build a house out of cherries.”

The last spooky want to build from bricks but where would they find it. when they were on their way to their place, they passed the wolf's house. the wolf was of course not at home because he was out hunting. at the edge of his house there were some bricks, "it seems to be abandoned here so I'll take them" says Orange.

When they got to their place, they started building, it took three days for everyone to finish building.

Same day noticed Pac Man that his bricks was gone.

The Little Red Leather Jacket

Granny lived not so far away, but to get to her you had to walk across the Brooklyn bridge and through some small streets where nobody hadn't really been even though they are usually crowded.

“ Little Red Leather Jacket! ” her mom called. “ Granny is still not feeling very well can you go give her this purse, I put some food in it. And please wear the leather jacket she gave you on your birthday. ”

So, Little Red Leather Jacket put on her jacket and went to take the purse. “ Sure mom I will go give her the purse, but did you possibly put an extra slice of pizza in there? ” asked the Little Red Leather Jacket. “ Yes, I did but leave some for granny to okay. And don't forget to take the path through those streets and no short cuts. You know what I am talking about. ” said mom. “ Of course I will. You know I'm not going to take the shortcuts. ”

Once she got across the Brooklyn Bridge and a little into the streets she heard a weird noise, she thought she had heard that kind of sound before, but it sounded a bit different. And she hasn't seen any rats, yet which was a bit weird, and she did not feel so safe, but she kept on going meanwhile she was thinking about the sound that she had heard before.

She heard the sound again and it felt like it was coming closer, she saw a fast shadow running through the different skyscrapers and the modern houses. When she saw it again, she thought she recognized the shadow from the news but she wasn't sure. When she saw it a third time, she thought that it was enough and started screaming. “ I know that you are here, come out its enough! ” she didn't see or hear anything even though she knew that something was there. She continued walking. After a few minutes she heard it again now she had enough. She started looking around and then she saw it. It was an oddly big rat, like a big one. The little girl had never seen a rat that big, in fact she had never seen an animal that big in her whole life. She was amazed about the humongous rat that she was seeing. “ Umm hi, she said. Oh, wait am I going crazy rats can't talk and they can certainly not be that big right. ” she whispered to herself.

“ Hello little girl what are you doing out here all by yourself? ” the weirdly big rat asked. “ I am going to see my grandmother she lives not very far away from here. ” she could hear it herself that her voice sounded very scared and that's because she was truly very scared. " Alright so where does your mother, I mean grandmother live in what direction?" the rat asked. The Little Red Leather Jacket was really scared, and she really didn't want to upset the rat so she hurried up and answered the rat as fast as she could. " You must only follow this street and you will see a little modern house." she said " Okay see you soon. Oh, I mean we will probably run into each other again on your way home." the rat said. " Alright bye" she said. The rat ran away as fast as he could, the little girl could sense that something was wrong, but she ignored it.

About 15 minutes later she arrived at granny's house and knocked on door. " Who is it?" the wolf asked. " It's me The Little Red Leather Jacket, I brought a purse with some of your favorite food." she said

" Come in! don't stand out there in the cold." said the wolf, the little red riding hood went in and saw that something was wrong with Granny right away.

" What big ears you have granny!" she said

" All better to hear you with, my darling" said the wolf

" Well what big hairy arms you have, Granny" she said

" All better to hug you with, my darling" the wolf said

" And what big white teeth you have, Granny" she said

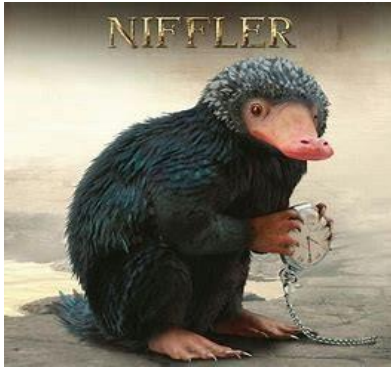

" All better to eat you with, my darling." With that the wolf got so excited that he couldn't contain himself any longer. He threw the bedsheets aside, jumped out of the bed and swallowed the Little girl whole, headfirst. With that done the rat felt happy and went back to sleep.

But unfortunately for the rat he was a very loud snorer. A passing huntsman heard him snoring and decided to come in and see what was happening. " I've been looking for you for months now and I finally found you." he cried. And he hit the wolf with his axe and very carefully helped the little red leather jacket and Granny out, thankfully none of them were hurt and came out safely. Granny had now seen all the food that the little red Leather jacket brought for her and swallowed everything as fast as she could. After that the little girl promised to never get tricked again. And as she was on her way home, she saw all the other animals come out of their hiding spots. " What a funny afternoon it has been," she thought.

THE END

an old man living in a big white house in the village ahead that had to many shimmery things for his own best and that he wanted the nifflers to take some of them. He explained how they were supposed to get into the big white house, and they could take so much gold and diamonds they wanted.

The Tree Little Nifflers

Once there were three little nifflers that loved all shimmery things. But, they did not own any shimmery things, so they decided to walk to the nearest village and ask for some. So, they packed their bags full and set off early in the morning and walked all day. Then they set up tent and slept through the night.

In the morning one of the nifflers heard a weird sound that he never had heard before, it was a pinging sound. Like the sound of gold hitting gold, so he sneaked outside to see what that sound was. And when he saw where the sound came from his eyes became as big as tea plates. It was a handsome wizard that were dressed from head to toe with gold and shimmery things! Immediately he rushed into the tent and waked his friends and told them about the handsome wizard and about all the shimmery things he had, so in almost no time they were outside and running to the wizard and asking him about his gold and where he got it. The wizard got a sneaky twinkle in his eye when he told them that there were

The nifflers thanked the wizard and began walking towards the village and the big white house. When they arrived at the village, they immediately began looking for the house. And it was not hard to find it, because it was in the middle of the village. The nifflers looked at each other and then they looked at the house again, it felt like the house transformed into a monster that wanted to spit fire at them. And they got scared even if it just were their imagination. But after a minute or two they had gathered all the courage they needed to climb into the small window at the back of the house just like the golden wizard had told them to.

When the tree little nifflers had climbed through the window they were in a room full of shelves, and on the shelves, there were displayed rows of well-polished gold. The nifflers began emptying the shelves as fast as they could and put all the gold in their pockets, they wanted to take all the gold they could find before the wizard in the house would wake up. The golden wizard had told the nifflers that the wizard in the house did not like visitors so the nifflers hurried as much as they could.

When the little nifflers had gathered as much gold as they could hold, they climbed out of the window and hid in a tree just like the golden wizard had told them. And after the sunrise they climbed down the tree and began to wander home to their nest with their pockets foul of gold.

Their nest was warm and cozy with blankets and pillows everywhere. But the tree little nifflers had lived there for three years and wanted to build their own nests. So, they split the gold fair between each other, and said goodbye.

The first niffler decided to build its nest in a tree and decorate the tree in gold, so that everyone could see how many shimmery things he had. The other niffler decided to hide his treasure deep, deep in the ground so that no one could steal it. But he would brag about it to all his friends. The third niffler decided to hide and did not let anyone know that he had any gold, but he had to live in loneliness.

In the big white house, the wizard in the house - Phineas Nigellus Black – had just begun to destroy his last pillow with an ancient sword because he was so angry. He had sent out his house elves to go look for his gold just after he had noticed that his gold had been stolen. And he was just about to destroy a chair he heard a sudden “poff!” witch in this case was one of his house elves that had teleported and hopefully had some news about his stolen gold.

The Three Little Fortnite Players

Once upon a time there was a Fortnite trio, one day they decided to play a trios game. The trio was hiding in a bush when they checked their maps they noticed the storm was creeping in and they needed to move or they would be lost in the storm.

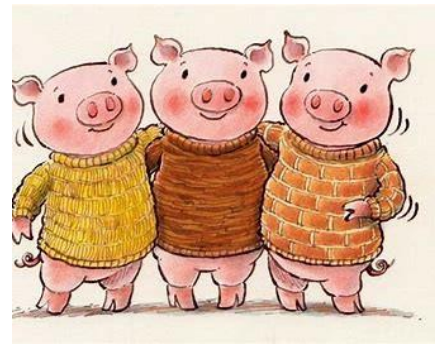

So the trio decided to take the long way around as they were not very good at the game and they walked and walked until one of them said "We haven't got anywhere yet" then one of them said "I'll build a box out of wood" then two of them went out to collect mats (materials) so he stayed in a box until he spotted some players approaching and his blood ran cold because he was all alone. The players started smacking at his wall and telling him to let them in. He knew they weren't friendly so he said in his toughest voice "I will never let you in" "we know your alone and we will get you"

The other players came back after that and what did they find they found loot on the ground where the box used to be. So they ran away as quickly as they could. Soon they stopped running. With the mats they had collected they could build a nice and strong box so nobody could get in. What happened to their teammate can never happen to them.

Then someone started smacking on their box. Then they heard a voice "please let me in my hp is low and I need heals" now they know what happened to their teammate. "you're never getting in here you can't fool me" "then I'll break down your box and I will get you, it will be the end of YOU!" And it was. The third teammate went to see his teammate and he found all his teammates belongings where the box used to be.

The pig thought to himself: what did me and my teammate pass by when we collected materials. Oh right Hazy hillside. So he ran as fast as he can to collect enough to build a box.

The next night the player heard a voice: "I'm a friend of your teammates let me in your pretty box." "You're never coming in, I promise you." The third teammate shouted. "Then I'll break your box down and come and send you back to the lobby." The other player stepped back and swung as hard as he could at the box. But the box was built out of brick and stood strong. He continued swinging at the box, but it didn't move one bit. Then the player jumped up on the roof and started swinging at the roof but the player had thought about this he had set a trap. The player was quickly downed by the trap, and from the loot came his teammates reboot card (A card dropped from your dead teammates used to bring your teammates back from a reboot van.) And rebooted his teammates and they were back together and believe it or not the three little Fortnite players actually won that game and they lived happy together ever after.

The Three Little Controller Players

Once upon a time there was three little controller pros who decided it was time to stop bushcamping and build a base of their own. There was no time to waste. The very next zone they decided to pack their guns and healing into their backbling and went along the path.

They rotated to Rebels roost and decided to stop to eat their flowberries and take a break. After another storm circle closed by, they decided it was time to start moving, but Reet felt too tired to rotate any further so he decided it was time for him to build his base. They were next to the big forest by Rebels roost where there was a lot of wood. "I will just build my house out of wood" said Reet with a confident voice. Moneymaker and Mero just shook their shoulders and went along the path. The rest of the zone he worked on his base. He used his pickaxe to take down the trees and built a base out of the wood he had farmed. A few minutes after he had built his base someone knocked on the door. "I'm one shot please let me in so I can heal," said a deep voice. Reet's blood ran cold. He had never been in a fight before. "You're not coming in here" Reet said with a scared voice. "Then I will destroy your base with my pickaxe" said Bugha with the same deep voice. And that's exactly what happened.

The next zone Mero and Moneymaker needed to rotate back to Rebels roost where they found all of Reet weapons and heals. The same second they saw his things they ran for their life. Moneymaker and Mero ran all the way to Lavish Lair and decided to take a short brake because they were exhausted. When Mero decided it was time to move Moneymaker thought it could be a good place to build his own base. Mero said to Moneymaker that he needed to be safe and after that he went away. Moneymaker saw that it was a lot of brick houses nearby that he could farm to get bricks for his base. He switched from his shotgun to his pickaxe and started to break all the houses. Moneymaker farmed for the rest of the zone and built his base out of the bricks he had farmed. A short while after he had built his base he heard someone knock on the door. "please let me in so I can heal I'm one shot" said Bugha with the same deep and dark voice.

Moneymaker froze, now he knew what happened to his teammate. "you don't fool me" said Moneymaker with the most confident voice he could. "you're not coming in here by any chance" said Moneymaker a bit more confident now. "Then I will destroy your base with my pickaxe" said Bugha with a laugh "And that'll be the end of you" And it was.

The next zone Mero went back to see if his teammate was still alive. He went to Lavish Lair just to find all of Moneymaker's belongings scattered across Lavish Lair. Mero just froze, what if the player that killed his teammates was nearby. Mero thought about running away but then he remembered that he had seen a pile of metal nearby. He ran to the small pile of metal and decided that this was the perfect place for his. He built and cranked and small box with metal he had found. A while after he heard a knock on the door. "Please let me in I'm one shot" Said Bugha with his most deep voice. Now Mero knew what happened to his teammates. "I'm not scared of you" Said Mero with a cocky voice. "Then I will Destroy your base with my pickaxe" Said Bugha with a big smile. Bugha started to pickaxe Mero's base, but Mero was ready. He took out his shotgun and 200 pumped Bugha. Mero celebrated by dancing his favorite emote and then decided to reboot his teammates. They then won the game and The three little controller pros lived happily ever after.

bush, it was a ginormous figure with strong muscles working under its skin but it ran kind of slow.

Rubrik

Thunderclan wasn't far away, but to get there you had to go on a far walk around the dark forest. Why not go through it? You may ask, well long long ago you could but not anymore. You'll see why in a moment.

"Smudge!" Ravenpaw called, he sould've been called 'RavenWing' by now, but his friend made him leave the clan thinking it was the best for him, and it was. Now he lives happily with Smudge in an abandoned twolegged's barn.

When Smudge eventually came, he looked at him confused "what is it?" he asked. "Thunderclan dosen't have much prey right now and since we have overload FireStar asked us for some" RavenPaw gave him some fresh kill wrapped in a big leaf and Smudge nodded then turned away. RavenPaw had been sick lately and couldn't go even Tho he usually went, this was Smudge's first time going through the woods.

"Don't forget to always stay on the path!" he shouted after smudge was out the door.

Smudge went out the door and on the path, it was beginning to darken and he thought Why not go through it? It can't be that bad.. even tho RavenPaw had told him not to, what could happen?

He looked back to make sure RavenPaw didn't see him going into the dark forest, it was called so because even if it was a fire there it was still dark inside, you never knew what could be lurking in there.

When he went in, he suddenly noticed that he stepped in a black liquid, thinking it only was some mud he continued to walk in towards the middle. When he reached the middle he laid down taking a break and now his whole body was soaked in the black liquid when he heard something in the bushes and suddenly something jumped out of the

Smudge jumped up with his pray in the leaf and ran as fast as he could to Thunderclan but somehow the figure was not far behind

The three little Fortnite kids

Once upon a time three little Fortnite kids needed to rotate into the zone. They had much time as the storm wasn't even close to them. Once they were in the zone they were shitting on everyone, taking out players one by one. In the end game right after they killed a bot named AtomicLowLif there were only 4 players left, the three little kids quickly built up. One kid used wood, another used brick and the last kid used metal. As i said there were only 4 players left so it wasn't hard for the kids to find the last player. They shot down his builds and cracked his shield, but he was smart so he shockwaved to the kid with wood, shot down one of his walls and 200 pumped him in the head. Then he built up to the kid with brick, took one of his walls and sprayed him down. But when he tried to take down the last kid he got shockwaved into the storm and died.

The Little Red FishStick Hood

Once upon a time there was a boy named Fishstick. Everyone used to call him Little Red Fishstick Hood because his grandma gave him a red hood when he was little. One day Fishsticks grandma was very sick so Fishstick decided to rotate to his grandmas cabin in Wailing Woods to give her some heals. When Fishstick started rotating to Wailing Woods he saw another player. The player seemed friendly so Fishstick Didn't mind him so he stopped to talk. "So where are you rotating?". "Im rotating to my grandmas cabin in the deep forest of Wailing Woods. Then the wolf said why don't I go to your grandmas house to tell her that your are on your way. Little Red Fishtsick hood didn't really mind so he said "Ok" and the two went their different ways. While little red fishstick hood made his way along the path, stopping every couple of minutes to pick some shield mushrooms, the wolf took a short cut. He knocked at granny's door. "Who is it" the little old lady called. The wold disguised his voice. "Its me, Little red fishstick hood, I've brought some good things for slurpjuice." "The door is open" grandma said. Then the wolf swallowed her whole. Ten minutes later little red fishstick hood knocked on grannys door. "Who is it?" the wolf called softly. "come in." "Ok" little red fishstick hood said and walked in. The wolf laid in the bed with grandmas clothes on. "what great big hairy arms you have, Granny" little red fishstick hood said. "All better to hug you with" the wolf replied. "What great big eyes you have" little red fishstick hood said. All the better to hear you". "And what great big teeth you have, granny. "All better to eat you with, my darling!". The wolf was so exited that he couldn't stop himself to eat up Little red fishstick hood so he ate him in one bite. The wolf took a nap but just 1 minute later a duo pulled up and pickaxed him and little red fishstick hood and granny just popped out of the wolfs belly. "Thank you so much" little red fishstick hood said. "Lets eat the heals little red fishstick hood brang" grandma said, and everyone lived the rest of their lives happy with the victory royal and crown win.

The big Mello surprise

Once a upon a time it was a girl named Emma. Emma and her mum is going to by candy and tacos because it's mello time tonight at her grandmothers place. Mum told Emma to put on her jacket and shoes so they can go and by candy and taco stuff at the supermarket in town. They go out to the car and drive to the supermarket and on the half way they heard a bang and mum got nervous and drove to the side. Mum got out of the car and it turns out that the car deck was punctured. Mum called a salvor and the salvor said "I will pick up the car in twelve minutes". When the salvor had picked up the car mum and Emma called a taxi to go back home again. When they came home they called grandmother and told her that they couldn't come because the car had a puncture and that's way they haven't shopped tacos and candy for tonight. But grandmother said "come over anyway I have a surprise for you". So then they put on there clothes and went to grandmother. They knocked on grandmothers door and grandmother opened the door and said " Oh I missed you booth so much". When they walked through the door they see a table full of taco and candy. Later in the evening they have eaten all the food and sit in the sofa and watch Mello and eat candy.

The End

The three little ghosts and bad bad grave explanation

Ghosts are soap price and ghost they are the god side of the cod franchise and the good guys the all are men in the task force 141 an elite military unit.

Graves is originally a good guy but turned up he lost some nukes on a delivery mission to the bad guys. His drive is an AC130.he tried to kill ghost soap and price but failed.

What is an AC130?

An Lockheed AC-130 - Wikipedia is an American plane/gun ship,reed more on Lockheed AC-130 - Wikipedia what's an 135mm cannon with explosive ammunition.

135mm is an super big bullet/cannon.

Explosive ammunition are bullets that explode on impact.

Big red junker hood

When junker queen put on her big red hood on. Junker mommy came and asked if junker queen could take some cookies to old junker granny.

"Of course I'll take some cookies to granny."

"Thank you my dear, granny is a little sick she was in a brutal and bloody comp match yesterday. They were about to lose but plasma came and carried to the victory."

And then junker hood tuck the basket of cookies and was on the way to granny. On the way she was met by Tylon the group of the worst thieves in history of overwatch. She saw the ship land right in front of her.

When the doors opened there, he was the leader of Talon, Doomfist he is as fast as Tracer, as strong as Maouga, and as smart as Zenyatta. She thought for herself.

"Junker hood we are here to invite you to talon."

"No? you have no choice in this."

And then sombra the best hacker in the world, Maouga with his two miniguns and super big muscles. Came out of the ship.

Doomfist says then you'll have to fight all of us.

"ok"

Plasma plays as junker hood in a 1 vs 3.

They play on the map Ilios, Santorini greece and sombra hacks her own body to go invisible and get a speed buff.

So, she can flank junker hood while Doomfist takes the highground. And then Maouga tanks the damage. The match starts and junker hood/plasma knifes Maouga and goes to the hole in the middle of the map.

And drags in the knife to drag Maouga in the hole and. Then he died.

but She heal herself with her healing passive. When she inflicts damage with her axe or her knife. So now it's a 1 vs 2 but junker hood still couldn't heal herself to max HP.

So junker hood/plasma thought to go to a health pack. But with his amazing game sense. Plasma thought that sombra had already hacked all the health packs on the map. But then sombra tuck of her invisibility and hacked junker hood. And through her virus on her. But junker hood landed a shot on her but was broth down to 267 hp. But she saw a little health pack that wasn't hacked. So, she used an ability called roar and it gives over health and a speed buff to both fire rate and walking speed. So, she makes a run for it Doomfist shotes at her. but the over health tanks a lot of damage, so she gets to the health pack, so she has 342 health. But she is in a bad spot sombra tries to hack her but junker hood cancels the hack. And through a knife at sombra and dragged her so she could use her axe to kill sombra. But Sombra used her translocator to get away. But plasma had planned this beforehand, so he used roar and followed sombra. Sombra went invisible but junker hood planned this all out she did a 180 and shot sombra. And she died Plasma starts to dance because she killed sombra. But then doomist punched junker hood into the hole this was not anticipated bye plasma, so he wasn't ready he got launched in the hole. And stunned from the punch but. With his amazing reflexes he knifed doomfist, so he got dragged in the hole, so plasma jumped on doomist's head he used his ability to leap but plasma was on his head, so he didn't move. But plasma cud jump again and come out of the hole, victory. Plasma didn't even react because he was so good. She spawned and was on her way like nothing happened.

She got to junker granny's house

Little red driving hood

Granny lived not far away, but to get to her village you had to walk through årsta fälltet (through no one had seen a rabbit there for ages – you'll see why in a moment) "little red cap hood" her mother called. "granny's still ot very well. Put on your makeup and the pretty red driving hood she made for your birthday. Then pop over with this custard tart and pot of pancakes I've got ready for her coffee."

So little red driving hood slipped on her cloak, and she put on her jacket and left.

"Remember to keep to the path in" årsta fälltet" her agent called after her.

"of course, mummy"

Little red driving hood called back.

"I always do."

She was only a little way inside the wood when there was a noise in the bushes and out onto the path jumped a great big creepy man. Little red driving hood nearly dropped her Gucci bag in fright, but actually the creepy man seemed quite friendly. "where are you off to little girl" he asked.

"to my granny's", Little red riding hood replied "It's the first villa you come to at the årsta fälltet. Granny's not very well. And my name's not 'little girl', it's little red driving hood"

"sorry" said the creepy man. "I didn't know. Tell you what-why don't I run ahead and granny you're on your way? And, little red driving hood don't stray off the path, will you? We don't want anything to happen to you before you get to granny's, do we?"

Off skipped the creepy man just in time! For around the corner was a sheep cutter nearby who might come to her rescue.

While little red driving hood made her way along the park in årsta fälltet, stopping every couple of minutes to pick candy and listen to music, the creepy man took a short cut. He knocked at granny door.

"who is it?" the little old man called.

The wolf disguised his voice.

"its me, little red driving hood. I've brought some good things for coffee"

"the door's on the latch my darling", granny called. And in went the creepy man. How hungry he was! He hadn't eaten for days. He shot granny whole, from her head to her feet.

About ten minutes later, little red driving hood knocked on granny's door.

"who" is it?" the creepy man called softly.

"Its me, little red driving hood".

"the doors on the latch, my darling," the creepy man called." Come on in".

For a moment little red driving hood hesitated. Wasn't there something funny about granny voice? Then she remembered that granny had a cold. She lifted the latch and in she went.'

The creepy man was lying in bed wearing the little old lady's nightie and nightcap and glasses. The sheet was pulled right up over his face and he'd drawn the curtains to make it nice and dark.

"Put the things down there," he said," then snuggle up to me, my darling".

Little red driving hood put the custard tart and jam down on the bedside table, but she didn't. get onto the bed right away. Something suddenly struck her.

"what great big hairy arms you have, granny!"

"All the better to hug you with, my darling!" the creepy man said.

"And what great big hands you have, granny!"

"All the better to make cookies to you, my darling!" the wolf said.

"And what great big eyes you have, granny!"

"All the better to see your whit, my darling!" the creepy man said.

"And what great big teeth you have, granny!"

"All the better to eat your whit, my darling!"

With that the creepy man was so excited he couldn't contain himself any longer. He threw the bedclothes aside, jumped out of bed and swallowed little red driving hood whole, head first. Then he felt so happy and full of people that he lay back and went to sleep.

Unfortunately for the creepy man, he was a loud snorer. A passing huntsman heard the snores. Thinking something was wrong with granny, he crept into the cottage. He saw at once what had happened.

"I've been looking for you for months, you wicked creature," he cried, and he hit the creepy man on the head with his axe handle. Then very carefully he slit the creepy man pocket open. Out popped little red driving hood and out popped granny! They were completely unharmed.

Granny saw the custard tart and jam she'd been brought for her coffee and, well, scary it down. Little red driving hood promised granny that she'd never be tricked by a creepy man again. As she skipped home, she noticed that the rabbits had come out of hiding and årsta fälltet was full of trees again.

"what a funny afternoon it's been," she thought.

first villa you come to at the end of Årsta fältet. Granny's not very well. And my name's not little 'little girl', it's little red driving hood.

Little red driving hood

Granny lived not far away, but to get to her village you had to walk through Årsta fältet (though no one had seen a rabbit there for ages-you 'll see why in a moment)

"Little red driving hood!" her mother called. "Granny 's still not very well. Put on your makeup and the pretty cap she made for your birthday. Then pop over with this custard tart and put jam on the pancakes and coffee."

So little red driving hood slipped on her cloak, and she put on her jacket and left.

"Remember to keep to the path in Årsta fältet" her mummy called her after.

"of course, mummy"

Little red driving hood

Called back. "I always do."

She was only a little way inside the wood when there was a noise in the bushes and out onto path jumped a creepy man. Little red driving hood nearly her basket in fright, but actually the creepy man seemed quite friendly. "Where are you off to little girl?" he asked. "to my granny's," Little red driving hood replied. "it's the

"Sorry," said the creepy man. "I didn't know. Tell you what – why don't I run ahead and tell granny you're on your way? And, Little red driving hood, don't stray off the path, will you? We don't want anything to happen to you before you get to Granny's, do we?"

Off skipped the creepy man- just in time! For around the corner was a sheep cutter. The creepy man hadn't kidnapped little red driving hood there and then because he knew there was a sheep cutter nearby who might come to her rescue.

While little red driving hood made her way along the path, stopping every couple of minutes to pick flowers or chase butterflies or listen to the birds singing, the creepy man took a short cut. He knocked at

Little Red Spidergirl

“Spidergirl!” her mother called. “Granny is still not well put on your cloak and the pretty red riding hood she made for your birthday then go to her with this cake and butter I’ve got ready for her tea.”

Spidergirl put on the cloak and the hood and set off.

“Remember to keep to the path in Bunny’s Wood!” Her mother screamed after her.

Spidergirl was only a little way inside the woods when she saw a wolf. He seemed quite friendly.

“Where are you off to little girl?” he asked.

“To my granny’s, she is not very well.”

“Sorry I didn’t know, why don’t I run ahead and tell granny you’re on your way?” The wolf skipped away-just in time! Because around the corner was a woodcutter’s house. If the wolf had eaten her there and then he might had come to rescue her.

While little red Spidergirl was on her way, plucked some beautiful flowers that smelled good and listened to the birds singing, the wolf was already at grandma’s house.

He knocked at grandma’s door and said in a disguised voice: “It’s me, little red Spidergirl, I’ve brought a cake and some butter for you!”

“Come in darling” grandma answered. The wolf went in and ate her in one bite!! The wolf put on grandma’s clothes and laid down under the bed warm bed sheets. Soon after little red Spidergirl knocked on the door.

“It’s me, little red Spidergirl!”

“Come in darling!” the wolf answered.

Little red Spidergirl went inside and saw the wolf lying in bed.

“Lay down next to me, my darling”

Little red Spidergirl snuggled up next to the wolf.

“What hairy arms you have, grandma!”

“All the better to hug you with!” the wolf said.

“And what big ears you have!”

“All the better to hear you with!”

“And big ears!”

“All the better to see you with!”

“And huge teeth!”

“All the better to eat you with, my darling!”

The wolf was so hungry he ate her in one bite! He was so full he went to bed again. Unfortunately, he snored LOUD and Iron man who was passing by heard him and crept into the cottage. He saw what had happened.

“I’ve been looking for you for months!!” Iron man punched the wolf hard in the head then he cut the wolf’s stomach open and out jumped little red Spidergirl and grandma. They thanked Iron man then they all ate the things little red Spidergirl had brought her.

The end

The three little football players

Once upon a time there was three little football players. The three little football players decided it was about time they left home and found their own place to live. That very morning, they packed up their football shoes and clothes, kissed their mother goodbye and set off.

They walked till midday. Then they sat by the road and ate half their sandwiches. After a nap they got up and set off again. They put on Hammarbys anthem song on max volume and started singing. By supertime the first football player felt to tired to go any further.

They were next to a field full of wheat that had just been cut.

“I’ll build a stadium out of straws”

The little football player said, He closed his eyes and went straight back to sleep.

When the first player woke up, the sun was sinking fast and the air was growing cold. And what was that dark hairy shadow in the woods?

Suddenly he wished he’d gone on with the others. But he set of to work, he gathered the straws and built his stadium.

At midnight there came a tapping at his door.

“little player, little player, let me come in,” a dark voice said. The little football players blood ran cold. Now he knew that shadow was a ref!

“you’re not coming in here, not a chance”

“then i’ll whistle and i’ll blow your stadium in!” the ref said. “And that will be the end of you.” And it was.

Next morning the other players came back. They went to look for the third player. There was no clues to where he went, he was gone...

By midday the two little players were exhausted and stopped running. The second little player began to think that they had reached a very nice spot. There was a pile of wood that a woodcutter had left, perfect for building a big strong stadium.

“whatever happened to the first football player can never happen to me,” thought the second football player. But that very night, as the clock struck twelve, there came a light tap at the door.

“little player, little player, let me come in”. a voice said softly. “I’m lonely and hungry, and I want a bite to eat.”

The little football players heart gave a thump. Now he knew what happened to his teammate. “REF! YOU DON’T FOOL ME!” “you’re not coming in here, not a chance” he cried.

“ then i’ll whistle and i’ll blow your stadium in!” the ref said. “And that will be the end of you.” And it was.

Next morning the third little football player found the wood stadium shattered to pieces and all his teammates possessions blowing in the wind. He began to run away but then he thought, what did my teammate and I pass down by the road yesterday? A BRICK FACTORY! Back he went and bought enough bricks to build a brick stadium.

That night the ref came whistling and tapping again. "I'm a friend of your teammates," he called. "little player, little player, let me come in" "little player, little player, let me come in" "you're not coming in here, not a chance" the third football player shouted. "then i'll whistle and i'll blow your stadium in!" the ref said. He drew a deep breath and blew the whistle with all his might. A wind that would have torn up the whole woods. But the walls stood firm because they were built by bricks. The ref huffed and puffed again and again, but only the doors and windows rattled. In a towering rage, the ref leapt up onto the roof and began to climb down the chimney.

But the third little football player had thought on this. He quickly built a roaring fire in the grate and put a huge pot of water on to boil. Instead of landing in the fireplace, the ref fell into the pot and was boiled up. His skin popped open and out jumped the little football player's teammates! The ref had gobbled them whole!

How happy the three little football players were to see each other again! Safe and sound, in the stadium built of bricks, they lived happily ever after.

The Three Little Bishops

Once upon a time there were three little bishops called Leshy, Heket & Kallamar. The three little bishops were on a mission to find a place to build their temples. The previous day they had said their goodbyes to their older sibling Shamura and set off into the unknown to find their new homes. After a few hours Leshy, the youngest of the bishops saw a place called Darkwood. When they were at the gate of Darkwood Leshy said farewell and headed for the old temple ruins to rebuild the temple with bushes.

In the middle of the night Leshy woke up because he heard noises and then a strange tiptoeing like the sound of a small animal trying to not awaken someone.

Leshy tried to go back to sleep but the tiptoeing only got louder and louder until he saw the shadow of the Lamb. He began to pack his bags but in the same moment he saw in the corner of his eye that the Lamb started to walk towards him and suddenly he could see that the Lamb had entered his temple in an attempt to murder him. He started to unpack his bags in thinking that he had packed his weapons, but he had not. The Lamb had heard the noise and was heading in a fast pace towards Leshy. Suddenly the Lamb slashed his throat and indoctrinated him to the cult of the Lamb.

Once Heket heard that her brother had disappeared she immediately thought to find a place to take shelter, but Kallamar reminded her why they had left Shamura in the first place. After a few more hours of walking Heket wished her brother luck and entered the gates into Anura. She was headed for a quiet part of the forest where she thought that the Lamb would never find her. After finding a place she liked the look of she started to collect mushrooms but while doing so she sensed an unusual presence, but she thought nothing of it since many creatures come and go as they please and continued to collect mushrooms. Once she had collected enough mushrooms, she started to build her temple-like mushroom, after a few more hours the sun was no longer up on the sky and Heket had gotten extremely exhausted, and she laid down to sleep on a big mushroom. While sleeping she heard tiptoeing and realized that the Lamb had found her, once she realized that she thought not to be like her brother and approached the Lamb.

“I will not suffer the same fate as Leshy, arrogant vessel.” She exclaimed.

“Soon you’ll join the rest of your kin in slaughter.”

But the Lamb did not join the rest of their kin, instead Hekets arrogance led her to the inevitable end of her bishopship and the beginning of the slave-like life in the cult of the Lamb.

The Three Little Footballers

Once upon a time there was three little footballers named Ronaldo, Messi and Neymar. They loved football. Their biggest dream was to be footballers. They lived together in a family but when they grow up, they had to live alone so they decided to build a house for their selves.

So, they did go from their home to find a place where to live. Ronaldo found a good place to build their homes, it's a big field with a football pitch inside of it.

They decided to do a deal who is going to do the best house wins, and if its gonna break down you must give one of your footballs that you have.

Neymar started to build his house with money, Messi started to build his house with his robbed ballon d'Or's and Ronaldo started to build his house with his all-scored footballs.

Behind the trees is Ramos standing and waiting until they gonna build done their homes.

When they were done, they saw Ramos was running to them then he said, "Can you let me in Neymar?" said Ramos.

"NO! GO AWAY FROM MY HOME!" said Neymar and was shocked.

Ramos was angry and started to kick his house it didn't work so he started to brexit and it fell down.

Neymar was feared of Ramos because he was very angry at him, and he ran in to the forest behind the football pitch.

Ronaldo and Messi were very worried about themselves and specially to Neymar.

Then Ramos followed Neymar and was ready to brexit him, so Ronaldo and Messi didn't know what to do, because they were feared of Ramos. So, Ronaldo had an idea that they could spy after Ramos then shoot some footballs at him so he is gonna hurt and fall, then they can hide his body in a river.

So, they took some footballs from their homes, then they started to follow and spy after Ramos. Ronaldo and Messi ran behind a tree and were ready to shoot him. Ramos was just walking around and searching for Neymar and then BOOM! BOOM! BOOOM! Ramos fell, Ronaldo and Messi were standing happy around him with a football in both of their hands.

HOORAY! we finally defeated Ramos, one of the scariest, aggressive defenders in the history of football.

Ronaldo and Messi took Ramos body and threw it away in a river. And when then they saw Neymar behind a tree, he was hiding of Ramos, but Ramos is dead, so Messi screamed happily at Neymar and said, Neymar! Come out we defeated Ramos it's safe now. Neymar looked around then came to Messi and Ronaldo happily.

Ronaldo and Messi were sad about Neymar's house because it was down so they helped to build him a new one with not money this time they build instead with all of his trophies. And then Ronaldo had a house with all of his scored footballs on his house, Messi had a house with his robbed ballon d'Or's on his house.

And Ronaldo, Messi and Neymar are finally happy, and started to play football together.

THE END.

Brexit - Ett sätt att tackla någon.

Ballon D'or- En guldbolls trofé.

There was a little boy named Carl he was on his way to the football pitch. On his way he met boys that were 16 years old and they said he was bad at football, and he never would be good at it. He got sad and ran away. In the end he had no energy, so he sat on a bench and took a pause to catch his breath. Then he remembered his grandfather said I believe in you before he died. He remembered he promised his grandfather to be the best football player in the world. The bullies know that he will return to the pitch, so they wait and wait till he turned up. In the end he turned up. The bullies saw him and challenged him to a match. He said "but you are 3 and I'm 1" they said shut up are you scared? He said no. they got to the little pitch and played. Carl nutmegged 1 of the bullies then he did a rainbow flick over the 2 bullies then he shot in the top corner and then did "siuuuuuuuuuuuuuu" a scout saw that and got impressed. The scout said he was from man utd and wanted him to come to train with them. 2 weeks later it was training time. He got his clothes on and went to the training. He got there. The coach smiled. When he saw him. After the training coach said he wanted him to start in the team. He got super happy.

It was time for his first match they were against man city. The match started and man city made an early goal. Then they did another goal. Carl got angry. Then it was half time. Carl's team said that they can't lose to a oil team. Then it was time for the second half. And Carl did a goal in the 48 minute. Then his teammate did 1 goal in the 87 minute. It was the 90 minute and it was 2-2. It was plus 5 minutes. It was 1 minute and man utd got a freekick and the coach said Carl was going to take it. He put the ball in front of him took 3 steps back and took a deep breath. He ran towards the ball and shot it. It was flying in the air and curved in the goal, and everyone screamed off happiness and ran towards him and jumped. 10 years later he was the greatest player of all time he had won 11 ballon d'ors and 6 world cup. Then it happened he got shot. On his way to the world cup. He walked to the pitch when he jumped off the bus BOOM all he was seeing was black and a beep sound.

THE END

The three little piggybanks

At home three little piggybanks who were very rich was chilling like usual.

Later they were going to the bank. That's where they work but the road there is extra dangerous today. A hammer is after to assassinate them and take their money.

Piggy bank one was thinking of a limousine, they do like it fancy. But the others said, "what if the driver is a fraud."

Piggy bank two was thinking the opposite, he was thinking about taking the subway, the hammer wouldn't expect that, but the others said, "are you stupid that is even more dangerous what if the train is unsteady and we break."

Piggy bank number three was thinking of disguise! "That might work." The other said. "But it is still risky."

So put they on disguises and started marching over to the bank. It worked half of the way, they even got coffee. Then suddenly they hear big hammering steps. The hammer came running after, running, and running yet Bob (the hammers name) was so close, then BOOM.

Porcelain everywhere. Money stolen. The hammer got to them and took their money and ran away. Bob is still on the lose crashing and mashing little piggybanks.

THE END

hour then he had to stop because the hyperspace was almost out. He went to the nearest planet and bought some more. But he met a strange robot that asked him where he was going and he answered truthfully tha

Little Red Max Rebo

Once upon a time in a galaxy far far away there was a blue elephant with a red cloak called little red Max Rebo. Max Rebo played in a band in Jabba the huts palace, he was the best pianist in the world. Jabba's grandma was verry sick and was in a galaxy far far away but Jabba was too lazy to go so he sent Max Rebo. So he took one of Jabbas ships that can go in to hyperspace. He started the ship and went in to space. As fast as he came in to space he started the hyperspace and drove for an

Little Red Spider Man

I was on my way to my grandma when I got a phone call from my friend Ned, he said that there was a fire in the woods near my grandma. I put on my red hood so no one could see my face. I ran in too my grandma's house, and I took my grandma out of it and flied away cause the police and fireman came and took out the fire. I took my grandma to an alley I little bit away and checked if she was okey. Then I left her and went home so no one could see me, when I was home I took of my hood and went home too my grandma. She told me what had happen and about spiderman. The next day I was on the news, they said that spider man saved a old lady from a fire in the woods, but they haven't find the person who did it.

The day after Ned said that they knew who set the woods on fire and that they were trying to find him. After school

THE THREE LITTLE SMURFS

One day the three little Smurfs named Smurf girl, the bespectacled Smurf and the muscular Smurf decided to leave old Smurf and their siblings. For them to explore the forest.

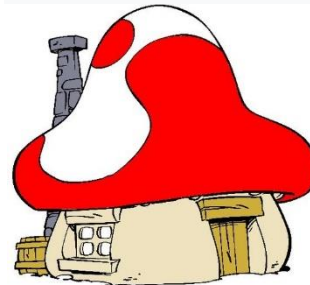

It was morning and the sun was shining. The three little Smurfs packed their bags which they then tied on the stick. Then they said goodbye to everyone and left the village.

They walked till midday, then they sat by the road and ate a little bit of their smurfberry. After a lunch break, they set off again.

They walked and walked until they found a perfect spot in the forest to start building their mushroom.

The first smurf named smurfan started to look for the perfect mushroom for her, and finally, she found it! A big chantarelle. The second smurf named muscle smurf started to find his mushroom, and he found a mushroom. And then the third Smurf named glasses Smurf also found his mushroom a fly agaric.

When the mushrooms were ready and newly built, the little Smurfs started to crawl into them and moved in.

But Gargamel had hurt from his cat Azrael, that three little Smurfs had leave the village. So, one morning Gargamel decided to go to the forest because he knew that the tree little Smurfs were there. The tree little Smurfs were so glad because this day they are going to explore the forest.

Gargamel and Azreal went to the forest because they were hungry and wanted breakfast. The Smurfs were in the forest and explore it.

Muscle Smurf was craving Smurfberries, so, he went and started picking some. He started picking and eating at the same time. But then he saw Gargamel! He was so nerves and started to be shouting. Gargamel were so hungry, so he started to run after the Smurf. Muscle Smurf were running to his siblings and lock into his mushroom. When he was up to his mushroom. Gargamel stepped on it so muscle Smurf run and hiding himself behind a stone. Then Smurf girl ran to her chanterelle but before she could enter Gargamel stepped on it. Then glass eyed Smurf ran to his mushroom but before he could get in Gargamel stepped on it off the ground and took a bite out of it!

Then Gargamel fell on the ground, and when he awakened, he was completely giddy. And when he rose himself the Smurfs where not there anymore. He was so angry and left home. To find out where the Smurfs were and take them! But the Smurfs had returned home to the village, there can Gargamel not take them.

THE END

The 3 little targets----Hitman

Once the three little targets decided it was time to leave their hideout and find their own new hideouts, they said goodbye to their assistants. They walked till midday then sat on the road and drank vodka. After a nap they started walking again. They found a field with some abandoned houses, one had a door that couldn't lock one had a door that could lock and one had a fully working camera system and a good door that could be locked and only unlocked with a key card. At midnight a wolf called 47 came and knocked on the door and said:

“Hey little target let me come in.”

“You are not coming in here.”

“I will break in if you don't open the door”

Next morning the other targets came back and found a abandoned house that stank dead body.

Coral Reef Buddies And The Zero Point

Once upon a time Benjy fishy decided to go on a walk with his coral reef buddies. When they were on the way home the coral reef buddies saw a mysterious orb known as the zero point. The buddies were curios and jump right into the zero point before Benjy fishy were able to stop them, but the buddies didn't know what danger that were waiting at the other side...

when the coral reef buddies exited the zero point, they saw a big monster that were frozen in polar peak called "the devourer".

the coral reef buddies saw a big loot pile in front of the monster. The buddies rotated to the loot pile and took the loot. "Look a golden scar!" And a golden pump the rest of the buddies shouted. But it was a mistake because the monster started to move and broke the ice and started to chase the buddies, but they were quick and popped a flowberry to rotate back to the zero point.

When the buddies were back on the island, they rotated straight back home to Benjy fishy and showed all the loot they have gathered. A week later when the buddies were practicing their aim with their new weapons, they saw the zero point again and decided to get some new loot from the loot pile. When the buddies were on the other side saw that the monster were eating, and the buddies knew that this was the time to strike. The buddies rotated to the loot pile and grabbed a grappler and left as fast as they can because they didn't want to meet the monster again.

A month later it was Benjy fishys birthday and the buddies really wanted to give him something nice and the buddies knew that they could get what they wanted in the zero point. The buddies rotated back to the zero point and jumped in to get Benjy fishys birthday present. Once the buddies were inside, they saw the monster grumbling "I won't let them go this time" and he walked away. The buddies ran straight to the loot pile to take Benjy fishys present, but it was already too late It was a trap! The buddies panicked when they saw the monster coming straight towards them. "Look a couple of coral reef buddies yummy" shouted the monster, the buddies knew that this were their last moments, so they all cried out aaaaooooo aaaaaaaAAAAAooooo aaaaooooaaaaaaAAA but then right before the monster was to eat them, they saw Benjy fishy!? Benjy fishy had come to the rescue and shot the monster in the eye and while the monster was hurt, they escaped the zero-point getting back to the island.

When they were home Benjy fishy asked why they went back to the zero point and the buddies explained that they just wanted to give him a nice birthday present and from that day the coral reef buddies and Benjy fishy lived happily in the rest of their days.

Förklaring

Golden pump- en kraftfull hagelbössa

Golden scar- ett kraftfullt automatgevär

Rotate- att gå till en annan plats

Grappler- ett verktyg för att kunna ta sig runt snabbt

Benjyfishy- ett fortnite proffs känd för att vara förknippad med coral reef buddies

Zero point- nollpunkten av allting

Coral reef buddies sjöng aaooooaa för att dom är kända för att göra det från fallskärmen coral cruiser

Flowberry- en sorts bär som ger dig en effekt som gör att du hoppar högre

Polar peak- en frusen fortnite stad

the world was the toxic friend, he understood that he had been killed by the toxic guy.

The Three Little Minecraft Players

There once were three little Minecraft players who just joined a world with a toxic friend. They started playing just like everyone would and when the night came, they had to build a house they could sleep in. The first player couldn't find a single sheep so he could build a bed. So instead of building a house he just dug a hole in the ground and waited for the night to be over.

But the toxic friend who already had full netherite armor started searching for the other friends. He quickly found the hole in the ground as it stood out a bit. He jumped down and the player was down there so he hit him with his sword mid-air.

The second friend just placed a bed in the open so that he could quickly skip through the night. When he woke up he started sprint-jumping around the world looking for a nice place to build a house. After a while he found the hole in the ground with some wood tools that possibly could have belonged to the first guy. He knew that the owner of

The second guy kept running and then found a nice place with a river and a mountain where he thought a wooden house would look good. He chopped some trees down so he could build the house and farmed stone so that he could build a nice foundation for the house.

He smoothed out the ground with a shovel and then got to work. He built two floors and a mineshaft starting from the first floor. He put pressure-plates on both sides of the door so he wouldn't have to open it, just walk right through the doorframe, but that ended up being a big mistake because the toxic player found the big house and just entered the house like he belonged there. He immediately went to the second floor where the player's bed was and hit him twice with his sword so that he died almost instantly. He grabbed his stuff and then left.

He knew that three guys joined his world so he started looking for the third player. But little did he know that the third player had watched BBlocks and built a secret base on the side of a mountain. The toxic friend just ran right past the base without knowing that he was right there in the mountain. When he ran past the third guy opened a secret door and got out of the base and threw an enchanted trident that hit him in his back.

He died instantly and the other both the other guys tools and stuff dropped down on the ground. The last guy started looking for the other friends that he knew respawned at their spawn point. He went back to their spawn and there was the first guy. The other one was nowhere to be seen. They started running around and the world looking for him. They eventually find him at a lake fishing. They gave his stuff back to him and they all went to the secret base and was constantly grieving the toxic friend until he eventually left the world. Then they all lived in the secret base and was happy forever.

Green Blue Red

Little brawl Hood

Once upon a time there was a little girl who names are Piper. She got a mission to go to her grandmother's cottage and give she some power cubs. Piper said OK and start to walk into the forest. She started to go on her wander. After a while piper meet a strange person who names Bibi.

"Give me all your power cubs otherwise I will smash you to pieces"

Piper give Bibi all her power cubs and said

"My mother said I can't talk to strangers "

"I don't care what your mother says or thinks"

"But but I am not scared of you!"

"But you should be said Bibi"

Piper was so scared so she run all way to grandmother without hers power cubs she knocked hard on the door and waited for grandma to open but when the door opened it wasn't grandma standing there but Bibi
" hello there!"

But but how can you come how could you get here so fast?

I'm not saying it is a secret

Piper was so scared so she run home to hes mother and said

"Grand mother is is is dead Bibi killed her"

"Who is Bibi?"

She is a very scary girl with a baseball bat and she said she was going to kill me but wait i got an idea if i can dress up as a colt maybe she will be so scared she will run to her house and never come back. Piper got so excited so she dressed up as Colt and went back to grandma's cabin when she got there she knocked on the door and Bibi "Opened who who who are you Bibi but scared voice"

I'm Colt and I'll hurt you if you don't run home to your home but Piper he didn't say clearly because bibi had already run home

THE END

Kanye And The Beanstalk

There was once a poor widow. His name was Kanye and he lived in a orphanage. But one day he turned 18 and had to leave the orphanage.

He lived on the streets for a year, One day Kanye went on a walk and saw a flyer that said fat beats and he wanted to give it a try. He went to Greenwich village where the event was. While he was at the storefront, Kanye dropped a freestyle that got him much attention that he started to sing and got money.

One afternoon when he was going home, he met a strange man, the strange man told Kanye that he could get a bean for 5 dollars. Kanye took the bean and runaway. And because the man was so old, he couldn't catch up. When he got home, he planted it in a pot in his garden.

The next day when he went outside, he saw that the bean had grown to a assive beanstalk.

He decided to climb up the beanstalk and there he found a palace in a cloud. He walked towards it and he saw a massive ogre. It was taylor swift! Kanye decided to sneak in the palace. And there it was. It was a GRAMMY!! He took it and ran AS FAST as he could. Climbing down the beanstalk in such a paste that he fell from the beanstalk.

A couple hours later he woke up on the ground. He was verry dizzy, but at least he got a grammy. Kanye was happy.

Kanye West är bättre än Taylor swift.

"You can go soon, bring some essentials with you. And if something happens you need to come back here again, okay?" May also smiled as Claire nodded understandingly. Claire wondered if May suspected what she would do at the top of Hawk Peak. Probably not.

CLAIRE AND THE HIKE

With a tired expression Claire stepped out of the boat. Her bag was heavy, and her legs hurt. She was dissatisfied when she saw where she would spend the summer. Hawk Peak Provincial Park.

Aunt May were running towards her, her wings opened for a hug. Claire greeted May, hugging her tightly. Maybe this summer wouldn't be so bad at all. May showed her the summer cottage Claire was staying at. Claire already knew this. She knew everything about this island.

When Aunt May had left the cabin, Claire took the opportunity to unpack her things. The mobile was switched off, there was still no connection here. Claire sat on the edge of the bed and turned on the phone. After a while she was able to unlock it, and of course – no cellphone reception. She continued to unpack her bags when a thought struck her. Claire rushed out of the cabin looking for May.

"May! Aunt May!" she shouted, running towards her aunt. May looked up in surprise.

"What's the matter?" Aunt May listened carefully as Claire asked her about cellphone reception. "Hm, I have heard from that frog that there is reception on the very top of Hawk Peak."

Claire screamed with happiness. "Can I go there? Please?" Aunt May grinned. She told Claire that it was a long and hard journey, that she wouldn't be able to complete. But that just filled Claire with fighting spirit, now she must go there.

"What do I have to bring? Can I go now?" Claire asked, turning to the cabin. May chuckled, nodding. Claire smiled from excitement.

After a big meal and a packing session Claire left the cottage, off to a new adventure. The sand sizzled and the backpack scoffed as she took a step. She saw the green frog that Aunt May had talked about, a kid with a huge shovel. He used it to build a sandcastle, but it kept falling over. Claire asked if he had a better shovel, but it seemed to be lost.

"I just cannot find it! I have been searching for ages. So, I'll stick with this one." The frog pointed at the big shovel. Claire answered after a moment of thinking. "Wait, is the shovel blue?" He nodded. "Then I think I know where to find it. You know the little path... nevermind, I'll go get it for you." Claire smiled and followed her own trace, back to the path she was about to tell him about. The little blue plastic shovel was dirty and laid on the grassy floor. She picked it up and quickly returned it to the frog.

"Oh, thank you!" The little kid jumped up and hugged Claire tightly. She was surprised over his sudden act and didn't say a word. Once the frog had loosened his grip and let go of her, she answered.

"Eh, it was no problem." Claire shrugged.

Then, the kid picked up a shiny, golden feather. It glimmered in the sunshine and made Claire speechless. He placed the feather on top of the razed sandcastle. A moment later Claire asked what the feather was.

"Golden Feathers? Yeah, they can make you double-jump, just like in a video game! Unfortunately, I have no usage for them, since I have no wings." He looked at Claire, then at the feather, then at Claire again.

"... Do you want to try?"

Claire nodded and picked the feather up with a quick move. For a split second she felt cold and warm at the same time. Then her tunic flared up, no longer navy blue like before, but bright red. Claire was amazed and shocked by the change. She liked her new tunic and looked at it. When she looked up her frog friend had dropped his jaw.

"... Try to double-jump!"

Claire jumped, and then jumped again. She pinched herself. It wasn't a dream, she could double-jump. She sighed and then double-jumped once again. From the height she had gained by doing that she glided down towards the water. Claire screamed with joy.

"This is so awesome!" Claire said to the kid as she had landed in the soft sand. Then she calmed down and gazed over the beach. "But do you know what direction I should go to climb the Hawk Peak? I heard there is reception on the very top."

"Yeah, right? The Hawk Peak Trail is to the west.", the kid replied and pointed at the direction she would go. "But really? Hawk Peak? I assume you know that only one person before you have climbed all the way up. And he was a Goat." He looked unconvinced.

"Well, I have to go there. End of discussion." Claire looked mildly infuriated and scoffed quietly. "Thank you for your help, but I have to go now. Bye." She didn't want an answer and stormed off before the frog could answer.

"She is mad." He sighed and started to build a sandcastle with his new, shiny, blue shovel. From the distance Claire replied: "I heard that!"

After about half an hour Claire was exhausted. She had walked nonstop and was still on the lookout for a place to rest. Without thinking much of it she had arrived at Ranger Jon's cottage. She sighed with relief. Ranger Jon was amazingly kind and generous. He had visited Aunt May a lot when she was sick, giving her healthy treats and medicines. Without his help, Aunt May would've been sick still.

Claire knew that he was cooking bacon, she could tell by the soft sizzling sound and appealing smell. Then she heard a dark rumble:

"Is it you, Claire?" The white ram had appeared and looked at Claire. He smiled and welcomed her. "I accidentally cooked too much bacon. Do you want some?"

Ranger Jon wore a blue shirt and a straw sunhat with a light-yellow ribbon. His large, dark brown horns were twisted and if Claire didn't know better, she would've probably fled. When the bacon was done, they shared it and Claire listened to Ranger Jon while he told her about what wood type was ideal for carving.

"Tell me, Claire – why have you climbed all the way here?" Ranger Jon looked up from his finished plate and looked curiously at Claire.

"Well, uh... I am going to visit the Hawk Peak." She was a bit stubborn by now. She didn't want to admit why she wanted to visit the cold peak of this island. Nor what she was going to do with the cellphone reception.

Ranger Jon didn't look convinced. "So, you are going to climb up to the Hawk Peak – just for fun?"

Claire sighed and admitted, she told him about her sick mom, who was hospitalized, that she had planned to call her, check if she was okay, and she missed her mother so insanely much.

Ranger Jon looked away. He knew Claire's mother; they were even best friends. Though – he wasn't aware of the situation since he lived on this island. Suddenly Claire felt pity for the ram. When he answered his voice was rather unstable.

"... Then I think you should go there. I mean, she most certainly misses you too." Then he stood up and entered his cottage. After a quick session of searching, he reunited with Claire. He held up a Golden Feather.

"Here. I think you need it more than I do." Claire reached for it, and her bittersweet expression convinced Ranger Jon that she was not lying about the call, nor her mothers current state.

"Thank you", she waited for the tunic to flare up, change into another color. Maybe yellow, this time? But it didn't happen. The only similar thing was the cold and warm sensation during a split second. She had to check if something really happened. She jumped up from her seat, concentrated, and jumped.

When she opened her eyes again, she was in the air, the average height of a young tree. She glided down and landed safely on the spot she had jumped up from. Ranger Jon looked at the scene with a smile.

"You have the potential of mastering this skill." He noted and stood up. "But I think you have to hurry, before it gets darker, and your mom goes to bed." Claire nodded as he said that and stood up too. Ranger Jon was right, she had to hurry now. Ranger Jon waved her off, and Claire's hike continued.

The wind grew stronger the farther she climbed and sometimes the fog was blocking her sight and she had to wait for it to disappear before she could continue the climb.

Claire felt more lost than ever. She thought she knew everything about this island but clearly she didn't – She found new landmarks and discoveries that she never expected.

uneasy feeling in his stomach that made it not feel so good.

The Three Fastest Cars

Once upon a time three friends named Brian, Roman and Dominic who were criminals. They had a piece of a stone that could take control of the whole world. And they had an enemy named Lan Shaw that was after them and would soon find them and take the stone and kill them. So they decided to go on a trip with their new fast cars.

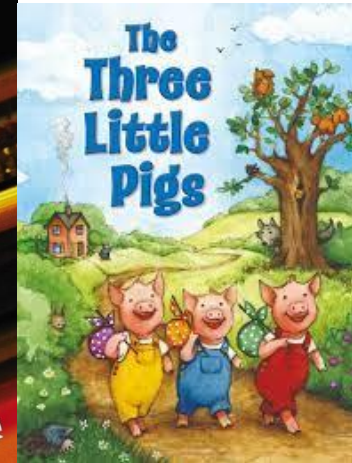

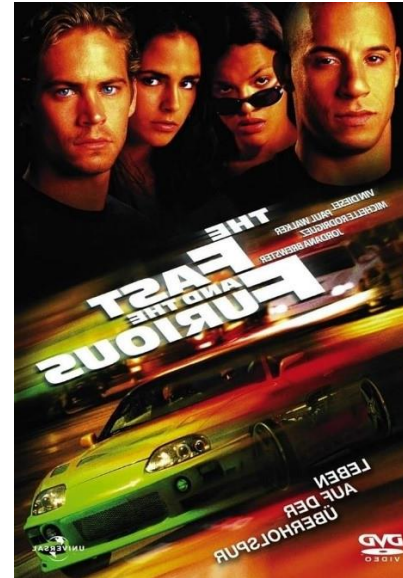

The next morning they packed their things and Brian said goodbye to his girlfriend Mia and left. They drove all morning and after a while they stopped to refuel the cars and take something to eat then they drove on. After a few hours roman says he was too tired to drive more but they were in the middle of nowhere so they had nowhere to sleep. The first hotel was several hours away. The only place they could sleep was in the car. They found a parking lot where they could sleep overnight. Everyone had fallen asleep when Roman woke up and heard a car pull into the parking lot. it was so dark outside that he didn't see who it was. He didn't think there was anything strange so he tried to go back to sleep. But he had an

Then he heard that someone was on their way to the car and the car door opened it was Lan Shaw and he said If you don't give me the piece of the stone, I will smash your car into little pieces but roman said that he doesn't have de stone and that he doesn't know where it is. The next morning when Brian and Dominic woke up they saw how the car next to them was destroyed. they went around to check where roman was but they didn't find him. They went around trying to find roman. They stopped on the side of the road to sleep when someone came to Dominic's car and opened the door and said if you don't give me the stone I will mash your car to little pieces. But Dominic said he doesn't have the stone and doesn't know where it is. the next morning both roman and Dominic come back and tell everything that happened and they left the place as fast as possible. By noon they had gone as far away as they could and when they thought they had found a good place to sleep they stopped. They stood on a mountain high up where no one could see them.

When Brian was going to sleep he was thinking that the same thing that has happened to his friends could never happen to me. Brian knew he would come back but this time he wouldn't get to win. there was someone heading towards the car Brian locked all the doors and sat in complete silence. There was a knock on the car window open the door now or I will smash your car into small pieces. But Brian didn't open. you will not enter. He tried to smash the car but it didn't work. Brian got out of the car and Lan Shaw stood on the other side of the car. Brian said the rock is in the car but I'm not going to give it to you, you can take it yourself. Lan Shaw opened the door and entered. He reached to grab the stone as it begins to roll backwards. It was so close to the edge of the mountain that it wobbled. Then a strong wind came and caused the car to go down. They heard the car land and exploding. The friends were so happy to see each other again and that it was all over and that everyone was safe and sound. They went home that morning and were happier than ever.

THE END

clapping their hands, so she decided to go to see what all the clapping is about.

The Little Red Dot

It was an ordinary day for the Little red riding hood. She was on her way to see her old grandma aka the president. While she was walking, a big bad wolf appeared out of nowhere. where are you going said the wolf, the Little red riding hood replied I am on my way to my sweet old grandma she just had a speech, and it was impressive.

It was about that humanity would step on the moon this century, but enough of that she is tired after the speech she held, so I was sent to give her some food and tea.

Where does your grandma lives the wolf said in a very weird voice, but the Little red riding hood did not notice it, so she just answers the White House of course I just said she is the president. Oh, silly me the wolf said, oh look at the time I got to go the Little red riding hood said, of she went on road again, but the wolf seemed to like the Little red riding hood, a little too much.

After 1 hour of nonstop walking, she was there, the White House. She opened the doors and walked in, but her grandma was not there, while she was looking around, she heard a noise and it sounds like a bunch of people

While the Little red riding hood was on her way the wolf was preparing an assassination on the little red riding hood. When the Little red riding hood was there she saw her grandma (president) in her car so the little red riding hood came over to ask if she could be in the car with her, while she was asking her grandma, the wolf was aiming at the Little red riding hood but when he was about to shoot a fly distracted the wolf and he accidentally pulled the trigger, and then it became quiet. And the president was dead.

THE END.

Little Blue Ninja

Little blue Ninja had a grandfather in the middle of the forest. His mother whose name was Linda, had told him that his grandfather was very sick and needed food. He liked his grandfather, so he decided to go into the middle of the forest after his training.

His trainer was not happy to hear that he needed to go early, but he said OK after all the little blue Ninjas grandfather was the best ninja at his time. Oh...I forgot to introduce little blue Ninja; His name is Jack. Jack went home to collect food from his mom. She had given him a basket with bread and butter and some rice. Jack knew that in the forest there were dark spirits who come and kill people who go past them, but he did not tell mom. The thing with the spirits was that they were legendary ninjas who are dead, they only let ninjas who have the same legendary spirit pass them. That's why Grandpa can live in the woods, Let's hope that they are asleep.

He stepped into the cold and dark forest. The difference between the sun outside and the dull grey inside the forest is impressive. When Jack started to go, he heard the spirits move and battle, he was lucky they were having a battle tournament. This was his chance to run and get to his Grandpa. When he started to run, he stepped on a twig. All the spirits turned to him. The spirits asked him who he was, he said that he was the grandson of the great ninja Alexander. They let him through, he was surprised!

He ran all the way to his Grandpa's house before they changed their mind. He gave all the food to his Grandpa and then asked him why they let him through, he said that jack also had the legendary spirit, otherwise they hadn't let him through. He went home peacefully and told the whole story to his mother Linda.

The End

The Three Little Snowman's

Once there were three little snowman's who decided to have an icehouse competition and see who can stay there the longest. So, they pack their bags and started to hike out in the woods.

First, they are going thought the city then up for the mountains, over the lake, into the forest and 157 steeps into it. If a human should stay, there for a hole night they would freeze to death, but the three little snowmen's aren't freezing because they are already made of snow ofc, they could only freeze if it would be - 246 degrees.

They started build their house the first snowman builds a little icehouse whit tin, tin, tin walls because he wanted to se out when he sleeps. The second snowman decided to go to the frozen sea and cut out ice blocks and take it back to the forest and build his house, but the ice blocks was to heavy for him so it tock a long time for him to take them into the forest, but it started to get dark and he couldn't see anymore and took the wrong way. The other snowman's started to get worried about their best friend, but it was too dark to start hike after him, so they decided to hike after him tomorrow when it was light outside. The third snowman build an igloo whit to floors and a jacuzzi whit four bedrooms to bathrooms and a sauna.

The snowman's was getting tired and decided to go asleep, they brush their teeth and going to the second snowman's two toilets.

When they were asleep about snowman's wake up because the ground was shaking. The snowman that build a tin, tin, tin ice house was running into the other snowman's house. They looked out off the window and was seeing a big, big, big snow monster holding their best friend in one hand and the snow monster shouted "I'm gone destroy our houses" he takes a big breath and a big step to the little icehouse and smash it into 1000 of ice bites. The big snow monster take two big steps to the other snowman's house and he tried to smash it but it didn't break, and the big snowman was getting angry and tried again but it didn't break the house. The big snowman get so angry so he stopped focusing on the little snowman in his hand and only focusing to break the house so the little snowman crawled out of his hand and started to run the other snowman's followed him and they was running the hole way home.

FROZEN

THE END

THE THREE LITTLE SIMPSONS

(and one Millhouse)

Once upon a time there was three little pigs called Lisa, Bart, and Maggie. They all were siblings living in a little cottage in the wood's whit their mother marge. Maggie was the youngest off the kids, Bart was the oldest and Lisa was the middle child. Oh, I almost forgot Millhouse, Barts friend or "sidekick", but well come back to him later.

It all starts when Bart finds a perfect Y shaped stick, a rubber band, and a marble, and... yeah you probably know what happens next.

then Bart blames Lisa while she blames him, so they all end up getting kicked out. "Well, nice work, Bart!" Lisa said while tucking in Maggie in her backpack. "Now you got us all kicked out! At least mother gave us a Krusty burger each to eat, so we won't starve." When they had packed all their stuff they began walking. Not long after that they passed millhouses house. "Hey Millhouse", Bart shouted. "We got kicked out! want to come whit us?" Millhouse opened his window and shouted back," cool! I'm coming as soon as I packed my bag."

About 5 minutes they were walking on paths thru woods, fields, and meadows. While walking Bart had a conversation whit Millhouse about boogers and Lisa was petting a sheep she found in an enclosure. She decided to name him James. After a couple of hours, they had eaten their Krusty burgers, and it was starting to get dark." Hey, look!" Bart spoke. "There is a bunch of hay over there. Let's build a house!". "No Bart! That's a terrible idea" Lisa said. "don't be such a chicken" Bart responded. "Ima stay here while you can continue walk if you want!" Lisa made an annoyed face, then continued walking whit Maggie in her backpack and Millhouse walking on her left side. But why didn't Millhouse want to stay whit his best friend Bart? Because he has a huge crush on Lisa, which is not real big of a secret...

Meanwhile Bart has just finished building his house and was going to bed. But not long after he has fallen asleep, he heard knocking on the door. He went to open but as soon as he saw who it was, he instantly regreted it.

It was the dangerous, food crazy, especially bacon and donut crazy wolf, homer. "Ay caramba" Bart shouted and tried to run away but it was already too late. Homer has already tied him up to the frying pan and steaked him. "Mmmmmmh, bacon" he said drooling. After he has finished, he took a nap and decided to hunt for more bacon tomorrow.

The sun was rising. millhouse and Lisa started to get tired for walking all night and day. They decided to sit down to rest their legs. Lisa was doing her math homework while millhouse was trying to flirt whit her. Lisa got annoyed and said "millhouse can't you see that I'm busy? Plus, that I'm not even inter..." Lisa didn't get to finish her sentence because all sudden millhouses face started to get red, and he sneezed unstoppable. oh no. Lisa just realized that they sat on a field full of flowers and pollen. They sat up and had to continue walk because of his allergy. After about an hour millhouse has stopped whit the sneezing.

“Look!” he said. “There is a pile of wood over there! Let’s build a house!” “No millhouse!” Lisa spoke. “What if something dangerous will find us!”. But millhouse didn’t listen and built a house anyway, while Lisa continued to walk.

When the sun started to set, he has finished building his house and he went to bed, Whit his plushie “puppy goo goo”, But not long after he has fallen asleep, he heard knocking on the door. He went to open but when he saw who it was, he whets his pants. It was homer again, hungry for some bacon.

After he has finished eating, he said,” now I’m full, I will try to get some more bacon tomorrow”.

In the morning Lisa was still walking. Her feet hurt so much that it felt like her shoes was made off spikes. She was going to lay down beside the road to rest when she saw a bunch of bricks and cement. After she was done resting, she said “I’m going to build a strong and good house that I could live in”, and then she begun to build. she was almost done whit her house and it was getting dark, so she ate some carrots that she found on her way and then she went to sleep.

But not long after that she heard knocking on her door. She went to look who it was trough the window and she saw that it was the big, fat, and scary wolf, homer. she quickly hid under her bed and pretended that no one was home. Suddenly the knocking stopped, and she heard a deep voice say, “mmmmh, donuts”, then she heard a loud “DOH”. She opened the door to look what has happen and she saw that the wolf was in a big cage made of her remaining bricks. beside the cage Maggie sat, sucking proudly on her pacifier. “Wow Maggie! Did you make a donut trap for the wolf! I almost forgot that you were whit me.” Lisa said very surprised. Maggie rolled her eyes and was just about to cut homers stomach open when Lisa said, “stop Maggie!” Don’t cut, this is going to be our revenge after Bart got us kicked out of mother’s house! let’s just leave the wolf here to starve. And so, they did.

Maggie and Lisa continued to live in their little cottage and occasionally a nomad came past and decided to build a house beside them. About a year later it was enough houses to call it a town. A town that Lisa decided to name “Springfield”.

THE END

building a big strong house. Whatever happened to my brother will never happen to me, thought the second little pig. But that night, the church clock struck twelve, there came a tapping at her door.

The Three Little dinosaurs

Once it was three little dinosaurs, they thought it was a good idea to leave home so they packed their bag and Sayed goodbye to their parents. They walked and walked and then they where to tired to walk so they sat down and eat their sandwich. After some time, they set off. One of the dinosaurs where to tired to go any further.

But they walked till they were next to a field full of wheat. One of the dinosaur Sayed he could build a house of straws. One of the dinosaurs went to sleep. When the first little pig woke, the sun was sinking fast, and the air was growing cold. What was that that dark hairy shadow in the wood?

He wished he was whit the others. But he set to the work, gathered some straw, and built a house. At midnight there came a tapping at his door. Little dinosaur, little dinosaur, let me come in, a voice said. The little dinosaur blood ran cold. Now he knew what the shadow had been- a lion!

You`re not coming I, not by the hair on my chinny-chin-chin, he said in his most grown-up voice. Then i`ll huff and i`ll puff and i`ll blow your house in! the wolf snarled. And that`ll be the end of you. And it was.

Next morning the other pigs came back. What did they find? A heap of straw and all their brother`s belongings torn up and scattered across the field. They ran away as quickly as they could. By midday the two little dinosaurs were exhausted and stopped running.

The second little dinosaur think that they had reached a very nice spot. There was a pile of wood that a woodcutter had left, it was perfect for Little dinosaurs, little dinosaurs, let me in, a voice said softly. I`m lonely and very hungry. I want a bite to eat. The little dinosaur got scared Lion you can`t fool me! You can never come in not by the hair on my chinny – chin – chin – chin she said. Then I`ll huff and I`ll puff, and I`ll blow your house down the Lion said!

The next day the three little dinosaurs found wooden house shattered in pieces and all sister`s possession blowing in the wind. He ran away but then he thought, What did my sister and I pass down the road yesterday? A brick factory! He went and bought some bricks and built a house.

That night the Lion came and tapping again I`m a friend of your brother and sister, let me come in. Lion you`re not coming in here the little dinosaur shouted. The lion pushed and pushed the house, but nothing happened because the house was made of bricks. He climbed on the house and walked down the chimney. The little dinosaur know he would climb down the chimney. So, he made a roaring fire. Instead of landing on the fireplace he landed on the water pot. His skin popped open and out jumped the little dinosaur`s brother and sister! The Lion had gobbled them whole!

How happy the three little dinosaurs where to see each other. They built a new house and were happily ever after.

PEPPA BACON

It is a warm day in the summer. Peppa pig is on her way to her show on bacon street. The smell of fresh nature and a silent wind that's making her red coat fly in the wind.

Peppa is singing her new song "I love bacon". She doesn't realize she's being followed...

Earlier that morning...

"Bye!" said Peppa and slammed the door, Georg had made a plan. He was about to follow her to the City but it took some time to eat his breakfast and putting on his clothes. Peppa had changed since she became famous and it annoyed Georg. He was going to sabotage her show and make a flop of her.

The plan is that he will break in to the stadium and mess up her clothes and her wig. He also carried his weapons, a knife and a pistol, just in case something happens to him.

She doesn't realize she's being followed by a small, tiny and a fat little pig in a black suit and sunglasses.

Georg's phone started ringing in his pocket, he didn't put his phone on silent mode. He jumped into the bushes and answered the call. "Agent 105" said a man with a dark voice on the other side of the line. "I see you are behind the target," said the man. "Neuf yes, I am behind her, and she's walking slow and is singing her new song. She doesn't know that I'm here" said Georg and looked up from the bushes. "All right, clear" said the man and ended the call. Georg started to climb out of the bushes and followed Peppa to the big city.

Peppa walked into a Starbucks and bought a BACON SPEICALL with extra bacon and whipped cream. Georg followed her inside and sat down in a chair beside a table and ordered a black coffee. He looked at her and smiled evilly.

Peppa stood up and started to walk out of the store. On the other side off the road was the stadium. On a big screen was a picture of Peppa, she smiled and had heavy eyeliner. Georg almost puked and took out his gun and shot the picture so it ripped apart. Everyone looked around and wondered what happened. They didn't see the small pig that ran into the big stadium.

He sneaked into the basement and shot the security guard in the head. He ran into the electric room and put out the lights. He ran up the stairs and found the stage...

Peppa stood and sang in front of the people in the darkens. He felt the gun in his pocket. I listened to her song and hated every second. He picked up the gun and pulled the trigger.

He ran out of the building and blew the smoke off the gun.

THE END...

The three total Roblox pigs

Once three little Roblox pigs with their name Betsy, Big-o and Stacy decided to go in to the Roblox world to go on a trip. And left their home and found their own place to live. in total Roblox drama.

That very morning, they packed their things, kissed their mother Emelia goodbye, and got into the portal to total Roblox drama. But first they came to tower of hell, because it was a problem on the portal.

So, they needed to finish the obby to fix the portal and then they could fly to total Roblox drama again. And now Betsy felt to tired to fly any faster. "But we haven't got anywhere yet!" said Big-o and Stacy. What are you going to do for get to win a challenge and get a house.

They were now next to total Rolox drama," We should go to the lobby and join a game." Said Big-o. they closed their eyes and waited for the other players to join the game. When Betsy first checked, the lights was dark and gray, and the air was cold. And what was the dark person in the back of the lobby. Suddenly Betsy wished she never checked and only wait for Big-o and Stacy to wake her up.

But Betsy was to hype to rest again, so she started to explore that mystery person that she saw before. But Betsy got to tired so she got and rested again. And at that very early morning something touched Betsy. The only thing she heard was Betsy, Betsy, I have a statue for you so you can win the game," a voice said. Betsy's blood ran cold. Now she knew what the shadow had been – a Hacker!

"Hacker you're not coming to me, not by me and my family." She said in her most grown-up voice.

"Then I huff, and I puff and I will scam you in the game!" Hacker snarled." And that will be the end of you guys." And it was.

And after 3 hours the other player that are going to play spawned. What are they going to do? Are they going to know what happened? They ran away as quickly as they could to not be suspect.

And by 10 seconds left to the game Betsy big-o and Stacy were exhausted and stopped running. "I am a friend of your brother and sister," he called. "Little pig, little pig, let me come to you".

"Hacker, you are not coming to me, not bye the hair on my chinny-chin-chin!" Betsy shouted.

"Then I will huff and I puff and I will blow you guys of the game so you leave!" the hacker snarled. He drew a deep breath and huffed and puffed with all his might. A wind that would have torn up whole woods hit them, but they were still because they were sigma's. The hacker huffed and puffed again and again, but only their arms and head moved.

But Stacy had thought of this. She quickly started a fire in the woods and put a huge pot of water on to boil. Instead of landing in the fireplace, the hacker fell into the pot and was boiled up. His skin popped open and out jumped all the players that he had hacked. The hacker has gobbled them whole!

How happy Betsy Big-O and Stacy were to see everyone again! Safe and sound, they lived safe and happy the rest of their life's.

The end.

Ord som du behöver förstå.

Roblox= Spel.

Betsy Big-O Stacy Emilia= namn I ett spel på roblox.

Total roblox drama= ett spel i roblox.

Tower off hell= ett spel på roblox.

Obby= Banna.

Lobby= ett ställe som man kommer till innan spelet börjar.

Join= gå in i spelet typ.

Game= spelet.

Hacker= någon som fuskar och lurar folk.

Spawnd= Kommer dit typ.

Sigmas= cola personer.

mayonnaise with the right amount in every place, and the soda! It was so good.

Three little pigs in saw

Then they felt it. The poison. Every little piggy fell to the ground at the same time.

In a really dark room In a large bunker right around south Nebraska woke up three little pigs. They were of course very confused as any person locked in a large room in the middle of Nebraska. The only thing they remembered before this was sitting in a small field and eating picnic outside a large forest. It was a relaxing place they found and so they packed up.

” oh boy this is such a wonderful place”. One little pig said in excitement.

“help us pack up so we can enjoy our sandwiches faster” another said while rolling out the blanket.

When the blanket was rolled out the last little piggy got hungry

“Can we start eating our sandwiches, I’m starving”. The other two piggy’s agreed and so they started to eat their sandwiches.

This was a delightful sandwich with all the right ingredients the juicy tomatoes to the perfectly placed

Little Green Riding Player

The stadium was not far away, but to get there the little green riding hood must pass the big scary forest. The little green riding player's mom shouted to her - "little green riding player, have you packed your bags and dressed up?"

- "Yes mom I have."

Shouted the little girl to back,

Come downstairs shouted mom, you must go if you want to make it to the game in time. The little girl came downstairs with her bags, hugged her mom and said goodbye.

The little girl became afraid of the dark and creepy forest so she took a deep breath and started walking. She dropped her football and started walking into the forest.

When she had plenty for a few yards she starts thinking.

- "I suddenly woke up before the match."

So, the little green riding player stopped in the first clearing and started kicking with her ball. A moment later she started walking again and soon she was arrival to the stadium. She starts looking for her team and soon she finds them. They started to go through tactics and soon the match starts. The little green riding player was forward and started chasing the ball.

The girl gets choked when she seen that it was a wolf as goalkeeper. The little girl shouted.

- "Why are you a goalkeeper?"

- "So, I can take all your sheet."

- "Why haven't you any clothing?"

- "Because I don't want to become worm."

- "Why have you so longed legs?"

- "So, I can chase you."

The wolf start run against the girl. The little girl gets afraid and start running to. Soon the little green riding player start feeling tired and start run slower and the wolf start catching up on the little girl. Then the wolf picks up the girl and swallow her whole. The little girl's teammates get shocked when then saw the wolf eat up the little green riding player. So, they start shoot hard footballs on the wolf and soon they start feeling dizzy and faint. The leaders can forward and slit up the wolf's tummy with a knife. When they have pull out the little girl she was afraid but unharmed. So, they start celebrates and start jumping in a ring with their arms on each other's shoulders and singing.

THE END

The Three Little Gods

Once three little gods named Zeus, Hades and Poseidon decided it was time to find some home after the big titan war. They had just beaten their father Kronos and walked around the world happy about the win. And no sooner said than done. The next morning, they flew down to earth from the cave they had slept in the night before and started to walk. They walked for 1 year, then they sat by the road and started to talk.

"Where should we go?" Hades said. His brother had never liked him very much, so they said:

"Maybe you like some place deep in the earth."

"That was a very good idea, I think I'm even going to immerse myself in the Earth here, I can rule over the Underworld! Bye-bye" Hades said and then he disappeared into the dark earth. Zeus and Poseidon cheered and high-fived each other and then they started walking again.

When Hades came down to the underworld, he immediately began to build his place of black and sharp stones, dark as he was. But suddenly, he heard a terrible voice from the depths of Tartarus. It said: "Come to me my son and set me free". It was Hades, Zeus and Poseidon's father. The big titan Kronos.

When the three little gods had won the big titan war, they threw Kronos and his scythe into the dark depths of Tartarus. But now he had woken up. Hades get hypnotized by his father's sharp voice and he began say: "Yes father, yes father, yes father" all the time and he freed Kronos from Tartarus. Kronos swallowed Hades and began to walk towards the surface of the earth.

Up there, Zeus and Poseidon were waiting to find a nice home. "It might have been a bit boring without Hades", Poseidon said. "Maybe" Zeus said, "But now it is not so dark everywhere we go. The flowers do not wither anymore".

They come to the Mediterranean Sea and Poseidon said" Do you see this brother; this sea is just too beautiful. Now I know where I will build my house! In the sea! See you brother", and then he disappeared into the blue sea. Zeus go faster and he really tried to find a home because it began to be very boring when both of his brothers had gone.

At the same time in the ocean, Poseidon had just finished building his splendid underwater palace and was about to begin to rule over all the water and all the seas, as he had just figured out to do, when he heard a roar from the sea. The next second, he saw his daddy Kronos running with a very big tummy. How the hell had Kronos come up from Tartarus, Poseidon wondered, for he knew nothing of what had happened to Hades. Kronos got closer and closer to Poseidon's underwater palace, and then he ran straight into the nice building and caught his son Poseidon. Kronos swallowed Poseidon too.

Zeus just walked up on the safe Earth and tried to find a home. His brother Hades had taken the underworld and his brother Poseidon had taken the water. So, what would he take? Suddenly, he realized that he could oversee the sky! He flew to the nearest mountain and named it Olympos. Now he could see what was happening in the whole world! He saw Helios flying across the sky with his sun chariot, and Demeter standing in a field sowing seeds. But the strangest thing he saw was his father Kronos with a giant Tummy. How the hell had Kronos come up from Tartarus, Zeus wondered, because he knew nothing of what had happened to Hades and Poseidon. Kronos came straight at Zeus, but as the lord of the sky, Zeus was able to call down a lightning bolt and blow-up Kronos. Out of the pieces of Kronos' former stomach came Zeus' older siblings Hades and Poseidon.

Together, they cleared Mount Olympus of Kronos' old pieces. Zeus proclaimed himself king of the world, which his siblings did not like, and ruled from the beautiful Mount Olympus. And so everyone lived happily ever after. (Well, until Kronos managed to come back.)

LRRH x ACNH

Tom Nook needed an assistant to help him on his deserted island getaway package he had someone in mind.

Isabelle is perfect for the job as the former mayor's assistant.

Tom Nook sent Timmy and Tommy to ask her to work for Nook inc.

Timmy and Tommy went on a ride with Kapp'n on his bot to an island where Isabelle live after she was fired for declaring a random person mayor. To get to Isabelle's house they had to go thru a dark forest.

-Stay on the path, Kapp'n said.

-We will stay on the path.... Path responded Timmy and Tommy.

After waking for a bit, they heard a noise from the woods they stopped in fere from the bushes a bunny jumped on to the path.

-Boingity boing! Hey there, skipper! It's me... Zipper, he said.

-Where are you too off to, he asked?

As Timmy and Tommy come down, they responded, we are going to go Isabelle... Isabelle.

-O boy that's a bit to go, Zipper replied.

-We know... know, Timmy and Tommy said annoyed.

-Let's look for eggs! Let's look for eggs! There're hiding, so hunt if you dare, he hopped away singing.

-Goodbye... bye Timmy and Tommy said.

Timmy and Tommy continue to walk to Isabelle's house.

At the same time zipper headed to Isabelle's house he took a shortcut to get there first.

To his luck Isabelle was out fishing. He disguised himself as Isabelle.

When Timmy and tommy arrived at Isabelle's house they knock on the door. Zipper disguised as Isabelle open the door and let Timmy and tommy in.

-You look different... different Timmy and Tommy said.

- it's hard to look good when you don't have, I job Zipper replied.

Timmy and Tommy just stared.

To break the silence Zipper told them to sit down while he got something for them.

Zipper got his wand and was about to turn them in to eggs.

Isabelle came in and use her fishing rod to throw

Zipper out of her house and into the air.

Timmy and tommy did not notice that the switch places, so they told Isabelle about the job offer and asked if she wanted the job. Isabelle happily accepted the job. She went back with Timmy and Tommy

The end.

"No, it's not me," lied Blue Hood.

THE BLUE HOOD WITH MANY SECRETS

The ones were a girl who love to ask for a secret from other, her name was blue hood. Some of them was telling her a secret, some of them wasn't, but they always said.

"don't tell anyone." Said the people who told her a secret.

She always said...

"of course, your secret is in a good hand." Said blue hood.

But one day, it had changed. She was going to her grandma because her mother made some cookies to give her because she loves them it would made her happy if she saw Blue Hood. When she was going one a road a fox had approached her, he said.

"Hello little girl," said the Big Fox.

"Hello?" said the Blue Hood questioningly.

"Are you the girl named blue hood who knows many secrets?" asked the Big Fox.

She lied and said.

"Are you sure because I don't like when people lie to me, it makes me hungry and angry," said the Big Fox.

She got scared but didn't show him that.

"People who told me their secrets trust me and if I tell you someone's secret, they won't trust me anymore.

The big Fox started to think and said.

"I won't tell anyone I promise." Lied the Big Fox

Lied the Big Fox and crossed his fingers. The girl looked at the Fox and said.

"I will give you some money just leave me alone!"

The big Fox became angry and tried to lift her up to eat her. She was so scared that she dropped her basked with cookies and ran as fast as she could. The Big Fox ran after her, but she was faster than him. She ran and ran but didn't stop, the big fox stopped to breath and think, how to catch her easily instead of running after her and wasting his. He thought and thought but then an idea came to his mind, maybe he would pretend that he's her grandma and the eat her because she didn't want to share with him a secret. He ran to her grandma and when he came to her grandma's house he knocked, Blue Hoods grandma answered and said...

“Who is it?” grandma asked.

The Big Fox said with a soft voice.

“it’s me Blue Hood,” said the Big Fox.

Grandma became so happy and opened the door to the Big Fox, but when she saw who it was her smile instantly changed. She got so scared, but she didn’t even have time to blink before the Big Fox eats her. When he had eaten grandma then he put on grandma’s clothes and jumped on the bed and then he began to wait for Blue Hood.

When she stopped to look if the Big Fox was still running after her. When she was sure that he wasn’t running after her, she stopped and started to breath because she was tired. In her mind she remembers that she dropped her basket and ran. Blue Hood ran back and picked up her basket with cookies and went to her grandma. When she was there, she saw that her grandmas house was little bit different.

Pig Centipide

It was a beautiful sunny morning for the three little pigs the birds chirped and the grass was more green then ever before the first little pig had a bowl of yougurt with honey and cerial, The second little pig had a golden brown tosted piece of bread with butter and lemon marmelad and cheese and the last little pig had a tosted bagel with creeme cheese, salmon, onion and tomato. After a while the fised little pig got an idea it thought that he and his brothers shoulde go outside and take a walk in the forest the other piggys didn't really want to go out so soon. So the little pig went alone so he packed his bag with a sandwish and a knife to cut his sandwish if he gets hungry on his walk and so he beggined the walk in the forest wen he entered the forest it felt like he entered another dimention the trees just ingulfed the little pig so fast. Just a moment ago he was loocking down at the grass now he was loocking down at the cones and up at the clouds exepth he couldn't see the clouds only the tree branches. After a while the two other little pigs begine they're walk to meet the first little pig.

The fist little pig walked deeper and deeper into the forest he walked so far he started to jogg untill he tripped in a root and fell on the dry grownd he was going to just go upp on his feet and keep going and exploring but unexpectedly he found something he had not seen before in a forest. He found a hard metal trapdoor in the grownd hidden in the dust and trees. Before he entered he called out for the other piggys who had soon cought up with the first pig. He was going to wait for his brothers but it was so mustirius he went in the hatch was kinda hard too open it felt like it had not been opened in a long long time. After he peeked in too see what was in the bunker or basement he culd not know but he went in down the hard and cold metal latter for a while. He felt the cold stone floor just then a very very weak lamp got turned on he looked behind him in a instens to see what was there the only thing he saw was a outline off a big humanoid creature all the way in the back of a corridor doing something on its bench it had'tn seen the little pig that was proprebly a good thing he thought and in that wery moment the thought entered his head it exited because the other little piggys where upp there talking he loocked upp and then imediatly after he loocked at the thing in the corridor and it loocked back at him. It ran forwords to the pig past all the locked doors in korrridor when it was only a cople meters away hes instings kicked in and started to go upp the latter to escape but at the topp the hatch was locked and he culd'tn get out and in the hurry his knif from his bag fell down at the man and right at the mans forhead so he fell down too the floor and passed out just in time for his brothers too open the hatch to get him out and run home and live happily after.

THE END

Little Red in Debt

I was in danger. I was being followed by the F.B.I. She was pinned down in a forest, surrounded by the police. She was shot. She was wanted because she stole a hundred thousand US dollars from an armored vehicle that was passing by the forest. Apparently, the vehicle we robbed was also under the eyes of the F.B.I. Her friend also known as wolf helped her steal it. But she doesn't know where exactly wolf is. We got split up by a helicopter. buzz her radio started to turn on.

- Red? Are you there?? said Wolf

She heard on the radio. She opened her backpack full of money and took out her radio.

- I'm here! I said.
- Finally, I'll send you my location I have a plan to get out of this forest, just be careful. said wolf.

She headed to the location but as she was going to the spot, she heard barking. Lots and lots of barking. It was getting closer. And she couldn't hide because of the blood trail behind her. So, he started running. She heard the dogs behind her. But then she saw wolf running as well. She ran towards him and jumped in the car.

- Thank you, wolf.

But she was a bit skeptical. Who was Mr. wolf? She has just met two weeks ago.

-Where are we headed wolf?

- to the city

but then little red riding hood remembered. That this was not the way back to the city. Wolf stopped on the side of nowhere - - I'm sorry. wolf said.

He took a P88 pistol out of his jacket and shot me. The bullet pierced the bones in her chest. But missing the heart. She was pushed out of the van. As I'd lay on the floor passed out from all the pain. My blood turned the snow red. I couldn't see, but I could hear clearly. I heard cars going by. One by one. Until I heard a car stop by. I felt my body getting picked up the pain was so intense I wanted to scream. But I couldn't. After a few minutes I felt a warm blanket over me. And a smell I've smelt before. It smells like cookies. But not anyone's cookies. But my grandmothers. She used to be in a Mafia. Until the C.I.A got to them. All of them died except my grandmother and her friend. She hates anything to do with guns and robbing. I could slowly start to see again. Granny was making some potion. That would heal the pain for only twelve hours I drank it and after a few minutes I already felt a difference. Luckily, I had a plan to get back at wolf. I knew where his brother lived.

6 hours later.

My friend drove me to the place where Mr. fox. Lived aka Wolf's brother. He was staying at a hotel. My friend lockpicked the door to employees only room and took a few of the clothes. We dressed up as maids. I hid a zap gun under the towel I was holding. I Went to the door and knocked.

- Mr fox? I said.
- Yes?
- We're here to clean your room sir. May we come in?
- Sure, I guess... But don't touch my closet
- Will do.

We ran in and zapped him. We put his unconscious body in a trash bag. And took him to a hidden place in the middle of nowhere. I called Mr. wolf on a telephone booth so he wouldn't know it was me.

- Hello? Who is this? I heard on the phone
- I have your brother.
- What are you talking about?
- If you don't give me my money in 10 hours, you will hear him scream.
- You're kidding... Let me talk to him!
- Give me the money. And you'll get to.
- I cant give you the money even If I wanted to! There's a process-
- Wrong answer.

I would nod to my friend to signalize to shoot Mr. fox. He pulled out his gun and shot him.

- What was that sound?!? Said wolf worried.
- You wanted talk to him? Sure, go on. Talk to your brother
- WHAT HAVE YOU DONE? WHAT DID HE DO?
- Give me my money. Or else we will go for your father, then your mother. What's it gonna be?
- Fine! I'll send it. Please don't hurt anyone else.

My phone started ringing. It was my grandma.

- Hello grandma?
- I know what you've done. Robbing armored vehicles?
- Listen, ma. I had to do it.
- He's not sending you that money. She said.
- What do you mean?

I'd hear gunshots in the background.

I heard gunshots on the phone with my grandma... but also from the phonebooth... Mr. Wolf, was gone.

- THEY FOUND US! Said my friend

I would hear the LAPD rush in. I have already lost all the money. It was not worth fighting back.

THE END.

The Three Little Babblers.

Once three little babblers, Bibbi, Bobbo and Diddi. They lived with their mom in a little village in a wooded area. One day, they decided to find their own place to live. So, one morning they packed their things, and they took their car named Tut and set off. Bibbi, the oldest one and the only one who have learned to drive started driving in five days and five nights non-stop. In the fifth night, Bobbo, the youngest babbler began to complain that they hadn't found a place to build yet. A few minutes later, Diddi saw a big free area with short green grass, and all come to an agreement that they should stay there and started building. But nobody was seeing the yellow sign where there was shadowed dog and big black text over says "warning".

Bobbo started building first. He has packed a small bag but with hundreds of small noodles. It doesn't take so long. It was not so windy so after about one hour the house was done. Bobbo went in and looked around. But he did not hear that something was coming nearer and nearer to his door until a dark voice said: "Little babbler, little babbler, let me come in please." The little babbler froze and answered quietly: "I am not gonna let you in. And you cant come in to my strong house."

"Then I will huff, I will puff, and I will blow your weak house in." Answered the unown figure outside the door. And the figure huff and puff and the whole house fly away. Now saw Bobbo who it was. It was a blue dog who was about three times bigger than Bobbo. And the big blue dog walk slowly in and jumped fast on Bobbo and swallowed him instantly. All of this has Bibbi and Diddi no idea about.

Now it was Diddis turn to build. Diddi was extremely rich, so he packed a big full bag of iphone 15:s.

All the phones was very thin, but they was very easy to build. After like 30 minutes the phone house was done. Diddi was very proud of it. It was very hard to stack the iphones on each other. She had brought several pillows and lay them on the floor and sat down. She looks around with a big smile on her lips. But after a few minutes, there was a dark voice who started to talk right outside the door. "Hello little babbler, let me in. "The dark voice said.

"Never! My house is extremely strong and nobody can come inside without a key to the door!." Diddoi answered.

“Then I will huff and puff and blow your house in!” And Diddi heard the figure outside take a deep breath and blew strongly on the house. The house wobbled but then stood steady on the ground. “Let me try on more time! Now your house going to break!” The figure said. And the thing was right. It took a deep breath and blew strongly again. And now all the iPhones are falling from the wall and the roof. Now Diddi see the big blue dog. It jumped high and swallowed Diddi fast.

Now there was only the oldest one left, Bibbi. Bibbi was smart, he packed something hard who can survive all the weathers who can come. He packed a big back with Flapjacks. They are strong and can endure a lot. He set the flapjacks on each other and lay the papers who was wrapped around the flapjacks between them. The flapjacks smelled strawberry, so the house smelled to smelled so good that Bibbi just wanted to eat the house. He wondered where his siblings are, he have not heard so much about it. The bag was not empty yet, so Bibbi take some flapjacks and started eat. But he feel after a minute that the house shaking but not falling down. An other wind but the house are still not falling down. “Let me come in little babbler”, say a dark voice. Bibbi walk slowly out and see a big blue dog outside. The dog walk slowly to Bibbi and suspected that the dog maybe have eat his siblings. But Bibbi was smart, so he ran in to the house, grab a big knife in his bag and run out and stabbed the big blue dog straight in the stomach. The dog moaned and Diddi and Bobbo jumped out. And all the siblings walk inside Bibbis new flapjack house and decided to stay there in a long time in front.

The End.

The 3 Little football players

Once three little football players decided it was time to play match. That very morning, they packed their football equipment. Good luck with your game yelled the mother before they set off.

They walked till midday. Then they sat by the road and ate half their sandwiches. After that they set off again. By supertime they arrived at the arena.

“Who are we playing against?” said Ramos.

“We are playing against Barcelona”, said Courtois.

They were in the middle of the city. Cars and people were everywhere. In the evening, Manchester City played a match against Barcelona. But for a weird reason, we lost the game. 3-0 to them we were confused. Then we went to a second stadium, and we played Manchester United. They were pretty good but one of our players, Ronaldo, was as good as one of their best players called Haaland. But we had the same referees who brought the game. It was weird but, in the end, we lost 2-1.

The next day the three little pigs walked to the third stadium to play their last match. They saw Arsenal's coach talking to the referee and the coach gave the referee money.

They started the match at 8 o'clock. The stadium was full of people. The air was cold and we saw the other team, they were quite big and strong, but we were better, we knew it. The game started with the players almost scoring but Ramos slide tackled the players then Ronaldo scored a great goal he scored a Bicaleta. But then van Dijk Ronaldo slip-tackled then it was a penalty to us we scored we won it was 5-6 to us we were happy but then we saw the referee nervous we saw them screaming each other then we understood that it was rigged we told our coach and then he never got to be on a football field again.

THE END.

LITTLE WILL AND DEMOGORGON

Murray lived not far away, but to get to his cottage you need to go to upside down, the second dimension there all the monsters live. Will's mom Joyce do not like Will is going there but Joyce's friend Murray is very sick and need food.

"Will, take care about yourself and you need to pass the forest so if any monsters should stop you go back so soon you can!" Joyce shouted from the kitchen. "Take all the waffles and put it in a basket and go so soon you can so you don't need to be away all the night.

So, Will put on his shoes and tied them, and set off. Will started to go. First he need to find the gate to the upside down. He started walking towards the forest. It tends to be gates in the forest so Will hope he can find someone now. In the first tree he is looking in he saw a lot of slime. He pulled the slime off and a hole was created down to the upside down. Will jumped into the hole and looking around. It looks like the real world and the same forest he just was in expects that its flying small white things in the sky. He started to go. He hadn't go far when there was a noise in the bushes and out onto the path jumped the great big Demogorgon.

"Where are you off to little boy?" he roared. "To my mommy's friend Murray who is sick and need food. If you follow the path you will come to his cottage." Will replied. "Sorry, I didn't know. You know what, I think I can run ahead and tell Murray you're on your way? We don't want anything to happen to you before you get to Murray, do we?"

The Demogorgon set off in the direction there the cottage was. Will was lucky. Around the corner stood Hopper, the policeman. Demogorgon hadn't eaten Will because he knows Hopper was nearby who might come to his rescue. Will continued walking along the path. The Demogorgon was already with Murray's cottage. He knocked on the Murrays door. Demogorgon broke the door and hopped into the house. He finds Murray in his bed. Demogorgon open his big mouth and eat up Murray in one bite. Before he had eaten up Murray he had taken off his clothes so he can take them on himself and pretend he was Murray and eat up Will.

About ten minutes later Will knocked at the door. Demogorgon said with a light voice that Will can enter the cottage. Will walked into the room there the bed was with a suspicious look on his face.

"What great big arms you have, Murray" said Will.

"All the better to hug you with, my darling," said the Demogorgon.

"And what small eyes you had, Murray."

"It's because I don't want to see your ugly face, my darling."

"And what great big teeth you have, Murray."

"All the better to eat you with, my darling."

With that the Demogorgon was so excited he couldn't contain himself any longer. He threw the bedclothes aside, jumped out of the bed and swallowed Will. Then the Demogorgon feel so happy and full of food that he lay back and went to sleep. Unfortunately for the Demogorgon, he was a loud snorer. The policeman Hopper who was on the way home had heard everything that's happened in the cottage. When suddenly everything went silent Hopper thinks something has happened in the cottage. Hopper goes into the cottage and see what's happened. When he see that the Demogorgon was sleeping in Murrays bed and Will and Murray that should be there not was there, Hopper thinks the Demogorgon had eat up them so he take up his knife and slit up the Demogorgon's tummy. Out from the tummy it ran out blood and things like that but also two peoples. It was Murray and Will. They were so happy to be back again. After Murray and Will has calmed down everyone set of to the gate so they can come back to the real world again. The way home was easy and everything went well. When will come home Joyce was so happy that Will was okay. The waffle's Will had in his basket was untouched, so they take some jam and celebrated with the nice waffles. The rest of the evening was nice and they lived happily on the rest of life.

THE END

The Three Little Minecraft PvPers

Once upon a time there was 3 little Minecraft PvPers. They loved PvP. Their biggest dream was to participate in a big Minecraft PvP server. Like lifesteal smp, bliss smp, infuse smp, levels smp or strength smp. They had some of the biggest PvP players in the world. Like mugm_ferreMC, manepear, flamefrags, minutetech, and clownpierce. That is just some of the legendary players on these smps. The 3 little pvpers decided to start their own Youtube channel. Because these smps only accept content creators into their smp's. The channel was booming. Posting viral video after viral video and little did you know, they got accepted into their first creator smp! It was season 3 of bliss smp. Everything was going well. Amazing actually! They dominated the server and killed some of the biggest pvpers in the world! But one day it all changed...

THE CHANGE

The server have had enough of them dominating. So, they invited one of the best pvpers in the world to come join the server with the only purpose to kill the 3 little pvpers. His name was FerreMC. When the three little PvPers got word of this they quickly ran as far away from spawn they could. Eventually the first little PvPer got tired and didn't want to go on any further. He stopped and set up a tree base with a little bit off stuff in it. That was a big mistake. Ferre quickly found it and raided it. He cut the tree down with his netherite axe and killed the first little Minecraft pvper and then stole everything he had. When the first little Minecraft pvper respawned, he respawned at spawn where 3 others were waiting to ban him off the server by killing him 5 times. In the meantime, the other 2 little Minecraft PvPers were walking thru the jungle. Searching for a safe place to set up base. They walked thousands of blocks. Eventually the second little Minecraft PvPer stopped and told the third little Minecraft PvPer that it was no use to keep walking. Ferre would never find them at this point. And oh boy she couldn't have been further from the truth. The second little Minecraft PvPer stopped to set up a base. The other 2 little Minecraft PvPers had gotten word about the death ban of the first little Minecraft PvPer. So they had to be more careful. The second little Minecraft PvPer built a house on the ground, made from wood and stone. And as you can predict, Ferre found it. He used his netherite axe and pickaxe to make a whole in the wall. He stormed inside and put his netherite sword right thru the second little Minecraft PvPers chest. Killing him in an instant. He also respawned at spawn and got spawn killed over and over until he too was banned of the server.

REVENGE

The third little Minecraft PvPer quickly got word of this. He ran and ran as far as he could. After a week of running he finally stopped to set up base. It was night and He was at the coordinates -12084 65 163447 in the overworld. So about 180 thousand blocks away from spawn. The third little Minecraft PvPer was special. He was better than the others, stronger, faster, wiser. He knew what had to be done. Later that same night Ferre found his little house. Ferre laughed for himself, “what a fool. Thought he would be safe from me?” he kicked down the door and didn’t see the third little Minecraft PvPer. “huh that’s weird” he whispered to himself. He carefully sneaked inside. Watching his every step. Because he knew any one of these steps could be his last. But then he remembered, I’m the 38th best PvPer in the world. What do I have to be scared of? He stormed thru the house without watching his step and there he was. Standing over a floor made of dirt. “that’s weird” Ferre thought to himself. But he didn’t care. He stormed forward with his sword by his side. And than the next second the floor under him disappeared. He was falling down a dark hole. He pulled out his water bucket. But it was to no use. He landed on the dripstone at the bottom of the hole and died. Meanwhile the third little pig was standing above. Looking down into the endless pit. He laughed too himself, “that was easier than I thought”. He had pulled out a netherite shovel and broke the dirt floor under Ferre while he was running towards him. The third little Minecraft PvPer jumped down a whole by the side that had water at the end. He grabbed all Ferre’s stuff. He had 2 revive stars on him. “that was lucky”. He used the stars and revived the other 2 little Minecraft PvPers. And lived happily ever after.

THE END.

This is the three little pigs

He woke the others up and told them about the strange sound. They just laughed at him and told him to go back to sleep, but he was convinced that he heard something. The other day they played with the toys and had so much fun. They had so much fun that they didn't notice the time, so they had to go to sleep. Once again one of the pigs heard a strange sound. This time he went up to check the sound. He went to the living room, and he couldn't believe what he saw, he had to scratch his eyes to believe it. The cars were moving and talking to each other. He ran to the other pigs and woke them up. They all went back to the living room. But the cars weren't there this time.

They are very bored, so they went to the shop to buy some cars. They had to walk a whole hour to get to the shop. When they arrived in the shop, they went to the cars shelf and lightning McQueen's whole team was there on the shelf. The three little pigs bought all of them and went home. They were very tired, so they went to sleep. One of the pigs woke up in the middle of the night by a strange sound.

blood ran cold. Now he knew what the shadow had been- a wolf!

The Three Little pigs

Once three little pigs decided it was about time they left home and found their own place to live. No sooner said than done. That very morning they packed up their things, kissed their mother goodbye, and set off.

They walked till midday. Then they sat by the road and ate half their sandwiches. After a nap they set off again. By suppertime the first little pig felt too tired to go any further.

“But we haven’t got anywhere yet!” his brother and sister said. “What are you going to do for a house?”

They where next to a field full of wheat that had just been cut. “I’ll build a house out of straw “, the little pig said. He closed his eyes and went straight to sleep.

When the first little pig woke, the sun was sinking fast, and the air was growing cold. And what was that dark hairy shadow in the wood? Suddenly he wished he`d gone on with the others. But he set to work, gathered together some straw, and built his house.

At midnight there came a tapping at his at his door. “Little pig, little pig, let me come in,” a voice said. The little pig’s “you`re not coming in here, not by the hair on my chinny-chin-chin,” he said in his most grown-up voice.

“then I’ll huff and I’ll puff and I’ll blow your house in!” the wolf snarled. “ And that’ll be the end of you.” And it was.

Little Wolf In Debt

I was sleeping in my cottage in the forest when I heard a buzz from my phone. It was my old friend from the Mafia Little Red Riding Hood she said she had a job for me. She explained a armored vehicle filled with cash was going to pass through the forest and she wanted to steal it.

-I'm in where do we meet to plan? I said.

-In the old meeting place of course. Meet me there at 22:00 2 weeks before the heist.

So, I waited for our meeting and while I waited, I geared up with my old P88 and my AR-15. In the meeting we talked about how we would get into the vehicle and the gameplan for taking the money. Since Little red riding hood did this once before she knew how to get into the vehicle.

-We can use my old laser cutter we used in the 90's. said Little Red Riding Hood.

-Okay. What are we going to do about the guards then?

-You have an AR-15, don't you?

And with that we were ready to rob a car. A day before the heist we decided on meeting up again where we went through the plan again and check our equipment.

The day of the heist came, and we were getting ready to ambush the truck and as we waited, I loaded my weapons and asked.

-Red what weapons did you bring?

-Uhhhh none.

-WHAT!? We are going to rob an armored vehicle and you don't bring weapons?

-Yeah, yeah do you have any extra?

-Okay take my p88.

So, I gave her my p88 and then the truck arrived. Red threw a flash bang to stop the driver and then we struck I hopped to the back to set up the laser cutter and Red took care of any inconvenient guards. After a while we got into the truck and started putting the money in duffel bags but the F.B.I was on their way, so we took three duffel bags filled with hundred-dollar bills and ran.

There were helicopters everywhere while we were running from the F.B.I we spotted our getaway car and ran towards it. When we got in, I started driving fast in hopes of losing the cops. When I thought I was safe I pulled over and asked for my gun back. When I got it, I pointed the gun towards Red and said "I'm so sorry Red but I need the money and it's just easier to kill you than to ask". I fired the gun, and she was dead my friend from all those years in the mafia is dead. So, I threw out the body on the side of the road and drove to my little cottage to pack because I was going to move into a remote island in Panama.

While I was packing, I got a knock on my door. I thought it was a police officer so I loaded my gun and slowly peeked through the door and there stood Red's Grandma with a loaded shotgun and shot me in the stomach. She said "Say hey to Red for me you bastard". While I was laying there in my final moments, I thought about what she said and then I died.

The End.